

The Bee's Tome Magazine Page

SILK HAT HARRY'S DIVORCE SUIT

The Judge is Treated Like a King at Home

Drawn for The Bee by Tad

But he was brusque, businesslike and she would be better again soon, he turned

"Mrs. Minor," he said abruptly, "when

"I've been thinking of leaving next

"Why not before then?" he demanded.

"Why-I haven't thought"-began the widow hesitatingly, but he interrupted

"Have you anything to do which could

"Well, no, not exactly," acknowledged

"Then," he said curtly, "make your arrangement to get off by Monday at

"I have some shopping to do," said the

"It is!" broke in the physician. "While your child is not seriously ill the fever is sapping her vitality. Every extra hour you stay in town you are depriving her of fresh country air. You told me just now that it would be possible for you to go soon. Then go soon. Good day!"

trice at her vexed self as the door slammed behind him. Yet she was conscious that in her heart lurked a secret admir-

A Perpetual Clock

world to be operated entirely by electrical forces drawn from mother earth is now running at Camp Hill, Pa, It has been in continuous operation since 1870

with the exception of a short period involved in its transfer to several different ocalities. In the late '60s Duniel Draw-baugh, to whom every one in that local-phone, and who succeeded his inventions in telephony by constructing hundreds of marvelously ingenious me-electrical forces in the earth. Time has shown that Drawbaugh has come closer to perpetual motion than any other in-the motor. It is suspended on an edged pivot or hardened steel in order to reduce fricion to a minimum. This pen-tween the ball and the point of suspenpart of the clock base at right angles to the permanent magnet is an electro mag-

When the pendulum is swung away from the perpendicular the opposite poles of the two magnets first attract and then repel, thus keeping up the oscillation. At the top of the case the wheels are fastened to tubes or hollow

spindles which are suspended in turn upon steel studs or pins, which in their turn are securely fastened into a main metal base or framework. The first wheel is a rachet or second hand wheel

which receives its motion from two

One remarkable feature in the con-feeding the electro magnet.

ation for his strength and power.

"I believe he's a brute!" declared Bea-widow more decidedly. "Unless it is im-

do you mean to go to Pleasanton?"

suddenly 'to Beatrice.

Thursday or Friday.'

the latest.'

perative"-

THE CLOCK JUST STRUCK 12 WHEN PANTSLESS PAT, THE

PROPRIETOR OF THE VILLAGE

GIN MILL WAS GETTING READY TO MUSS UPTHE FEATHERS. SUDDENLY HE HEARD A CRACK

BACK AND OPENED SAID DOOR

A PEELER WAS STANDING THERE

GAY PAT, I HATE TO DIS

TURB YOUR SLEEP BUT!

WANT TO KNOW IS THE ICE

MAN HAPPIEST WHEN THE

OTHER MAN TAKES THE CAKE

MANNIE GREENBERG

Hunting a Husband

The Widow Returns Home in Dr. Haynes' Car and Learns Something of His Personality.

By VIRGINIA TERHUNE VAN DEWATER,

As Dr. Haynes, the attractive widow by the assertion that he expected a reseated at his side, drove his car toward currence of the malarial trouble, and that the railroad station at Pleasanton, they as yet it was nothing that need cause met a stream of commuters. Among alarm. He would be in to see the child them was Henry Blanchard. He started later in the morning. with pleased surprise at sight of Bea- He came about noon-time. Beatrice trice and waved his hat gally. The had looked forward to his arrival as to woman felt her cheeks flush as she an opportunity for a quiet chat with him.

"That's a funny old chap," laughed evidently hurried. Yet he was, as ever the doctor as they sped across the tracks gentle with the sick child. In the hall, at the crossing. after having bade the small patient a cheery goodbye and promising her that

"He's a very good friend of mine," said Beatrice, stiffly. "Surely," agreed the physician, "but even you must admit that he is old and funny." To which comment the widow made no

The remainder of the drive home was uneventful. The pleasure of the motion aroused Beatrice to chat brightly, and, although the doctor divided his attention between the machine and herself, she noted that she received no larger share not be done in a couple of days if absonotice than had been hers during the morning.

The pair had exchanged no speech for Beatrice. "But"ten minutes when the doctor brought his car to a stop before his companion's home. Still silently, he helped her to alight, and she, spurred to a final effort to arouse him, smiled frankly up into his face and urged him to "come in for a few moments.

