GENTLE NATURE FAKER HUSHED 52 William St., New York Prolific Maker of Snake and Bear

Stories is Accidentally Killed. Wallace B. Wheat, the real and acknowledged nature faker for many years, fell down stairs in his home at Port Jervis, N. J., and was killed. The snake and bear stories that came from Port Jervis for many years all were created in the fertile imagination of Wheat. All his tales were kindly and innocuous, never giving offense, but written with a seriousness that made many persons believe them and caused them to be copied all over the country.

His bears, too, were almost human, and always showed originality and a streak of cussedness in circumventing the mighty 140 5 90 140 5 90 110 5 90 110 5 90 110 5 90 110 5 90 110 5 95 10 5 hunters of Port Jervis, who were supposed by the outside world to be always waging a war of extermination on the bruins swarming the hills around that town. Even the humble barnyard fowl was "copy" for Wheat, and the truthful author always had an affidavit handy when too severely question about the remarkable things they did. Wallace B. Wheat was not only fancied by the millions of his amused readers, but was well liked and respected in Port Jervis, despite the fact that he could hold rival story tellers speechless by his audacity and originality .- New York Press. total for the vestors, particularly small investors, are given an opportunity to place at least a part of their savings or surplus in the most solid security in the world.

It is an opportunity that every one should improve to some extent. Even if you are thoroughly satisfied with all of your present investments you should have as an infallible anchor, readily available in the severest stress of financial weather, a few of these absolutely unquestioned securities.

The Government has wisely provided for the demands or requirements of small investors by issuing these bonds in demoninations of $100 and $500 as well as the usual $1,000, and they have the further advantage that they are exempt from taxation of any kind or description. The income you receive from the Government is absolutely net as well as absolutely sure.

We are prepared to supply you with these bonds at the lowest market price and to give you the benefit of our knowledge and experience in suggesting what securities it might be advisable to sell if necessary to acquire a few of the Panama Canal 3's. Moreover we will undertake to sell them for you at the best prices obtainable.
