PROPOSED SUBWALK TAX LOW

Figures are Exaggerated by Those Opposing Ordinance.

BUTLER IMPROVISES SCHEDULE

Commissioner Will Hold Conference With Opponents Who Will Raise Objections to the Measure.

Commissioner Butler will meet George T. Morton of the Real Estate exchange, J. A. C. Kennedy of the Commercial club and W. F. Baxter of the Retailers' association today in the mayor's office at 39 o'clock to hear objections to the subwalk ordinance which he introduced. Butler has had architects sketch all subwalk spaces now being utilized by business establishments and has computed the costs to all property owners if the new ordinance is passed. Instead of several thousand dollars, as claimed, he says the entire tax received will total only $2.30.

Assertion by Attorneys. Attorneys for the business houses asserted before the council that the Brandels interests alone would be compelled to pay a tax of $10,000 a year for subwalk space used, if the ordinance was passed.

Butler has also computed the amount of taxes the owners of substreet space are now paying. The Brandels stores, he says, are paying $1,511.90 taxes yearly for three large subways from which rent far in excess of the taxes is being collected.

Hayden Bros. pay a subway tax of $30 and other subway owners pay a proportionately small amount.

Butler believes that ultimately the council will consider and probably pass an ordinance taxing merchants who extend show windows on the sidewalks. These merchants now secure permits and scores of display windows are eighteen inches beyond the building line, which increases the value of the property and the rents without increasing the taxes.

Quinlan Saves Big Rolls of Money by Being Precautious

Tom Quinlan, general manager of Hayden Bros. store, and Dr. Henry Fitzgibbon consider themselves most lucky. They are ahead over $100 apiece because of precautions they took while swimming at the Young Men's Christian association pool.

When they were preparing to take their afternoon plunge, each handed to a lad in charge their watches and two rolls of bills containing over $100 each. After their swim the doctor invited the manager to dine with him. When he went to pay the bill he found that he had been touched by his purse, containing about $3. Quinlan investigated and found that he had also been relieved of a like amount while swimming. They had left their purses in their clothes, but the precaution in giving the rolls to the lad saved them the larger amounts.

A youth later returned Quinlan's purse, minus the money, saying he had picked it up on the counter of a downtown store.

Pupils Who Flunked Have Another Chance

Miss Kate McHugh, principal of the high school, has announced that all pupils of the Omaha High school who wish to take an examination on work made up during vacation, will present themselves at the high school on Friday, between 10 and 2 to obtain permission to enter the examination on Saturday. They should bring a statement of the work done, signed by the tutor.

CREW PARTLY TO BLAME FOR KILLING OF GIRL

Street car crews should operate their cars with more care is the opinion of the coroner's jury which yesterday inquired into the death of little Mary Lasac, 4 years old, who was killed Wednesday evening at Thirteenth and William. Testimony showed that the little girl was struck by the car while she was on her way to a grocery store on an errand for her mother. The street car crew was composed of Motorman Nat Hatland and Conductor L. P. Cogswell. The girl was the daughter of John Lasac, living at 1210 South Twelfth street. In its verdict the jury also set forth that parents should be more careful about sending little children unprotected out on the streets.

MANUFACTURERS MEET AGAIN

Resume Fall Sessions and Hear from Manufacturers of the State. ALL FAVOR AN ORGANIZATION. Replies Have Been Received from Many Cities and in All Cases, They Say They Think the Plan of Benefit to All.

The organization of a state association of manufacturers was discussed at a meeting of the Omaha manufacturers at a luncheon at the Commercial club yesterday. Letters in reply to the suggestion were received from fifteen of the principal cities and towns in the state, and all of those heard from were favorable to the proposition. In some cases as many as ten manufacturers from one town were heard from. The manufacturers feel the need of a state organization, by means of which they may be enabled to bring before the legislature some measures which they believe should be enacted into law. Some of the places from which replies have been received are Lincoln, Beatrice, Falls City, and many others. Most of them in their letters have given details as to how they believe the association should be organized and what should be accomplished.

