SAGE TEA DARKENS THE HAIR AND RESTORES COLOR TO GRAY HAIR

Cures Dandruff, Stops the Hair from Falling Out and Makes It Grow.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair, with wonderfully beneficial effect. Nowadays we don't have to resort to old-time, tiresome methods of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy. The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented. Don't neglect your hair. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and notice the difference after a few days' use. This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. ### WOMEN MAKE GOOD CLERKS?

This Question Discussed by Hotel Men in Convention.

GOVERNOR SPOKE LAST NIGHT

Big Banquet at Home Marks Close of the Two Days' Session of the Nebraska and Iowa Association.

Whether a woman in the position of hotel clerk is as satisfactory as a man was a question which proved to be an interesting one at the session of the Nebraska and Iowa Hotel Clerks' convention in the hotel Rome yesterday. After arguments by the score had been presented against women clerks, the question was put over indefinitely and no further action was taken. This question was brought up during the "question box" period of the session and it excited much comment.

Another measure that was discussed was the proposition to merge the Nebraska and Iowa association with the Twin City association of St. Paul and Minneapolis. Colonel William Anderson, one of the organizers of the association, said that inasmuch as the Nebraska organization was already well founded and in much better shape than the Twin City association, it would not be advisable to effect the consolidation. However, he stated that if the Twin City association wished to come in with the Nebraska and Iowa association, they could do so by entering the Nebraska and Iowa ranks as individuals.

During the morning session it was proposed that the Nebraska and Iowa association take in all of the territory covered by the Northwestern Hotel Men's association and change the name of the organization from the Nebraska and Iowa Hotel Clerks' association to that of the Northwestern Hotel Clerks' association. H. B. Somers, of Ottumwa, Ia., read an interesting paper in which he discussed upon the good of organization among the clerks, and he told the delegates that the Iowa clerks were heartily co-operating with their Nebraska brothers. Earl Byer, president of the Twin City association, in a brief address told of the working of the organization at which he stood at the head, and he gave many pointers to the delegates assembled in the matter of injecting enthusiasm into their organizations.

The convention came to a close with a big banquet in the Her Grand hotel, at which Governor C. H. Aldrich spoke.

Shoplifters Are Busy in City; Trio Caught by Detective

With the arrival of the Christmas season and the holiday crowds at the department stores has come the professional and amateur shoplifter. That some professional ones have arrived is proven by the arrest of three in the Brandeis stores Tuesday afternoon. They gave their names as Fred Harrison, John Arnold and Mable Donovan, but gave no address. The trio were arrested by W. H. Casey, a Pinkerton detective, who has been employed by the Brandeis stores to keep his eyes open during the holiday rush. When searched by Mr. Casey in a private office at the store, forty yards of expensive cloth were found in a concealed pocket in the lining of Harrison's coat. They were arrested and placed in jail, while the local police investigate the case, with a view of locating more loot which is known to have been stolen within the last few days.

Fred Harrison, according to Mr. Casey, is an old timer at the game and one of the best in his profession. He is known all over the county, but it was thought that he had left the country after serving a term in Colorado for grand larceny from a Pueblo store in 1908. His accomplices are also well known lifters, and it is thought that they are part of a gang which is working the stores in the city. The coat which Harrison wore had a pocket in the lining all the way around the bottom. The loot could be slipped into this expansive pocket through the outside coat pocket. They were spotted by Casey as soon as they entered the store. But he waited until they had lifted something before he placed them under arrest.

Cards to Be Given Instead of a Meal

The Associated Charities are preparing to do away with the tramp evil in Omaha. Two thousand "charity endorsement cards" have been printed for the association by the Commercial club. These are yellow cards which will be distributed to business men and throughout the residential districts and will be given to the proletariat instead of money or a hand-out. "This card," said Miss Ida V. Jontz of the Associated Charities, "is printed and given away simply for the purpose of referring the tramps to this office. When they report here for food or clothing we investigate their case and if they are deserving they are cared for. If they are not deserving they soon discover that the cards are of no use and that begging is unprofitable and so they leave. We have cleared whole districts of tramps in this manner."

These cards will be distributed to any one in the city free of charge. They will be sent to addresses if necessary upon call by telephone and will prove," said Miss Jontz, "money savers, as a business man simply signs his name to one of them and fills out the blank and tells the beggar, tramp or charity seeker to go to the office in room 405 at the city hall. Those who would prefer work to tramp life, but have become disheartened, will be given jobs, and those who are really unable to work will be fed and clothed."

BUT TWO TENANTS REMAIN IN UNION PACIFIC BUILDING

The steel shelving for the offices of Freight Auditor Anderson of the Union Pacific has arrived and as soon as it is in place, this department will be moved from the old, to the new headquarters' building. With Mr. Anderson leaving, the only occupants of the old building will be those of the passenger office, who do not expect to get out much before the first of next year. The furniture and equipment for the passenger office has not arrived. It was shipped a long time ago, but tractors are unable to locate it.

