FAIR BOARD LIKES RESULT

Attendance Record-Breaker and the Show One of Best.

DONE WITHOUT SPECIAL RATES

First Time in Forty-Four Years Railroads Refused to Make Any Concessions on Account of State Exposition.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Sept. 7.—(Special.)—The officials of the Nebraska state fair were feeling exceedingly happy today and their meeting in the office of the secretary was marked by good nature and much satisfaction. Said Sec'y Mellor, "We are feeling pretty good this morning, for from the educational standpoint we have proven the fact that we have made good and that the attendance at our great school of instruction was better than most of the educational institutions of the state. On an average over 1,000 people attended the state fair for ever school day of the year. Added to that we exceeded the banner attendance last year by 2,755."

Each year has been a successful year and each year has seen, with one exception, the attendance reach higher and higher and the interest grow greater and greater, until the Nebraska fair is known all over the country and conceded by all to be one of the best, if not the best in the great agricultural west. That it may be known how the attendance has been for the last six years, the following will show:

No Special Rates. The increase in the attendance this year was made in the face of the fact that for the first time in the history of the fair for forty-four years, the railroads refused to grant special rates and that each visitor who came to the fair by rail was compelled to pay the regular rate. In all probability the attendance this year was assisted by the automobile to a great extent. A fair estimate would place the number of machines at the fair Thursday at nearly 2,000. So to the automobile must in some measure be given the credit for the breaking of the attendance record.

The aviation program this year was broken into by the high wind which prevailed on two days, but on Friday the conditions were much better and Aviator Champlin made three flights, with in one flight a height of 2,400 feet was reached. The Heriot machine was something new to the state fair and made a favorable impression on everybody.

NEMAHA MAN TO FIGHT NEW AUTOMOBILE LAW

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Sept. 7.—(Special.)—Levi L. Coryell of Nemaha county says that the law which denies the right of any person under 16 years of age to run an automobile, is unconstitutional. He feels so sure of his ground that he has appealed to the supreme court in a case wherein he was fined $5 each on three counts, one for allowing the son under 15 to run an automobile, second that he was running in a careless manner and third that he had turned back into the road within less than thirty feet of a team.

He was serving an indeterminate sentence there of from one to five years for grand larceny. Pritchard had written a letter to the warden of the Colorado pen asking to be returned there in order to escape punishment for the alleged Wymore assault case.

Peru Bank Robbers Make Their Escape

THAYER, Ia., Sept. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—Reports from the two suspects of the daring bank robbery here yesterday have escaped, the posse which was started in pursuit having broken up. It was rumored that Dr. Perry Carver of Peru, who was in the posse, had been wounded by a bullet from the revolver of one of the fugitives, but this had not been verified late this afternoon. The bank robbers escaped after making a stand in a cornfield near Peru.

Yankton Prisoners Escape from Jail

YANKTON, Sept. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—For the second time within three months three county prisoners rushed Deputy Sheriff August Moses, beat and overpowered him and escaped at 9 o'clock this morning. All three were recaptured within half an hour. One of the trio, W. H. Clancey, was one of those who escaped a month ago and was taken in Iowa.

AMERICAN RANCH RAIDED FOR THIRD TIME BY REBELS

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mex., Sept. 7.—The ranch belonging to American Vice Consul Frank A. Dickinson of this city, known as Peralta in this district of Abasco, Juanaquato, was assaulted by rebels for the third time on the night of August 23, according to advices received today. The raiders numbered more than 300 and entered the ranch with "vivas" for Zapata. No resistance was offered and they took away everything of value on the place.

Will Use Canal in Year.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 7.—In a personal letter to Clarence H. Matson, secretary of the Los Angeles board of harbor commissioners, Colonel George Goethals, chief engineer of the Panama canal, said that the transisthmian waterway would be handling interoceanic traffic in September, 1912. This, however, according to Colonel Goethals, would be a "tryout" in preparation for the formal opening a year later.

The two men were found early this morning, the right-of-way by a train crew of a freight near Nenzel, Neb. Evidence points to foul play as the dead man came to his death by a blow on the head and the other is injured about the head.

