

MOP WILL BUILD VIADUCT
Overhead Crossings on Nicholas and Locust Streets.

CONFERENCE WITH CITY COUNCIL
Officials of Road Show Willingness to Proceed as Rapidly as Legal Steps in Matter Can Be Taken.

Members of the city council and officials of the Missouri Pacific Railroad company in conference once more threshed over the question of viaducts over the railroad tracks along Nicholas, Locust and Dodge streets. After the conference, Commissioner Ryder had this to say:

"I believe we are nearer to the construction of these viaducts than ever. The Missouri Pacific representative, Agent Loftus, has just returned from St. Louis, where he met most of the chief officials of the road. He brought back with him encouraging reports, and so far as one can judge, legal red tape only stands in the way of actual beginning of work on these structures. I do not believe the city council or the city legal department will stand in the way of taking the shortest possible cut to get results. Suits now pending in supreme court will be postponed for a few months on the calendar, but the city will lose no rights thereby if the present prospects should fall through."

Only Waits Red Tape.
"At the conference, representatives of the Missouri Pacific expressed a willingness to start this fall on the construction of the Locust street viaduct, providing the necessary legal steps can be taken. Everything looking to the construction of this viaduct, as well as the others, will begin anew."

"Under the plans as discussed, the Locust street viaduct is to be about three blocks in length. It is to be thirty-six instead of twenty-six feet wide, as originally proposed. If work begins this fall, it is to be completed early next spring."

"As to the Nicholas street viaduct, City Attorney Rine has been instructed to prepare and introduce at the council meeting Thursday morning an ordinance declaring the necessity of the structure. This ordinance will provide for a structure forty feet wide, instead of thirty-six feet wide, as proposed originally. Where the floor will be above the buildings along the sides, steps will lead down."

Widening the Streets.
"For the purpose of widening the street in order to conform to the additional width of the proposed viaduct, the Missouri Pacific will donate a strip of land along the north side of the structure while the city will take such steps as may be necessary to get the right-of-way over a certain strip of land originally included in Nicholas street."

"No definite action was taken with reference to the proposed Dodge street viaduct, but its construction at an early date is looked for and not only this but there is a possibility of a viaduct along Grace street in the near future."

Noisy Peddling is Not Profitable

"Wa-a-ter-me-e-e-oloni!"
How can you sell 'em off the wagon and make enough to pay your peddler's license and have a profit besides if you can't call out like that, long and loud and lusty?

This is the question Morris Kalman, a peddler, asks and the court must answer. On his own behalf and that of a hundred other peddlers Kalman in district court yesterday started suit to enjoin the city. Police Commissioner Ryder and Chief of Police Dunn from enforcing an order that peddlers must keep their feet on the soft, soft peddle. The order is designed to protect housewives and others in the residence districts from the blatanant bawlings of the hucksters. Kalman says calling one's wares is part of the business of a huckster, the most important part, in fact, and if the city won't let a man use his lungs it oughtn't to give him a license to huck at all. He says the language of a license carries with it permission to cry out one's wares at the top of one's voice, just as a license to run a merry-go-round carries with it permission to play the merry-go-round music box.

Real Estate Dealers Favor Sub-Walk Tax

The Real Estate exchange at the weekly meeting refused to go on record as opposed to the sub-walk tax proposed by the city. The matter came up in the shape of a motion made by W. H. Green to the effect that the exchange oppose the tax. His motion was voted down by a large majority. The exchange instructed President Merion to continue to act on the committee provided for by the council to investigate the proposed sub-walk tax. A committee consisting of William H. Hill and P. D. Wend was appointed to attend the Deep Waterways convention to be held in Little Rock, Ark., the latter part of the month. D. C. Patterson, W. T. Graham and George Wallace were appointed a committee to arrange for a delegation of real estate men to meet the Pittsburgh special next Monday and participate in the entertainment of the visitors. This was the first meeting of the Real Estate exchange since the vacation season.

COMMISSIONER RYDER IS AFTER GARBAGE HAULERS

City Commissioner Ryder is having his cup of woe filled to overflowing, all on account of the acts of the garbage haulers. Instead of going to the city dumps with their loads, these men are unloading in the residence districts, using vacant lots, street intersections and alleys in unfrequented portions of the city for the purpose.
The patrolmen and motorcycle police officers are on the lookout for the violators of the city ordinances, but have been unable to locate them at their work. Violation provides for a long term in the city jail, as well as a heavy fine.

Lewis Sues for Commission on the Water Bond Deal

Action demanding $10,000 as compensation for the part he took in the sale of the $7,000,000 Omaha water bonds has been started in the municipal court at Chicago, by S. Arion Lewis of this city.
The defendant is Harris & Co. of Chicago, bond dealers, who put the issue on the market after it had been sold by the water board to Kountze Bros., at a premium of $2,000.
Lewis says he was employed by Harris & Co. to negotiate the purchase of the water bonds, but has not been able to collect his fee.

Lions and Elephants in Government Hands

The United States government has on its hands a large portion of the Campbell Bros., consolidated shows, stationed at Fairbury, Neb. Recently the Ackerman-Quigley Lithographing company of Kansas City filed suit against the shows asking for approximately $10,000, which they allege is due them for services and work rendered. The government has attached twenty-four high school horses, five lions, two elephants and several coaches, wagons and other paraphernalia.

ORKIN BROS. ANNOUNCE BIG CHALLENGE SALE SATURDAY

"Everything comes to him who waits," says the old-time copy book. "Who hustles while he waits, succeeds," says the modern man. Orkin Brothers' activity in the Omaha retail field is a good illustration of this old saying and its modern version.

This firm's purchase of the old Bennett store and their success in closing out practically all the Bennett stock in three months has been a big task successfully accomplished.
Now a Great Fall Challenge sale is being announced for Saturday, September 14. It is understood this sale will become a semi-annual feature at Orkin Brothers.
The large number of buyers who have been in the eastern markets have returned. In speaking of their buying expedition, Mr. M. E. Orkin, who managed the trip, states that much merchandise was bought at many special price concessions, and that the Great Challenge Sale they will open next Saturday will be a revelation in value-giving to the public of this territory.

TOBACCO HABIT BARRED AT U. P. HEADQUARTERS

Men clerks at Union Pacific headquarters are rapidly acquiring the gum chewing habit. Many of them in the past have been using tobacco. Now they have out it out, not because they consider it a flimsy weed, but because the Union Pacific said so.
Cupidors have been sent to the junk pile and there is nothing doing when it comes to the delicious plug. The clerks are now chewing gum and their jaws are working overtime.
Chewing tobacco while on duty in the Union Pacific building is equivalent to dismissal of any employe.
