BANKERS AND MONEY TRUST

G. M. Reynolds of Chicago Addresses Association on Subject.

BANKS DEAL LARGELY IN CREDIT

Speaker Thinks There Will Be No Objection as Long as Confidential Relations Are Not Disclosed.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 11.—Speaking to the subject "The Money Trust Inquiry," George M. Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial national bank of Chicago, today declared, "If a banker can be forced to disclose a confidential relationship between his bank and its customer, it would require but a short step further to capitalize for the gratification of prejudice the confidences between an attorney and his clients, as well as the secrets of the confessional."

Mr. Reynolds spoke before the Trust Company section of the American Bankers' association at its annual convention and disavowed any antagonism to the congressional investigation by the house committee.

"Believing," as I do," said the speaker, "that open minded, honest agitation of any question in which the public is interested, prompted by a laudable purpose and kept free from animus and prejudice will tend to secure a proper solution of that question; I desire to disavow any antagonism or opposition to the impending investigation of the so-called 'money trust' by the house banking and currency committee; on the contrary, I shall be glad to do what I can to cooperate with the members of that committee so long as their activities are exerted along the lines of an honest endeavor calculated to promote better methods and higher ideals in business."

Money and Credit.

"The fact that 95 per cent of the business of this country is done upon credit, and that the use of actual money in transactions has been reduced to the minimum, makes it very easy for people who do not properly discriminate between credit and money itself to become confused in the application of the terms; and especially in this likely to be the case with those who have given so little study to the subject that they look upon a bank as being an institution dealing in money, whereas, in reality a bank deals in credit, and the money it carries in its vaults is only an incident to its business, being carried only in an amount sufficient under the law of averages to make it possible for the bank to pay its obligations upon demand under normal conditions.

"This confusing of credit with money, as it is related to business, has caused much misapprehension on this subject, and resulted in more or less honest criticism by those who do not realize that the 'money power' as it is usually applied relates to the power or control of the credit which may be extended against either money or other tangible liquid assets easily or quickly convertible into money; and in view of the temper of the people toward large aggregation of capital, it is not surprising that there has also arisen much confusion and misconception through the use of the words 'money power' and 'money trust.' Oftentimes, where quotations of alleged statements are made, the word 'money' is substituted for the word 'power,' making it appear as if 'money trust,' thereby changing the meaning of the statement as it was originally made."

Will Welcome Inquiry.

In conclusion Mr. Reynolds said: "I do not believe the bankers of the country will enter the slightest objection to the making of a comprehensible investigation of the banks by those charged by the house with that responsibility, so long as such investigation does not require them to disclose to the public the confidential relations existing between themselves and their customers, the divulgence of which might greatly embarrass the customer and thereby do serious injury to the banks. In my opinion, the banks should, and I believe they would to the limit of their ability to do so, decline to make this information public.

CLINTON, Ia., Sept. 11.—Seven of the eight men indicted by the grand jury last week, charged with conspiracy to defraud the county in connection with the making of bridge contracts, were arraigned today in the district court.

REBELS CAPTURE OJINAGA

north is in response to the demand of this government that Americans be protected. The movement now under way is expected to quiet the situation, for the present at least.

United States troops ordered to the border will move forward just the same and fight at posts throughout the west as ready.

Brigadier General Steever's dispatches of last night telling of the battle of Ojinaga made no mention of the surrender of the federal garrison, but to the contrary reported the rebels repulsed.

Brigadier General Schuyler from Fort Huachuca, Ariz., reported many rebels just across the border. His last night's dispatch says a force of 200 under Rojas and Tampa disabled a train south of Naco and took possession of San Pedro, covering the Del Rio railway, which they disabled. They threatened to dynamite bridges on the line if any effort were made to repair the railroad.

Two Miles of Bridges Burned.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The Southern Pacific company has asked the State department at Washington to protect its interests in Mexico. It was announced today at the office of the chairman of the executive committee of the railroad. It was a formal statement issued telling of telegrams received by the company declaring that bodies of rebels varying from 100 to 3,000 were pillaging the country, cutting telegraph wires and burning railroad bridges.

More than two miles of bridges have been burned during the last ten days, according to these telegrams. In one instance, according to the dispatches, the rebels captured a passenger train, loaded the passengers into one coach, carried it to within seven miles of Naco and dropped it into Naco by gravity. The locomotive was then disabled.

Disposal of Carcasses.

The state board of health has taken hold of the horse epidemic matter and has issued a circular calling for the burial, not less than four feet deep, of every horse dying, or that the carcasses be burned. They also forbid the carrying of the hides on public conveyances, such as teams, etc.

Epidemic Known in Africa.

Reports keep coming in to the office of State Veterinarian Boström of new cases. Several letters have been received and in some cases means suggested to stop the further spread, but while some claim to have a remedy or a preventive, the board is going ahead with its investigations and hopes to have something good to announce within a very short time.

GIBSON WILL BE ARRESTED

New York Lawyer Will Be Charged with Murder of Client.

