Hyman Gets Ninety Days—Ninety days making little rocks out of big ones was the sentence imposed on Acta Hyman by Judge Crawford in police court Wednesday morning. Although Hyman had been arrested on the charge of being a kidnaper the police could not trace any of the recent robberies in Omaha to him and he was prosecuted for being a vagrant.

Charity Workers Return—Miss Esther Johnson and Miss Bessie Primann, clerks in the probation office, returned Wednesday morning from Boston, where they went to attend the National Charities and Correction convention. Many questions in juvenile work were discussed and the consensus of opinion was that the juvenile courts are big factors in crime prevention among the young ladies.

Motorists to Stop Here—Starting from Philadelphia a large party of motorists will spend two days in Omaha on a coast-to-coast tour. The tour is under the auspices of the Philadelphia Motor club, and there will be about twenty-five cars with sixty persons in the party. The machines will leave Philadelphia on June 26. They will arrive in Omaha on July 2. The trip will be resumed on the following Tuesday morning, July 11.

Home Damaged by Fire—While Mrs. Mina Thayer was taking a brief rest on the porch of her home, 223 South Twenty-fourth avenue, waiting for two flat boys to get thoroughly heated on a little gas stove Monday morning, the breeze scattered the gas flames so that a lot of paper became ignited and the room was ablaze in an instant. Several fire companies responded to the alarm, but despite energetic work the house was damaged to the extent of almost $1,000.

Improvement Club to Meet—The members of Keurba Park Improvement club will hold a public meeting in the First United Presbyterian church, Twenty-first and Emmet streets, Thursday night, when the question of further improvements to the park will be discussed and plans formulated to bring the matter before the Park board. All the property owners in the vicinity of the park are interested in the movement to further beautify the park, and all other persons residing in that section of the city are invited to attend the meeting and express their views.

Church Conference Closed—The session of the Nebraska conference of The United Evangelical church closed at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday and was succeeded in the church at Twenty-fifth and Franklin by a Christian Endeavor convention of the same denomination. The convention of ministers had been given over for the most part to the reading of papers. Among the subjects discussed were "Evidence of Answered Prayer," "The Ministerial Deadline" and "The Double Standard of Sexual Morality." The public is invited to attend these meetings and hear the discussions.

One Files for Place on Board of Education

Five Old Members Are to Retire and Four Are to Be Elected in Fall.

Joseph C. Cleland, 1515 Nicholas street is the first to file for election as a member of the Board of Education. Cleland, who is a resident, appears to be the youngest ward, and announced himself Wednesday. Five members will retire this year—E. P. Boatwick, R. V. Cole, A. C. Kennedy, James Richardson and Dr. Grant W. Williams. In their stead four will be elected to represent the Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh and Twelfth wards, completing the reorganization of the board under a law passed in 1908.

Previous to 1908 members of the board were elected at large and did not represent any ward. The retiring members were all selected at large. When the law was passed the board was divided into fifteen members, but one has been lopped off each year. After the fall election the board will be composed of twelve members.

Installment Man Turns Slick Trick

Chicago papers tell of a slick trick just turned by Leon Hartman, head of the installment house that has a branch here in Omaha. In getting out an injunction against a neighbor declaring a $1,500 stove porch a nuisance and ordering its abatement, Hartman sat by and let him put up the porch at a cost of $1,500. According to the printed story, Hartman's contract enables him to make his neighbor either pull down the porch or settle.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING BEST

Publicity Man for the Bennett Company Says Papers Bring Quickest Results—Bonds Endorsed. Active interest in the water bond election of next Tuesday is being expressed by the members of the Real Estate exchange. A resolution calling on every member to lend his energies and influence to get out the vote on that day was passed at a meeting of the organization today. Homer S. Curtis, advertising manager for the Bennett company, addressed the association upon publicity. "The newspapers will pay you quicker and better than any other medium," said Mr. Curtis, in summing up his address, which was taken up for the most part with technical subjects. He made a plea for special attention in one particular branch of business, this to be selected according to the limitations of the advertiser in selling field. Consistency is the secret of success in a publicity campaign, he asserted, and called upon the real estate men to "keep advertising at it."

FLY SWATTING IS BARBARIC

New Thought Proponents Express a Novel Defense of Pest.

FLY INVENTS VACUUM CLEANER

Convention Delegates Declare that if Pesticiferous Insect is Dirty it is Not His Fault, but the Fault of Man.

Swatting flies is a fatal error. De kind to the fly and he will do you no harm, never be rude to a bee and you'll never get stung, talk metaphysics to the mosquitoes and they will leave instantly. These helpful health hints were all announced during a discussion at the New Thought national convention Wednesday morning at the Lyric theater. Lauris J. Quinby of Omaha delivered a lecture on fellowshipship with fellow creatures, and the discussion following was full of kindness for such little pests as flies and bedbugs. Referring to bees R. C. Douglass of Boston said: "I feel them skating around on me occasionally, but they never bite. They only enjoy the scenery. And as for mosquitoes, I have found in my experience that a feeling of friendliness will keep them from biting. They never come into the tents where we deliver our metaphysical lectures in the summer, and they never bite a new thoughter twice." (Great applause.) J. A. Edgerton, president of the association, who lives in Jersey, remarked that there was need of missionary work in his state. The mosquitoes there need education in the Golden Rule. Mrs. Annie Mrs. Mills of California said it was all because of mosquitoes with vicious habits. "Drinking blood is intoxication to the mosquito," said Mrs. Mills, "and his intemperance is as bad for him as it is for us. Human beings are a cultivated appetite with the bugs; we ought to pity them."

ONE OF THE LEADERS AT THE NEW THOUGHT CONVENTION.

Y. H. GAZE.

He never thought mankind would be so filthy or he would have made a bigger scavenger. As it is, the fly can't take care of all the filth, but he does the best he can and he turns it into carbon, harmless dust. The fly invented the vacuum cleaner and he is the best example of it. If he is dirty it is our fault not his."

Miss Lucia Griffin gave recitations in imitation of birds and a two day old baby and Miss Lilla Rubin sang a solo. The addresses on the afternoon program were by Rev. T. J. Mackay of Omaha and Mrs. Rose Ashy, Dr. A. D. Laird, sorcerer, and Mrs. Elizabeth J. Owsen, vocalist. Mrs. Owsen furnished the music. Tonight a lecture on Japan will be given by Mrs. Annie Rix Mills.