The meeting was the first held by the manufacturers since the vacation season. The manufacturers took great interest in the new school of commerce branch of the Omaha High school, and it was the sense of the meeting that a speaker should be engaged in the near future to address the association on this new proposition. On hearing of the "Made in Pittsburgh" special train that is to arrive in Omaha September 10, the manufacturers expressed great interest and all promised to make a trip to the station to examine the four cars of exhibits.

The brick yard ordinance was reported upon to the effect that the ordinance limiting the manufacture of brick to the few firms now engaged in this business in this city was not conducive to the extension of business nor to the best interest of industrial Omaha.

BACKFIRE BREAKS ARM—DAMAGE SUIT FOLLOWS Suit for $5,000 damages against the Independent Auto Repair company was started by William Fred Butler, formerly a salesman for the concern, in district court. Butler alleges his right arm was broken and permanently injured when he attempted to crank an automobile, the coils of which were wet. The company owned the car and Butler alleges negligence of fellow employees in not informing him that the coils were wet and the engine would "back-fire" when cranked. Holm and S. F. Montgomery.

ROD AND GUN MEMBERS HOLD DRAWING FOR LOTS Almost the entire membership of the Rod and Gun club was represented last night at the Paxton hotel when the drawing for lots in the thirty acres recently purchased by the club was held. The lots were sold for $200 each and the amount included the price of a life membership card in the club. All of the lots have been sold, but they were disposed of in a "cat in the bag" manner. The buyers' names were put in a box and shaken up and then drawn. The first name out was given first choice of the 150 lots and the second choice and so on down the line. There are still fifty lots to be disposed of and when they are sold another drawing for position will be held. Each lot is 0.75 feet.

TAXI WRECKED BY TROLLEY Four Occupants Escape Unhurt, But Machine is Demolished. HAPPENS NEAR UNDERTAKER'S. Auto Owned by Lincoln Concern and Was Occupied by Four Persons Whose Names Were Not Learned. One of the most freakish accidents recorded in Omaha for some time and one which robbed Burkett & Leslie, the undertakers, of an almost certain job in front of their place of business happened at 7 o'clock yesterday morning at Twenty-ninth and Leavenworth streets when a west bound Leavenworth street car struck a swiftly moving taxicab filled with a party of Lincoln joy riders. The auto was smashed beyond repair, but the occupants, a chauffeur, two men and a woman, were left unharmed, although the car shoved the machine fully twenty-five feet before it stopped. Wholely everything saved, "footboard torn off and everything smashed the framework broken, but the auto failed to keel over. The front end of the street car was badly demolished, but John Albaugh, motor-man in charge, escaped with no serious injury. The taxi belonged to the Shant machine shop of Lincoln which maintains an auto service in connection with its repair work. It was driven by W. S. Peter of Lincoln, but the names of the two men and the woman occupants could not be learned as they hurried away following the accident. Persistent Advertising is the Road to Big Returns.

The BEE-HIVE SOCIETY

By MELLIFICIA. September 5.

WAVE of enthusiasm for bridge whist has enveloped Seymour Lake Country club and holds the feminine members fast in its grasp. Hardly a day goes by that a party of prettily gowned women does not gather at the attractive club house by the lake for a contest of wits at the card tables. The parties represent Omaha, South Omaha and Papillion.

The games are played out in the open air on the verandas or the upper balcony, within sight of the glistening lake, the green trees and the surrounding country.

An unusually large bridge party was given this afternoon. Fifty women gathered on the club house porches to play as the guests of Mrs. L. M. Lord of South Omaha. Mrs. Lord, who has a cottage by the lake, gathered her decorations for the party from her own back yard. The flowers were purple thistles.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. C. M. Skinner, who has a cottage at the lake, entertained at bridge at the club house. Tuesday the Omaha Whist club played at the club as the guests of Mrs. W. C. Sunderland.

Miss Gretchen McConnell, chairman of the committee, has received about thirty entries and expects to have about forty by Saturday evening. The drawings will be made Sunday. Assisting Miss McConnell are Miss Dorothy Ringwalt, Miss Hortense Clarke, Miss Jeannette Hall and Miss Laura Zimmerman.