The doctor looked at his watch before replying, the nshook his head decidedly "Can't do it," he said. "I'm sorry for I'd like to see the little girl. But these are my office hours, and I must go." But the widow detained him for a moment as she held out her hand in bidding him goodbye. "I thank you a thousand times. Dr Haynes," she said sweetly, "for a lovely day. I have enjoyed it ever so much, and the pleasure is all due to you." "And I've enjoyed it too," responded the physician absently, his eyes fixed on his automobile. "I so seldom get a chance to try out my machine on a country road that I was glad to do so today.' With which tactful remark he dropped her hand, turned quickly and "cranked up" his car, and, lifting his hat, sprang into the automobile and drove away without so much as a glance in her direc-"Pig!" was Beatrice's vindictive sotto voce exclamation as she went into the

The children received her joyfully and she forgot for the time her chagrin in the gratification of the mother love that was perhaps, the only genuine affection she had ever felt. She answered patiently the multitude of childish questions regarding the new summer home, and told of her intention of taking the little ones there before the next week had passed.

"Did Dr. Haynes like the place?" asked much, dear," answered the mother. "He says you will get well fast in that lovely spot, and just as soon as you are stronger we'll go."

"Are there nice people there, mother? queried Jack, dubiously

"Yes, indeed," declared Beatrice. "There are Mr. and Mrs. Robbins, and-and-Mr. Blanchard's going to be there most of the summer."

"Umph!" grunted Jack. discontentedly "I don't like him. He's jus' like an old goats, 'cept now he's cut off his whisk-For the second time that afternoon

Beatrice found herself contrained to stand ground, the earth becoming the battery up for her potential flance. "Do you like him very much, mother?"

queried Jack, with a child's brutal frank-"Very much," replied Beatrice, firmly. "All right, then,' said the boy, re signedly. "But, honest, mother, he did used to look just like a old billy goat and his whiskers flapped up and down when he talked, and "-"Jack!" warned the mother, angrily, and the boy, after one look at her stern face, said meekly, "Yes'm," and subsided into silence. But the lad's attitude an pawls pivoted upon the upper crossbar noyed his mother more than she would of the pendulum rods. have been willing to admit. She loved her little son as a mother only loves her manchild, and it gave her a sensation of uneasy compunction to think that she was the least friction. Drawbaugh confi- seek any kind of associates that chance considering as a husband for herself, and dently stated that his clock would run throws in their way. a stepfather for her children, a man for for hundreds of years before any part whom her boy had only contempt.

Jean had a restless night, and the the clock ready for work it is necessary after breakfast she telephoned the doc- enough coke to hold moisture and the after her children, and much of the a feeling of rowdylsm and a desire for erly. tor. On hearing of Jean's condition he timepiece can be run so that it will not rowdylsm and the so-called badness dictatorship over other beings weaker promised to call, but reassured Beatrice gain or lose two seconds in a year.

GENTLEMEN DE SEATER TA-RA-RA-RA RUFUS-MISTAH FLYNN CAN YOU

TELL ME WHO WAS THE FIRST BUTCHER ? INTERLOCUTOR CAN I TELL YOU WHO WAS THE FIRST BUTCHER AT THE REAR DOOR HE WENT

NO WHO WAS THE FIRST BUTCHER, RUFUS! RUFUS- ADAM WAS, BECAUSE EVE WAS MADE FROM ONE OF ADAM'S SPARE RIBS.

GLOOMY GUS, THE UNDERTAKER

WILL RENDER A LITTLE MELODY ENTITLED. "THE HAND THAT ROCKS THE CRADLE ALWAYS GRABS

POOR FATHERS DOUGH GET UP AT 5 IN HALE AN E 66 OR TWO RUSH THEN TO LUNCH BACK TO THE GARAGE TAKE AT 12.30. ANSWER THE OUT THE CAR THEN WHEN I COME BACK! TAKE A SPIN TO THE

OUT A FEW PROPOSITIONS PHONE FOR 3 HOURS FACTORY WITH

TAKE OFF MY TIE!! MAKETH ME THICK HI BOYS - BACK AGAIN LETTERS TO THE STEND LUMBER THEN HOME IM A CHAUFFEUR NOW DENTS OFFICE IRON LITTLE FODDER PUMP EIGHT BARRELS OF WATER UP IN THE ATTIC THEN I GO HOME WIND THE CLOCK FEED THE CAT AND THEN IM DONE

YOU'RE

OAT ABAR SAYS ."THE DAY IS LOST H

AT LEAST ONCE

YOU PASS IT WITHOUT HAVING LAUGHED

LIVED IN HIS QUIET LITTLE

CABIN FAR OUT IN THE ROCKIES AND HADN'T SEEN A PERSON IN

FIVE YEARS. ONE DAY HE AND

N THE WOODS NEARBY RIP

HIS OLD DOG RIP WENT HUNTING

AUGHT SCENT OF SOMETHING

MOE FOLLOWED HIM FAR INTO

NEAT TO IT WAS A NOTE WHICH

IF THE EATING OF A CHICKE

HELPED AN ATHLETE TO WIN

GLADIATOR (GLAD HE ATE HER)

KITH ME!! NOTHING

ARACE WOULD HE BE

THEY CAME TO A CARCASS

TO DOTILL A HAPPY TO-MORROW

"More Playgrounds Cure for Bad Boys"

By MARGARET HUBBARD AYER. What is to be done with the gang?