What to do With Old Court House is Perplexing Problem

Thought more bids for wrecking of the old court house have been received by the Board of County Commissioners the problem of disposition of the building still is unsolved. The bids do not look any more encouraging than did those formerly received. They are as follows, the sums named being to be paid the bidders by the county and the bidders to receive all the salvage: Omaha Wrecking company, $7,535; H. Gross Lumber and Wrecking company, $7,300; F. O. Johnson, $5,837.

John G. Pegg has asked the board to give the old building to Zion Baptist church. Here are other suggestions that have been made: Wreck it and use the material to build a new county hospital. Wreck it and use the material to erect a building for a sort of art gallery and public meeting place and rest room on Jefferson square or some other ground donated by the city.

Give it to some one of many women's organizations that have asked for it.

Will Enter Contract With Tax Ferrets

Tentative agreement to pay John H. Grossman and George E. Bertrand, attorneys, 25 per cent of gross collections for ferretting out inheritance taxes which have been dodged has been made by the Board of County Commissioners. Grossman and Bertrand assert that they know of several cases in which heirs of large estates in foreign countries have succeeded in escaping payment of inheritance taxes in Douglas county. They think they can collect between $20,000 and $35,000. They refuse to give the county any detail until a contract has been consummated.

The board told the attorneys to prepare and submit a contract and the board will sign it if it conforms to the verbal proposition they have made. The attorneys originally wanted 33 per cent, but the board induced them to come down to 25 per cent.

GOVERNMENT IS AFTER LOCAL BOOTLEGGERS

A crusade has been started in Omaha against persons who are selling liquor without a government license and the first arrest was made this morning by Deputy Marshal Henry P. Haze. Nellie Christensen was arrested at 1020 Harney street. Deputy Haze said that his office had been collecting evidence for some time and that the arrest was but the beginning and that several arrests will be made within the next few days. He has a long list of persons who have been selling liquor without a government license and United States Attorney F. S. Howell is issuing warrants for the arrest of the parties.

PEORIA MARBLE WORKS WANTS PAY FROM YULE

The Peoria Stone and Marble works has asked the county to help it collect $1,324.25 from the Colorado-Yule Marble company for green marble furnished for the new county building. The Board of County Commissioners holds this to be a matter solely between the Peoria concern and the Colorado-Yule people and will do nothing.

The Colorado-Yule company is the marble subcontracting firm under Caldwell & Draks. Having none of the peculiar green marble called for by the specifications the Colorado company purchased it from the Peoria works. The Peoria people say they furnished the marble some time ago, but have been unable to collect.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Sept. 1.—Jess Borste of Hollister is dead and Edward Dickens of Branson is in jail charged with the killing as a result of a quarrel over the respective merits of the two "village smithies." Aside from an intense rivalry between the two towns, Borste and Dickens were at odds over their respective standing in the blacksmithing trade. This morning Dickens went to Hollister and stabbed Borste to death in the latter's home.

Buffalo Bill and the Kiddies

Colonel Bill Cody's declining years, even if every other aim had failed, is rendered singularly happy in living to see the fruition of his work of pacification between the red race and the white race exemplified in friendship of his little camp friends.

A factor in the era when force and fighting to the death was, unfortunately, a necessary method of civilization's progress, he, after the pipe of peace was smoked, has continued the work of bringing the once implacable foes to understand and appreciate each other to heal the wounds of one and demand consideration and, as far as possible, amends from the other. The men to forget and condone instead of moping over his loss of prestige and material possessions and the other to appreciate the debt due to one whose primitive simplicity paid the penalty through a lack of foresight that will never leave the victor free from the duty to make the amend material, as well as honorable.

Man Who Dies Gets a Drink in Morning From Black Bottle

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Details of the inner working of the alleged vice reign in West Hammond which is believed to have claimed John Messmaker, a railroad engineer, as one of several victims who are said to have been slain by poison, were revealed today before Judge John E. Owens in the county court when Mrs. Ethel Parker, known also as "Frankie" Ford, took the stand and for the first time in court told her story of Messmaker's death.

AURINGER DENIES REPORT THAT HE IS DROWNED

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 7.—"Please scratch my name off the death list," was the gist of a communication received by Eugene H. Porter, state commissioner of health, from John M. Auringer, of Detroit, Mich. According to the state health department records the body of a man drowned in the Erie canal at Detroit in May, 1911, was identified as Auringer by his daughter and two brothers.

