

SUIT TO ENJOIN NEW RATES

Insurgent Members of Woodmen of Iowa File Their Action.

OTHER STATES TO FOLLOW SUIT

Kindergarten Workers Suggest That Methods be Extended to Other Grades—Des Moines Shriners Leave on Special Train.

DES MOINES, May 1.—(Special.)—The anticipated legal action by the insurgent members of the order of Modern Woodmen of America was started yesterday and suit was filed in district court here on behalf of the recent state convention of protesting members to annul the increased rates that were to go into effect tomorrow. The suit is based on the theory that important formalities were ignored by the head camp in adopting the change, and that it was never legally adopted. Suit is to be commenced in Illinois and probably in other states to tie up the whole matter of rates and secure an airing in court.

Would Extend Kindergarten.
At a meeting of the supervisors of kindergartens held today in connection with the International convention, it was decided to ask the superintendents of schools everywhere to extend the kindergarten work to include the first three years of grade work in public schools. The supervisors insist that kindergarten methods are valuable to the child, no matter when he enters school and those who enter late should not be deprived of its benefits.

Peculiar Tax Case Started.
The attorney general is preparing the defense in a peculiar case from Taylor county involving a tax proposition. A banker had listed with the assessor his national bank stock for assessment and taxation under a statute of the state which has been declared void because of lack of uniformity. Now he asks that the assessment be canceled and he be not required to pay any taxes on the bank stock thus listed. It is the first case of this kind and as similar conditions exist in almost every part of the state it may mean a great deal in taxes for the counties of the state.

He reports that discipline has been restored at the institution after the fuction of last summer.

Family Much Afflicted.
A strange disease has made its way into the home of J. B. Deaton, a motorman, 227 Maple street. It has carried away two children and threatens the lives of two others. A week ago Cecil Louise, aged 2, died. A week before, Wynetta Evelyn, a year older, died. The death of the last child was at first suspected to be due to a fall downstairs. Dr. Daniel J. Glomset of Drake university in his report Monday night to Coroner Lee, said death in the case of the last child was due to enlargement of the lymphatic glands.

LONDON, May 1.—The second reading of the home rule bill was opened in the House of Commons today in a rather quiet fashion by Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, who applied himself not to an exposition of the bill, but to an argument on general principles and to an appeal to the opposition to realize the manifest change in conditions during the quarter of a century since Gladstone's time.

AGREE ON BUTTER MEASURE

Representative Kinkaid Introduces One as Compromise.

COMBINED WITH LEVER BILL

Secretary of Senate Furnished With Additional Statements of Expenses of Nebraska Senatorial Aspirants.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, May 1.—(Special Telegram.)—Representative Kinkaid today introduced an amended form of his bill to regulate the sale of adulterated butter. This was done in order to combine Mr. Kinkaid's bill with that of Representative Lever, who is a member of the committee on agriculture, to whom the bill has been referred, and is the result of a conference at which this action was agreed upon. It is believed that favorable action will be expedited, as Mr. Lever is in a position to push the matter before the committee.
The measure would reduce the tax from $100 to $50 per year on dealers in the product, and would inflict penalties for violation of the law only on those who knowingly are guilty of such violation. At present a dealer may be fined even though he is unaware that he is selling adulterated butter, and the adulteration is sometimes exceedingly difficult to detect.

Mr. Shallenberger declares that since April 3 last he spent $170 for newspaper printing.

Mrs. Brown Comes West.
Mrs. Norris Brown and daughter, Lucille, left this morning for the west. They will first stop in Des Moines. From there they will go to Lincoln to visit Miss June Brown, going on finally to their home in Kearney. Senator Brown will make his home at the Columbia Country club for the remainder of the session.

E-M-F "30" and Flanders "20"

AGENCY GOES TO THE

E. R. WILSON AUTOMOBILE CO.

The E. R. Wilson Automobile Co., No. 2016-2018 Harney Street, for several years, and still, distributors in western Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota for Lexington Motor cars, have contracted with the Studebaker Corporation to sell the E-M-F "30" and the Flanders "20" lines in Omaha and surrounding counties.

The E. R. Wilson Co., desirous of securing a high grade popular priced car, spent several months investigating every line on the market. After rejecting all others—after weeding out every other line because of its utter failure to qualify as to price and quality, finally selected the E-M-F "30" and Flanders "20" as superior to all other cars upon the market today, price considered. The greatest value, dollar for dollar, that any manufacturer offers are these two cars with their unequalled records, of years' standing, for speed, durability and pulling power. The unparalleled showing they have made in the severest contests, all over the world, defeating cars of twice their price and the thousand E-M-F "30" and Flanders "20" cars in daily service in Nebraska alone, put the $800 Flanders "20" and the $1,100 E-M-F "30" far above the class of those gaudily painted and selling at $1,200 to $1,500.

The famous line is manufactured by Studebaker—the same Studebaker that for half a century has been the standard in the manufacture of carriages and wagons. The Studebaker Corporation is a $45,000,000 organization—the largest automobile concern in the entire world. That's the kind of a firm that guarantees every E-M-F "30" and Flanders "20" car that is sold. The Studebaker Corporation is such an enormous concern and their output so mighty that their purchasing power is unequalled by any other automobile factory on the continent. Here lies the reason that the Flanders "20" at $800 and the E-M-F "30" at $1,100 are the equivalent, respectively, of $1,200 and $1,500 cars.

Omaha being a direct factory branch of this huge concern and carrying at all times, over $30,000 worth of parts for these two cars, owners have all the advantages that the factory could offer were it right here in Omaha. There is never a delay because some part must be secured from some far distant point. This one concern makes the entire car and its various parts are listed and priced so that were a person to purchase only one part at a time the total cost would figure exactly the same as if the car were purchased right off the floor. This is an important consideration for prospective purchasers. To secure individual parts of some motor cars one must pay three times the price the same part costs when buying the car new.

All these points and many more resolved the E. R. Wilson Automobile Company to become selling agents for these two famous cars—the best, at their price, that the world offers.
