Although the exoque of Omahans to mountains, lakes and abroad continues Omaha is not to be depopulated this summer. Many homes are to be kept open through the warm weather. Furniture is being clad in flowered chints coverings and the awnings will be down most of the time in anticipation of summer activities.

Among these stay-at-homes are some of Omaha's citizens who could travel to the Arctic regions in luxurious comfort if they wished. But they prefer to stay at home

Many of the men would rather play golf on the home courses. Some families remain because their sons and daughters who are away at school all the rest of the year want to be at home during their vacations. A large number who have automobiles enjoy motoring to the country around Omaha as much as they would traveling away from here. Mr. Gurdon W. Wattles says that he would rather spend the summer in Omaha than in Europe. He puts in much time playing golf at the Country club, and he and Mrs. Wattles take frequent motor trips around Omaha. Mr. and Mrs. Watties spend the cold months each year at their home in Hollywood, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Kirkendall will b home throughout the season. She is one of the most enthusiastic motorists in the city and can stand long trips perhaps better than any other Omaha woman. Only last week she made a trip to Slour City with Mrs. M. E. Barber, Mrs. George Barker and Mrs. Charles Martin. They started at 8 o'clock one morning and returned the same evening, reaching Omsha Mr. and Mrs. Kirkendall have a delight. ful wayside place on their trips at Pries ful wayside place on their property south of lake, which is on their property south of Florence. It will include Misses Mattie Smith, Bertle Smith, Lillian Johnson, Theresa Peterson, Lillian Lloyd, Frieda Swartzlander, Loretta Cope, Mrs. Ross Longnecker, Mrs. L. Ward, Mrs. H. W. Mr. and Mrs. George Barker gave an interesting entertainment that evening. Mr. Frank Martin did some sleight of nand stunts and card tricks and Mr. Charles Martin showed stereopticon views which were designed to have a cooling effect upon the guests. In the views were pictures of snow scenes, coasting and skiing in the Alps and arctic exploration. Cecil Berryman gave plano selections.

VISITOR FROM KANSAS WITH OMAHA FRIENDS

Harold Roth, Robert Christie. Herman Roth, An enjoyable evening was spent at the Young Woman's Christian association where the four senior clubs of the extension department, viz. The Fellowship club, Business Girls' club, D. A. Baum club and Social Hour club entertained Miss Ethel G. Hendee, extension secretary.

The party was held in the big parlor on the second floor. Each club had its banners, pennants and posters. Over seventy club girls were present. Each girl wore a tag with her name, club, and a characteristic of the girl on it and everybody got acquainted right SWRY. The end of a string was handed Miss Hendee and she followed it over and under and between Young Woman's Christian association furniture and fixtures till she came into the club rooms, where at the other end of the string was attached a dainty lavalliere set with a single diamond, the gift from all her club girls. Refreshments were served in the class room, which was converted into a beautiful Japanese bower. Miss Hendee leaves the Young Woman's Christian association this fall to take up extension and industrial work in Rockford. Ill., after four years' of highly successful extension work in Omaha.

Diets will spend the summer at their spacious home on South- Thirty-eighth street, where they are converting the grounds into a veritable park. | A hedge of bridal wreath encloses the grounds, and the first thing one notices within is the rustic summer house, which is entered by an arbor. The whole place abounds in trees and shrubs and flowers, with here and there queer little statues of "gnomes, dogs, chickens and rabbits which Mr. and Mrs. Diets brought from Switzerland. A rose garden is in the center. The place is strung with electric lights and is like a fairy world at night. Mr. and Mrs. Gould Diets also will be in Omaha, with occasional trips of a day or two to their cottage at Manawa or to their farm southwest of the Field club. Mr. and Mrs. George A. Joslyn and Miss Violet Joslyn will remain at home, as will also Mr. and Mrs. John S. Brady. Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Gaines will probably stay in Omaha. Both Mr. Gaines and his son Francis are devoted golfists and do not want to give up their games on the Country club links.

Among the young couples of the Country club set who will be here throughout the summer are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Wharton. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hosford and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cotton.
