Case to Be Handed Down on Thursday

Judge Bryce Crawford will hand down a declaion Thursday morning in the case of the State of Nebraska against James Wilson, in which case John J. Mahoney, candidate for police magistrate on the democratic ticket, asserts that the defendant illegally registered voters on September a. The trial was held in police court Wednesday morning and was taken under advisement by Judge Crawford. But two witnesses were put on the stand by the state and none by the de-C. A. Duber and Court Officer Alfred Glover were the only witnesses. The testimony of the first made up the case for the state, while the testimony of the latter was objected to by the defense on the grounds that it was irrelevant and incompetent and the objection was sustained by the court. Mr. Duber said that about a year ago he lived at 801 North Sixteenth street, but about the middle of October moved to 502 North Sixteenth street, and lived there occasionally until August, when he moved across the street to 504. On September 5 he went to the voting booth in the First precinct of the Third ward and wanted to get a transfer, but did not know whether he still voted in the Third or the Eighth ward. He said James Wilson, one of the registers, told him that it was not necessary, as he had voted from the Third ward for several years and was still a qualified voter of that ward. Duber then said that he swore that he was a voter of the Third ward and registered.

In cross-examination Duber said he thought he was a voter of the Third ward, or would not have sworn to such statement. He said that his home was anywhere he had his money.

Prior to the trial Duber swore to s statement before County Attorney English that he knew certain men who had seen entered on the registry books as iving at 801 North Sixteenth street that did not live there. However, when asked by the county attorney in the trial Wednesday morning if he knew these men he said no, but when his signed statement was handed to him and he was asked if he swore to that he said yes, and then contradicted his testimony on the show opening arrival of exhibitors, dis- stand by saying that he did know these men.

The county attorney admitted that it was impossible for them to prove whether these men lived at that location on the day of the fifth, as it was impossible to find any of the men who had registered has arrived and is now being arranged from that house, with the exception of

Rules of the Contest

Rules of the Contest

All persons are eligible to enter this contest except employes of the Omaha Bee and members of their families. Each day, for seventy-five days, there will be published in The Bee a picture which will represent the name of a book. Beceath each picture there will be a blank for the contestant to fill in the title of the book.

Cut out both the picture and the blank and fill is the name and author of the book and add your name and address nearly and plainly in the space provided.

No restrictions will be placed on the way in which ankwers to the pictures may be secured. Each picture represents only one title of one book. If you may do so. But NOT MORE THAN £712 ANSWERS TO ANY ONE PICTURE WILL BE PERMITTED. Incorrect answers will not be counted against contestants if currect answer is also given. More than one answer should not be put on the same coupon. Extra compons should be used for extra answers. All answers to the same number should be kept together when sending in the set. Only one list may be submitted by one contestant, though any list may have five answers to each puzzle.

The number of coupons used—answers given—must be plainly written on the outside of each BET submitted, but do not write such information on the wrapper.

While not absolutely necessary, it is desirable that the pictures should in each case be sent in with the answers, in order that all answers be uniform. Additional pictures and coupons may be obtained at the office of The Bee by mail or in person.

When you have all seventy-five pictures, fasten them together in a FLAT package and bring or mail them to The Omaha Bee, addressed to Booklevers' Contest Editor. Prises will be awarded to the contestants sending in the largest number of correct solutions, the person using the smaller number of varies coupons in his set of answers will be declared winner.
