PROFESSORS ARE CRITICISED

University Regents Disapprove of Attempts to Influence Legislation.

SMITH'S SALARY IS REDUCED

Dr. Welch and Dr. Cutter are Reappointed, but Their Acts Are Condemned—Degrees Are Granted.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 12.—(Special Telegram)—The threatened squabble between the Board of Regents over activities during the session of the last legislature on the part of the faculty members of the University of Nebraska blew over without a single change in the department. It is reported that the board disapproved of the acts of the three professors, however, and the salary of Prof. H. R. Smith of the agricultural college was reduced, together with his rank in the office. The action was not to punish him for favoring retention of the farm, but on account of insubordination by the orders of the board in trying to influence pending legislation.

Dr. Welch and Dr. Cutter were reappointed, but the board thought it best to place on its record an expression of disapproval of their conduct.

The board concurred in the recommendation of university senate that the University open on the third Wednesday instead of the third Tuesday in September.

Changes and appointments to fellowships were announced as follows:

H. J. Young, scholar in Agronomy. Margaret L. Hanna, Ruth M. Bates, Bertha B. Thompson, Eugene S. Anderson, Mayme Dwork, Eugene S. Heath, fellows in botany.

FORMER CONGRESSMAN FROM NEBRASKA IS DEAD

GEORGE W. R. DORSEY.

DORSEY WAS A GENEROUS MAN

Ross Hammond, Former Friend, Tells of His Personal Characteristics.

Ross L. Hammond, who knew George W. R. Dorsey, better, perhaps, than any one in Fremont and Omaha, said he came to Fremont forty-two years ago, and for twenty years was one of the most conspicuous men in Fremont. "I handled Mr. Dorsey's political campaigns for some time," said Mr. Hammond, "and later I worked against him."

"He was a generous giver and could be termed a philanthropist. He once said to me when we were talking about his generosity, 'for every dollar I give away I get back ten.' He was a good mixer and was one of the most optimistic men I have ever met. When he was in debt he was defeated in the election for his fourth term at congress and a financial depression settled on him, he never gave up. He seemed to be blessed with iron nerves. He was a soldier in the civil war. He enlisted in West Virginia and fought with the McKinley brigade."

"He was chairman of the republican state central committee on several occasions and was three times in congress. Mr. Dorsey was very self assertive and could get himself into any city or position where a more-identified man would hardly dare enter. At one time he was worth considerable money and at the present time there is property in Fremont in his name, but most of all of which is tied up one way or another."

CONGRESS HAS A BUSY TIME

In the Senate Canadian Reciprocity Reaches the Floor.

ROOT AMENDMENT IS ATTACHED

House Devises Men of Its Time to a Discussion of the Underwood Wool Tariff Revision Measure.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—With both the senate and house convened and a number of important committees at work congress was busier today than at any other time during the present session. In the senate Canadian reciprocity finally reached the floor, the finance committee reporting it with the Root amendment attached without recommendation. A republican caucus to take up various matters of senate patronage was scheduled later in the day.

In the house discussion of the Underwood wool tariff revision bill was expected to occupy the entire day, while the "Sugar trust" and the "Great trust" investigating committees renewed their inquiries. It was believed also that before adjournment conferees from both branches would be named to take under consideration the constitutional resolution for direct election of senators adopted by the senate last night.

"There is grave doubt of the democratic house agreeing to the Bristol amendment for federal control of the senatorial elections."

Secretary Knox is Called to Explain

House Committee Wants to Know Why Money Was Paid on an Unsigned Voucher.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—A subpoena for Secretary of State Knox to appear and explain the payment to Frederick Hale, son of former Senator Eugene Hale, of $5,000 from the Canadian boundary fund of the State department was issued today by a house committee on expenditures in the State department.

The money was said to have been paid on the sole authority of Mr. Knox's O. K. on a piece of paper attached to an unsigned voucher.

The disclosure as to the Hale payment was but one of a series of surprises before the committee today. Thomas Morrison, disbursing clerk of the State department, declared that the missing voucher for $2,500 drawn in payment of a portrait of former Secretary Day and of which the artist received only $250, had been found by a messenger on the floor of his office. How it got there he had no knowledge, but it was his impression that someone interested in the matter was responsible.

The voucher, as found on the floor, appeared complete. Mr. Morrison said, and contained former Chief Clerk Michael's explanation of how the difference had been expended. Mr. Morrison asserted that when the voucher disappeared from the files it had no such explanation on it. The explanation was not made public. It has been contended that the $2,500 was spent in secret service.

In regard to the Hale payment, Mr. Morrison said that he knew about the payment was his direction from Secretary Knox to pay over the $5,000. O. H. Pittman, Canadian boundary commissioner, called before the committee, declared that the $5,000 payment to Hale had never been explained to him. The subpoena, issued on Secretary Knox is returnable tomorrow.

Old Settlers Are in Entire Control in South Dakota

Fiftieth Anniversary of the Organization of the Territory Being Observed at Yankton.

YANKTON, S. D., June 12.—(Special Telegram)—Governor's day was ushered in by fine weather and large crowds at the Dakota Golden Jubilee. With the prosperous throngs of Dakotans, mingled the Yankton Indians. Once the only dwellers on this territory, they today became the greatest curiosity.

Side by side on the speakers' platform was the first governor, William Jayne, and the present one, R. S. Vessey, with fifty years between them. The former spoke of the organization of the territory and his high hopes; the other these hopes abundantly fulfilled and pointed the way to a clearer government. Other speakers were Bartlett Tripp, O. P. Haemmler, J. H. Shober, president of the first legislative council or senate and W. H. H. Beadle. All spoke in reminiscent vein which brought forcibly to mind the wonders that have come to pass since Governor Jayne appointed his first corps of assistants.

The day was secularly one for the pioneers. This evening a local company of women will put on a minstrel show. The performers are all descendants of Dakota's earliest pioneers.

The pioneers again held away and in autos they were taken to the historic sites around Yankton. Ancient burial mounds were visited, the camps of Lewis and Clark, the camps of Strike the Res and Smutty Bear and other points of interest. Then a change of program was announced and the visitors turned from the thoughts of old days to modern base ball, as the Cuban Stars from Havana and a team from Charles Mix county played the national game. Old settler camp fire closed the day.
