

HE DISAGREES WITH ARMOUR

Missourian Declares Beef Can Be Matured on Hundred-Dollar Land.

PLENTY OF BEEF IN THE FUTURE

Ben B. Hurst Declares That in Five Years There Will Be More Corn-fed Stuff on the Market Than Ever Before.

Ben B. Hurst, an extensive farmer and cattle feeder of Westboro, Mo., takes issue with J. Ogden Armour on the statement that cheap beef cannot be raised and matured on $100 per acre land, saying:

"While $2 and $4 per 100 beef may not be sold again in this country, cattle can be raised and fattened just as cheaply as a few years ago when the vast range of the west was covered with cattle. Of course there will never be the cheap 'grassers' again, but in five years from now there will be more corn-fed stuff than there has ever been, and while the choice cuts may be high, the rough stuff will be much cheaper than at the present time.

"In the past cattle have been 'roughed' out on the range and brought to our feeding lots to be finished off. In the future we will do the 'roughing' as well as the finishing. We will save the profit of the range grower and the freight in from the range, lessening our cost of producing, and consequently giving the consumer the benefit of the saving.

"In the past the farmers have not been raising a large amount of stock, preferring to buy feeders and fatten them for market. As a result the cattle on the farms have been allowed to decrease in numbers and consequently there is an alarming shortage. Right now farmers and breeders all over the central west are getting back into cattle and as soon as the young stuff reaches an age fit for market there will be an abundance of beef.

"That cattle on $100 per acre land cannot be raised with profit is too ridiculous for consideration. In the sandhill and range country of Nebraska and Wyoming it takes twenty acres to pasture one animal—ten acres for the summer and ten for the winter range. On our Missouri, Iowa and eastern land we can easily pasture one animal to the acre and with the meadows into alfalfa and clover; two, thus, with the raising of our own feeders and the saving of freight, even with the present high price of corn, we can on our $100 and $125 per acre land make money selling first class beef at the prices of five years ago, but we don't expect to see cattle go down to those figures, as we believe we can keep them higher."

Money and Heirloom of Popenbergers is Stolen by a Thief

A gold watch, much valued as a family heirloom, and $50 in cash were stolen in some mysterious manner Monday night from the home of Mrs. Mary Popenberger, 345 South Twenty-fourth street.

Mrs. Popenberger hid the money and watch under a piano cover early Monday evening. When about to retire she looked for the watch and money, but both were gone. She did not notify the police immediately, thinking that she might have absentmindedly displaced the valuables. She can give no definite clue that will aid the police in recovering the stolen goods.

Shooting Meteors Seen in the North

A dazzling display of shooting meteors was visible to Omahans at times in the northwest sky Tuesday night and Father Rizzo of the Creighton university astronomical department said the shooting stars numbered about thirty in all. The display is an unusual affair, but is more visible in September than at the present time.

The flying meteors seen Tuesday originate in the constellation of Perseus and in the terms of astronomy are known as "perseids." None of the meteors in this display fall to earth.

WILL OF HARRY MAROWITZ IS FILED FOR PROBATE

With the exception of several bequests to institutions the estate of the late Harry Marowitz will go to his children, provided they do not marry outside of their religion, according to his will, filed in county court.

The will orders that the decedent's mother be paid $50 a month out of his estate so long as she shall live and bequeaths $500 each to the decedent's brother, Simon; his uncle, Simon Lazarowitz; the Jewish Institute for Consumptives, the Russian Hebrew synagogue and the Wise Memorial hospital. To the synagogue near Thirteenth and Pierce streets $200 is bequeathed and to Mr. Marowitz's son, Dimon, $500. The balance goes to his wife for her use and benefit until her death, at which time it shall be divided share and share alike among the children. If any child marries outside of the religion his or her share shall be divided equally among the others. Samuel Robinson, Harry Gross and A. B. Alprin are named executors of the will.

The estate is worth about $50,000.

MAN HIT BY SHERIFF'S AUTO SERIOUSLY HURT

W. H. Kessler, 1402 South Sixteenth street, who was struck by an automobile driven by Sheriff McShane Sunday, is confined at his home with a seriously sprained back and numerous cuts and bruises. He is being attended by Dr. Frank Swoboda. Kessler has been in the employ of the Metz brewery. He was struck by the sheriff's auto as he stepped from a street car near his confectionery store at Sixteenth and William streets. McShane says Kessler stepped from the car while it was in motion, giving the driver of the machine no opportunity to bring his car to a stop.

FUNERAL OF H. A. FITCH WAS HELD YESTERDAY

The funeral of H. A. Fitch was held yesterday morning at 10 at Burket & Leslie's chapel. Interment was at Forest Lawn cemetery. The pallbearers were John C. Howard, E. E. Little, Robert Crowell, A. H. Benson, Frank Southard and Frank Brownlee. Mr. Fitch is survived by a widow and two daughters, Mrs. George Meister of Chicago and Miss Lillian Fitch.

New Home is to Be Built at Once for Hospital Nurses

At a meeting of the Wise Memorial Hospital association Tuesday night it was decided to commence work on the new Emil and Hugo Brandeis Memorial home for the nurses of the hospital at once. The contract for the erection of the building will be let within a few days.