MRS. SZABO IS STRANGLED

Autopsy Clearly Shows that Her Death Was Not Due to Drowning—More Light on a Mysterious Case.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—A warrant for the arrest of Burton W. Gibson, the lawyer, who was with Mrs. Rosa Szabo when she met her death while rowing on Greenwood lake on July 15, will be asked for today by the authorities of Orange county, New York. The autopsy performed on the exhumed body of the Szabo woman showed that the windpipe was wrenched out of place and that the superficial appearance of the internal organs was such as to cause the surgeons to retain them for both microscopic examination and chemical analysis.

Lawyer Gibson said he would return to this city from his country home today to await possible arrest. He said he would not oppose any obstacle in the way to ascertain all the facts that led to and including the death of the Szabo woman.

Deputy Sheriff De Graw was expected to return from Middletown, N. Y., some time today with the warrant for Gibson's arrest.

The physicians who performed the autopsy, it was said, were agreed that Mrs. Szabo's larynx was found to be so crushed and forced up in her throat that it would have kept any water from entering her lungs, so that she must have died from strangulation and not drowning.

Private detectives claimed to have made important discoveries in the case on the locating of two Mrs. Menschiks, who say they were approached about the time of Mrs. Szabo's death by a man representing himself as a lawyer and telling them that he could put them in the way of obtaining an estate that was left to them. When he spoke of signing papers the women in both cases demurred.

Officials of the Austro-Hungarian consulate here made an investigation into the Szabo case and alleged that Gibson was asking for the probate of the Szabo will, leaving an estate of $10,000, asserted that Mrs. Szabo's mother, Mrs. Menschik, was still alive, and to support that statement Gibson produced a waiver of citation signed by the supposed mother, Dr. Flaheauer, the Austro-Hungarian vice consul, alleges that Mrs. Menschik is dead.

There is a possibility that the Mexican federalists may not be entrained at El Paso after all. Officials here are reluctant to give to the rebels the advantage of knowing in advance where the federalists will enter the United States, the time of their entrainment or at what point they are likely to recross into Mexico. It had been planned to take them from El Paso to Douglas, but there is an intimation this plan may not be carried out. The supply of rifles and ammunition of the

Vote in Colorado Primary Election Extremely Light

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 11.—Incomplete returns indicated the nomination at Colorado's first primary yesterday of democratic and republican tickets dominated largely by representatives of the progressive forces. The vote was extremely light.

For democratic nomination for the long term to the United States senate Governor John F. Shafroth seemed to have a safe lead over his opponents, Alva Adams and T. J. O'Donnell. Seventy-five precincts out of 183 in Denver gave Shafroth 3,395 Adams, 1,223 and O'Donnell 899.

Charles S. Thomas was unopposed on the democratic side for the short term. For the long term in the republican party Clyde C. Dawson led Merle D. Vincent his progressive opponent, James H. Brown, progressive republican, was slightly ahead of Charles W. Waterman for the short term.

For governor E. M. Ammons, democrat, led his opponents in all but three counties. Philip B. Stewart, progressive republican, showed a slight lead over Clifford C. Parks.

Of the candidates for two offices of congressman-at-large in both parties, Edward T. Taylor, democrat, was the only one with an appreciable vote. For congressman from the First District A. W. Russell and G. W. Kindell, democrats, were running an even race. Rice W. Means was unopposed on the republican ballot.

The length of the ballots and the innovation of the primary has delayed the vote. Final results may not be known until tomorrow.

How To Be Beautiful

"A perspiring, shiny face is not beautiful. Powder obscures and makes it worse. Apply in the morning a lotion made by dissolving a package of mayonaise in a half-pint of witch hazel. This 'holds' all day, prevents tan and sunburn, removes blemishes and makes the skin smooth, fair and satiny."

"When condition of health does not favor washing the head, use a dry shampoo made by mixing four ounces of orris root with an original package of theroc. Theroc is good for the hair and makes it light, wavy and lustrous. Just sprinkle on the head and brush out. Remember water causes brittle, streaked and falling hair."

"Thin and straggly eyebrows will grow thick, even and darker-colored if pyroxin is applied daily with the finger tips. Eyelashes, too, will become lovely and long if pyroxin is gently massaged into the roots."

"No woman need suffer humiliation from superfluous hairs on face or arms. Just cover the hairs with a paste made of plain delatone and water, leave on for a few minutes, remove, wash the surface, and the hairs will be gone. This treatment is sure, safe and speedy."—Adv.

HOG CHOLERA IS EPIDEMIC

Great Quantities of Swine Dying Throughout State—Boy in Reformatory Dies of Grief Over Tragedy.

(From a staff correspondent.)

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Veterinarian authorities of Iowa today for the first time became alarmed over the western hog plague and the invasion of Iowa, and a meeting of the health board will be held to take steps to head off the epidemic. At the office of the state veterinarian it is insisted, however, that a great many cases of the disease have occurred in Iowa in recent years, but not in epidemic form, due in all cases to impurities in the forage.

It was also learned today that in some parts of the state the hogs are dying in large numbers from the cholera. Kenneth Reeves, aged 14, who was
