AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Breen's Visit to Lincoln Cause of Much Speculation. Many Think Effort Will Be Made to Knock Out Extension Clause and Force City Election in the Spring. Although Attorney J. J. Breen denies that his recent visit to the state capital had any other significance than an investigation of the charter provisions in regard to grading, there seems to be a general belief that Mr. Breen's visit to Lincoln was more concerned with that clause of the city charter which extended the terms of city officials for one year. ... Charges of Extravagance. It was hinted last night that charges of extravagance would be made against the present administration. ... Mayor May Veto. Notwithstanding the fact that the council by a vote of 5 to 3 last Monday night admitted the damage claims for paving district No. 106, it may eventuate that the mayor will veto the measure.

Cold Demoralizes All Branches of Railroad Service

The continued cold is playing havoc with the railroad service. On account of the cold and high winds all passenger trains have been from one to twelve hours late, the engines being unable to make steam. The freight service is also demoralized. Trains are running, but on account of the cold, it is difficult to get them through. Grain men are experiencing about as much difficulty as any of the other shippers. There are plenty of cars to handle shipments, but the trouble is to get them out of the yards and on the way to market.

Vacation for School Kiddies Ends Monday

After the coldest vacation for more than half a dozen years the pupils in the Omaha schools will return to their work Monday morning. Teachers are beginning to return from their vacations, which were spent in many parts of the middle-west, the east and the south. The two weeks of rest have, despite zero weather, been a time of play for the youngsters. Snow and ice have been in fine shape and skating, coasting and sleighing parties have been numerous. All work will start Monday on the regular schedule, although it is possible that some of the buildings will hold either half sessions or will be dismissed if the extreme cold weather continues.

A. Holden Byles Dies in England

Letters from London, England, yesterday announced the death there of Prof. A. Holden Byles, who lived in Omaha during 1886 and 1888 and occupied the pulpit of the First Congregational church for a period of six months during the last illness of Dr. Duryea. Mr. Byles was within five days of 71 years of age at the time of his death, which followed a week's illness from pneumonia and pleurisy. During recent years he had been actively interested in the work of the British Institute of Social Services and editor of the magazine, "Progress," published by the Institute. "During Mr. Byles' residence in Omaha he made many friends in the city. Besides the connection with the First Congregational church, he conducted a Bible class at the Young Men's Christian Association, and took part in other public work. Mr. Byles' wife will be remembered as an active member of the Woman's club and of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, which sent her as a delegate from Nebraska to the national convention at Baltimore. Three daughters attended the Omaha High school and three of the four sons have also lived in Omaha at one time or another. Mrs. Byles died December 25, 1898, in England. Two of the daughters are in England and one, who has been in Hankow, China, in charge of a woman's hospital belonging to the London Missionary society, was expected to arrive in England a few days after Mr. Byles' death. Almost his last words were, 'I thought I should not last to see Hilda, but I am beginning to think I shall.' Of the sons one, Winter Byles, lives in Omaha and two are in business in New

Huge cut-price sale of the largest good Oriental rug stock in the west

Ordinarily there is no necessity—no room—for clearance sales of genuine Oriental rugs, but the Taminosian collection of gorgeous Orientals must be disposed of before January 14 because Taminosian's lease on this store expires then. THE PRICES ARE SO LOW THEY WILL MOVE THE STOCK. Every rug in this collection was imported and is a genuine Oriental, being, therefore, unlike many so-called Orientals offered by other dealers in the west. Taminosian's rugs are the highest type of Oriental floor coverings. They possess brilliant beauty, rare design and durable wearing qualities. If you are familiar enough with Oriental rugs to judge qualities, weaves, colors and conditions—to look deeply below the surface—we can easily prove to you that this stock is the most wonderful bargain offering ever presented in Omaha. We invite a visit here to look over the rugs, even though you do not wish to buy.