The home, which will cost $12,500, will be erected on the south side of Wise Memorial hospital. The property on which it will stand at present is owned by the hospital. The home will consist of two stories and ample room will be provided for the housing of fifty nurses. A large music hall will be one of the features of the new home. The institution will be built from money left by the late Emil Brandeis and by large sums to be contributed by Mrs. Hugo Brandeis and Arthur Brandeis.

Postal Savings Bonds Are Ready for Distribution

Postal savings bonds to the amount of $2,500 have been received at the Omaha postal savings bank for distribution. This is the second time bonds have been issued to Omaha since the opening of the postal savings bank here. The postal savings law provides that the deposit of any one individual in the postal savings bank may not exceed $500. Therefore, when the deposit of any individual reaches that amount the depositor may buy the bonds, which cancel his deposit to the extent of the face of the bond, and he may again begin to deposit. The bonds bear interest at 2 1/2 per cent. They are registered in Washington in the Post-office department and are filed out in full and signed there before being sent to their destination.

"There are too many thirteens in this combination for me," remarked John Tusang of Gretna, when Tuesday afternoon he handed back to City Passenger Agent Rutherford his transportation and sleeping car berths to Denver and announced that he would wait a day before going on his vacation.

Too Many Thirteens Delays Tusang's Trip

Tusang and wife came in from Gretna Tuesday and going to the Rock Island offices bought two tickets to Denver. Then in order to travel in proper style, he took a lower on one of the sleepers of the west-bound train. Paying for the transportation he asked City Passenger Agent Rutherford on what train he and his wife would go.

"Thirteen," promptly replied the city passenger agent. Then Tusang looked at his transportation and discovered that it was for August 13 and what was more, he had been given berth 13 on train No. 13. This was too much and Mr. Tusang returned the transportation, securing a berth with a different number and postponing his start until yesterday, when he and his wife left for the west on No. 5.

Yost Returns Losses to All Fur Owners

E. E. Yost, the fur man, has returned from New York, where he went to secure new sets of furs to replace those which were lost when his establishment was burned some time ago. Mr. Yost is most indignant over the rumors which were spread during his absence, that he was thinking of quitting Omaha. He says that he is well established in business here and expects to stay.

"All the furs which were stolen from my place have been recovered and the owners may have them," said Mr. Yost. "Those whose furs were burned will receive full value, as I have made arrangements to replace everything which was burned. No one will lose a cent. I expect to open in a new location and my customers will be notified at the earliest possible moment."

U. S. Troops Not to Be at County Fairs

The county fairs of the state of Nebraska will not be supplied with cavalry troops for exhibitions this fall, as many of them have expected. A recent order from Washington orders the cavalry troops of Fort Robinson and Fort Meade to take part in the maneuvers at Hot Springs during the first week in September. These are the two forts from which the various county fairs had been expecting to secure detachments. The United States representatives at Washington have been asking for these detachments for the county fairs in their sections of the state. Senator Hitchcock had been making efforts to secure a detachment of the cavalry from Fort Robinson for the county fair at Custer county.

Omaha Retailers Secure Quarters

At a meeting of the directors of the Retail Credit Men's association, held Tuesday night, it was decided to rent office rooms in the Boston Store building and to equip them at once. It is expected that the offices will be fitted up this week. A manager for the offices was not decided on. The list of applicants was sifted down to three, the names of whom would not be divulged by the directors. However, another meeting will probably be held early next week, at which time the manager will be named.

HARRY MCGOWAN FINED FOR SPEEDING HIS AUTO

Harry McGowan was fined $20 and costs in police court for speeding. Early Monday morning McGowan drove down Farnam street, and when he reached Sixteenth street he was going over thirty-five miles an hour. A taxicab belonging to the Gray Bonnet company was standing at Fourteenth and Farnam, and McGowan ran his machine into it, damaging it to the extent of $400.

SURGEON'S SKILL SAVES LAD Kernel of Corn is Removed from a Boy's Lung by Dr. Dwyer.

BOY IS NOW AS WELL AS EVER By a Course of Treatment, the Hard Kernel in the Lad's Lung is Gradually Dissolved and Passed Off.

A miraculous feat of surgical skill has been recorded in Omaha at St. Joseph's hospital. Little curly-haired Harry Lohnes' 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lohnes, German farmers, living near Murray, Neb., recovered completely from the dangerous effects of a whole kernel of shelled corn which had been lodged in one of the small tubes of his right lung for over two weeks. Dr. T. J. Dwyer of Omaha succeeded in saving the little fellow's life.

GERMANS ABANDON Woolworth Home Plans for the purchase of the old Judge Woolworth home at St. Mary's avenue and Twenty-second street for a home for the Muskegeon have been abandoned and a downtown site will be secured. The original project included the building of a hall for concerts beside the residence on the Woolworth property. The element in the vein which favored a downtown location seemed in the minority for a time, but now has had its way. The Woolworth option has been forfeited. The downtown site when secured will be improved with a building costing probably $75,000. Of the sum needed about $30,000 already has been pledged.