Burlington Agent Tells of the Tension at Los Angeles Trial

Burlington railroad agents from all of the country west of the river are gathering here, on their way to Chicago, where a family meeting is scheduled for the purpose of talking over company business and matters that will have to be the benefit of the road. Among those already in the city is W. V. Elliott, general agent at Los Angeles, Cal., who not many years ago started as a clerk in the Omaha general offices.

Mr. Elliott was in Los Angeles during all of the time of the McNamara trial, leaving there a couple of days before sentence was pronounced. Speaking of sentiment in the California city, he said: "Nothing has ever occurred in Los Angeles that ever created the excitement brought on by the McNamara trial. Generally the people believed the brother guilty of dynamiting the Times building, but their confession was a shock for which the public was not prepared. When it became known that the men had confessed to the blowing up of the building, the business was practically suspended. The confession, not only on the streets, but in offices and business houses. For weeks before this, the people had been under a terrible strain and the confession came as something of a relief."

South Omaha Will Entertain Sheep Men

South Omaha business men are bending their energies toward plans for making both pleasant and profitable the stay of the wool men during the convention of the National Sheep Growers' association and the Mid-Winter Sheep show, both beginning Thursday of next week.

They are contributing both their cash and their time. When the delegates and visitors gather for the smoker and vaudeville entertainment to be tendered them at the South Omaha Live Stock exchange on Friday night they will be met in person by the business men. Through the program for the "showmen" has been completed, the arrangements committee is not telling just what is going to happen. But the theaters have been ransacked for theatrical "stunts" and the entertainment will be as varied as the "cats."

DONAHUE WAITS FOR THE M'ANIGAL CONFESSION

Chief of Police Donahue is expecting to receive the text of Orrie McManigal's confession to dynamiting the power house of the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company within the next two or three days. The confession in detail has not been made public, but Chief Donahue understands that he confesses to but the one job in Omaha and disclaims any part in the attempt on the court house. However, the chief believes some additional light may be thrown on the case when the confession is received.

SOME TOWNS SELL ALL THEIR CHRISTMAS SEALS

Though Red Cross Christmas seals were but recently placed on sale, four towns have sold out their supplies and have ordered more from Mrs. K. H. J. Edholm of Omaha, state agent for the seals. Among them are Randolph, which has already sold $20 worth of seals, and Wood River.

Dr. Picotte of Walthill, chairman of the health committee of the Nebraska State Federation of Women's clubs, has issued a letter to club women of the state, urging them to use all their influence in pushing the sale of the seals. Any woman's club selling the seals may keep half of the proceeds, to be devoted to anti-tuberculosis work in its own community.

The seals are to be placed on the backs of letters and Christmas packages and the money derived from their sales is to be devoted to anti-tuberculosis work.

Charities Society Wants List of the Omaha Needy Poor

Miss Ida V. Jontz of the Associated Charities announces that dinners for the poor on Christmas day will be distributed from the offices of the association. A list of names of needy families has been prepared and all charitable associations are requested to telephone to the Charities and find if the gift prepared by them is duplicated.

"Impress upon the people," said Miss Jontz, "the necessity of telephoning names of families they would like helped on Christmas day to the Charities early. Some call up at the last minute and want a family helped and we have no baker, Sunday school classes or individuals who want to help some one may secure a list of the needy families from us."

BLANKET OF SNOW COVERS MOST OF CENTRAL IOWA

Passengers arriving today on trains from east, state that a greater portion of Iowa is covered with snow that fell last night. In many places they say it fell to a depth of an inch. According to reports, the snow fall commenced at a point thirty to fifty miles east of Omaha and continued all the way to the Mississippi river.

Stoddard-Dayton Saybrook

48 hp. (l.o.b.) $2700

In buying a roadster you want style—well-built, of course, and up to its work; but stylish, roomy and comfortable.

THE attractive lines of the "Saybrook" Compartment Roadster are merely suggested in the cut. To appreciate its beauty you must see its details—the nicety of a hundred little features that will call forth your admiration.

With everyone who's seen it, it has taken like a whirlwind.

There's plenty of room for two—and seats are extra wide. Steering post is raked at an angle that allows plenty of leg room for the driver. Brake and control levers are placed within the body. And there's ample space to operate both without cramping.

Then the dust-proof and water-proof compartment for baggage, opening only within the car. Simply swing forward the back of the seats and there's your luggage as clean as when you packed it! It's the handiest, most compact, and yet the roomiest car for touring ever built.

48 horse-power, with very little weight to carry—that means all the power you'll ever need, no matter what the emergency. Gasolene tank holds 33 gallons. A gauge tells you just how much you have left. Should you forget to read the gauge, you are automatically warned that you have but 3 gallons left.

The equipment includes full mohair top, top boot and storm curtains; quick detachable, demountable rims (one extra); Hartford shock absorbers; tire irons and windshield (rain vision); gas tank and headlights; electric oil and tail lamps; tools and the usual other equipment. All this, with Stoddard-Dayton quality and prestige, included in the price, $2700 (l.o.b. Dayton).

This same style of body is mounted on our "Knight" chassis, $4900; on our "Stratford" chassis, $1750; and on our "Savoy" chassis, $1350.
