Jens Peterson, one of the beirs and a ciation, V. Jennings and C. E. Waiters.

Jens Petersen, one of the heirs and a sen of Niels Petersen, a wealthy farmer who died recently, yesterday applied to the district court to have his mother. Kirsten Peterson, removed from the position of administratrix of the estate, a position to which she was appointed and for which she had qualified by filing a bond for $6,000. The application was made upon the ground that the mother was too old and not otherwise qualified to discharge the difficult duties of the position, that she was unable to speak the English language and incapable of comprehending the important character of her duties, that matters requiring executive judgment and business ability were now pending and being neglected and the general interests of the estate were suffering. He asks that the closests son, Niels Peterson of Weston, be named in her place.

Fred C. Koeller yesterday began a suit against the Burlington railroad as custodian of the relief and benefit fund maintained by the company as a protection of its employes asainst accidents. Keeller states in his petition that he had been employed at the Burlington shops at Havelock. Neb. for a number of years and there had taken from his pay each month the sum of 75 cents for this benefit fund. This had continued until he had paid in $57.75. The rules of the fund provide that in case of accident the beneficiary should receive 50 cents a day for one year and 25 cents a day thereafter as long as the disability continued. On December 4, 1896, Koeller suffered an accident which caused the loss of his right eye and he was completely incapacitated from resuming his former employment. He says there is now due him under the provisions of the relief fund the sum of fl.20 and asks judgment for it. Koeller had previously begun a suit against the company for gamages for the injury, asking $5.00. Fred C. Koeller yesterday began a suit artistic character.

Measurements were taken yesterday in preparation of the plans for the new concrete bridge ordered by the city council across indian orese at North Jain street. The measurements were being made by Assistant City Engineer Coos and Lee Hough. Engineer Stimmon will do the remainder of the work and expects to have it ready for submission to the council at an early date. With the exception of the unusual length of the retaining walls the plans will be practically a duplicate of those used for the construction of the Benton street bridge, which is admitted to be the best on the creek. The remaining walls will extend from the abutments supporting the foundation of the central fire station to connect with those sustaining the Mynster street crossing, the first attempt at partial concrete construction. One of the new walls will be about 200 feet long and the other more than Lofet. With the completion of the long retaining wall now in process of construction by the Benox, permanent walls will be constructed on the south side of the creek for a distance of three blocks and more than a block on the north side. supporting the foundation of the central fire station to connect with those sustaining the Mynster street crossing, the first attempt at partial concrete construction. ### Women Take Hand in Beautification of Old Indian Creek

The Civic Improvement league, an organization of Council Bluffs women designed to do something toward arousing a sentiment favorable to the beautifying unique entertainment at the high school auditorium on Monday night. A small admittance fee will be charged, designed to form a fund that will be a nucleus for a large aggregation of capital to be used in furthering the work. In preparation for the work those interested in the league, and all other women who have a desire to promote the purpose of the organization, are requested to meat at the ganization, are requested to meet at the home of Mrs, Clarence Hafer on Franklin avenue tomorrow afternoon to discuss plans and form new ones. Such womer as Mrs. D. W. Bushnell and Mrs. Montgomery are alding in the formation of the

One of the definite purposes is to begin a relentless campaign for the beautification of Indian creek. Inspiration for this movement has been furnished by Mrs. Jonas, wife of Dr. Jonas, of Omaha, who has described to the Council Bluffs women a beautiful stream in Madeira, which she saw while on a pleasure trip to Europe. It was originally almost a physical counterpart of Indian creek and as Indian creek is now, was at one time the receptacle for all sorts of refuse Civic pride and intelligence rescued it and redeemed it, changed its unsightliness into conditions of real beauty. Artistic bridges spanned it wherever necessary and its banks were converted into flower gardens or hidden by creeping vines. This organization of women will undertake to educate the people, especially the women living along the creek banks, into the knowledge that old tin cans, discarded mattresses and general household refuse are not pretty things for a lining of the creek banks. They believe if the sympathetic interest of every woman whose home is near the creek can be aroused, definite results will be achieved. Back of this simple and practical plan, which will be applied to all of the streets as well as the troublesome stream, is the larger purpose of procuring permanent improvements of an SHERIFF OF MUSCATINE