Auringer had disappeared from his home in Detroit shortly before the body was discovered. The writer made no explanation of his disappearance, but said he had convinced his relatives that he was very much alive.

Serious Kidney Disease Treated By an Old-Fashioned Doctor

S. B. HARTMAN, M. D.

In 1890 I was practicing medicine in Millersville, Pennsylvania, a thriving farming community. A prominent citizen of that locality called at my office one day in a very feeble condition. So much so he had to be assisted in alighting from his wagon. I found on questioning him that he had been afflicted for about two years. He had consulted various doctors, among them a specialist from Philadelphia. They pronounced his disease to be Bright's disease of the kidneys. He was gradually falling in strength, losing flesh rapidly, altogether presented a very pitiable spectacle, the remnant of a once strong and happy man.

lege at Philadelphia, and as one of the consulting physicians had been a professor in that college it seemed to me quite unlikely that I would be able to do any more than had been done, but I prescribed what seemed to be the best thing under the circumstances.

He went away and in a week he returned saying he was no better, that he was still losing ground. He judged that he had taken the same medicine before. No doubt he had. But he wished me to prescribe again. I did so. This went on for about two months, the patient failing all the time, and I was becoming thoroughly discouraged with the case.

One day the patient said to me, "Doctor, why don't you give me the medicine you gave my neighbor? We all thought he would die, but your medicine cured him. This was why I came to you. Why not give me the same medicine you gave him?" "But," I said, "your neighbor did not have kidney disease. It was a bowel complaint that I prescribed for in his case. I remember I gave him the Neutralizing Mixture that I make a great deal of use of in bowel diseases."

"Well, I want some of the same medicine you gave him. I worked wonders with him, and I believe it will with me." "But," I said, "this is not a medicine for kidney disease." "Well, since you seem to be like the rest of the doctors, you cannot help me, why not try the medicine that helped my neighbor?"

After some hesitation I concluded to give him a bottle of it. In ten days he returned. He at once began to berate me in no complimentary words, saying: "You knew very well this medicine would help me. You held it back merely to get more fees for treating me. From the first the medicine has helped me and I have made rapid improvement. If I could have had this medicine a year ago I should have been saved a great deal of expense and loss of time."

I replied that I was glad the medicine had helped him. I was somewhat confused by his brusque manner and rough speech. I gave him another bottle of medicine. Did not see him again for about three weeks. Once more he called at my office for another bottle of medicine, which was his last call. A month or so afterwards a neighbor of his called and got a bottle of the same medicine, saying that my patient was practically a well man, attending to his duties about his large farm.

I had given him the Neutralizing Mixture which was a remedy that I had used before only for bowel diseases. The same remedy that has since been sold under the name of Peruna. I could not quite understand how it was that Peruna should operate so beneficially in such seemingly different diseases. I had not yet grasped the correct philosophy of disease. I did not then clearly comprehend that catarrh may affect the kidneys as well as the bowels. Nothing of that sort was taught in the books of those days. It took me years before I clearly comprehended that catarrh is a disease liable to attack any organ of the body.

Catarrh is a disease of the mucous membranes. The mucous membranes line every organ, duct and cavity in the body. Thus it is catarrh may settle anywhere where there is a mucous membrane.

Peruna is my remedy for all these cases. I insist upon it, however, that Peruna is not a cure-all. I use it for just one disease, catarrh. But as catarrh is liable to affect so many different places, disturb so many different organs, it does seem to many people as if I regarded Peruna as a cure-all.

The above narrative is simply one of the many cases in my early practice that brought me to comprehend the wonderful efficacy of Peruna in such a variety of diseases. The kidneys may be affected by other diseases than catarrh, but the average case of kidney disease is catarrh of the kidneys. All cases of Bright's disease begin with catarrh of the kidneys. This being true, and it also being true that Peruna is a catarrh remedy, it follows that a great many cases of kidney disease would be benefited by Peruna. Peruna is for sale at all drug stores.

SPECIAL NOTICE—Many persons are making inquiries for the old-time Peruna. To such would say, this formula is now being put out under the name of KA-TAR-NO, manufactured by KA-TAR-NO Company, Columbus, Ohio. Write them and they will be pleased to send you a free booklet.
