OMAHA, SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 20, 1911.

FOR MEN SATURDAY-AN EX-TRAORDINARY BENNETT DISTRIBUTION OF

Summer Suits $11.75 AND $14.75

Two very remarkable groups selected from o topsy-turvy market and all at prices we have never known such garments to bear. This, we believe is what a newspaper would call a "scoop" in news. Such a piece of wonderfully good news as no one else could get hold of.

News to cause every man to start for the Bennett store as soon as he finished breakfast; all to save money in buying beautiful new summer clothes at nearly half.

Scouring the market, culling only the best from a market and season turned topsy-turvy by "over production," has enabled us to get for Omaha men two such splendid groupes that the selling Saturday will be most enjoyable for you as well as for us.

That usually, under settled market conditions would bring $15 to $20, because these are imported serge suits, every one blue, tallored in many styles, assuring you of exclusive individuality with your purchase; every suit is sound all wool in every thread, and we guarantee that they will give sound satisfaction in wear. The lining of these is the finest Mohair Come $11.75