What can be done for the bad boy who is a terror both at home and in school; the leader or member of a gang of small boys who begins by mischievously destroying the property of others, and who, under the evil influence of older boys, acquires the vicious habits which lead him finally into the children's court or in the reform school?

Wherever the welfare of children is discussed Mrs. Clarence Burns' views are of special importance and significance because she has devoted almost twenty years of her life to the cause of the child. Now, as the head of the Little Mothers' association, she has established a practical method of training small girls in the art of housekeeping and housemaking.

"As chairman of the playgrounds committee." sald Mrs. Burns, "I had formerly a great deal of experience with the so-called bad boys, and most of them certainly lived up to the'r reputation until we found an outlet for their enerity gives credit for inventing the tele-"A good deal of so-called badness or naughtiness is just pent-up animal spirits. If you give the child an outlet for chanical and electrical devices for fur- this energy, something which is interestthering the world's work, conceived the ing at the same time, you will have no ides that he could make a perfect clock trouble in managing him. Outdoor exeroperate under the guidance of latent cises and symnastic work which the boys get in the playgrounds are the very best thing for this kind of a child, and it is because we haven't enough playgrounds and enough interesting gymnastic work In the Drawbaugh timepiece, which and outdoor games, and especially bestands about six feet in height, and is cause there aren't sufficient places to unlike all other clocks, the pendulum is play in near the congested districts, that children of this type get into mischief. "The great trouble is that the child who is full of surplus vitality and endulum weighs about forty-five pounds, ergy, and who runs about the street, is its central rod terminating midway be- apt to come into contract with the child who has criminal tendencies, who is sion, where there is an ordinary perma. either a moral delinquent or feeble-nent magnet. Fastened against the back minded. "It should be a simple matter to deal with the child who has criminal or denet, the wire of which runs into the generate tendencies, for such children should be segregated.

"I don't believe in putting children in omes or institutions unless it is absolutely necessary, but in the case of the child with criminal instincts it is necessary, and some system must be evolved which will compel parents of such children to realize that the children are better off away from their families, where they can have no chance to harm or to conteminate the minds of their sisters and brothers or playmates.

"Under normal conditioins the child's child to be brought up in: but it frequently happens that a child has no real home. If the mother is a widow or a deserted wife, if she has to work all day struction of the clock is that there are to support her children, the latter are only four bearings that are subjected to necessarily free to roam the streets and to

would have to be renewed. In making the children away from the mother and very harmful, putting them into homes or institutions. would be stopped.

MRS. CLARENCE BURNS.

According to Mrs. Burns, a good deal of so-called badness or naughtiness is just pent-up animal spirits. If the child is given an outlet (or this energy, she says, it will be easy to manage him.

"The widowed mother's pension has been successfully tried in other states, child arouses in that child abnormal pas why can't it be tried here?"

Manhattan State hospital and Post- has been beaten." own home is the only real place for a Graduate hospital, has made something of a specialty of the so-called bad boy, accounts for certain criminal tendencies the feeble-minded and the moral delin- and symptons in children and how they

than himself.

"Then scientists claim that beating : sion and instincts, and that it is more Dr. Edward Louis Bisch, formerly of difficult to uplift and control a child that

"Wr. Bisch, will you tell me how science

"Science can't always account for it. "Never beat a child. Within the first returned Dr. Bisch. "Through the proyear or two the child is all sensation, cess of psycho-analysis physicians and and a slap here and there will do no psychologists are endeavoring to find out in the streets, where he is subject to all ceived some terrific shock to the emo-"First, the effect on the mind is bad, tions, a great fright, perhaps, or his been where large families are forced to live the country."

Woman Falls in Love First

When a woman said recently that nished all the downstars rooms and voman is the first to fall in love, there cided what flowers shall grow on the was a stir of surprise and interest in the lawn.

men's. The women had known it all the time. But they hadn't chosen to take the men into their confidence in the matter. They never will so choose, not at least, in the case of the men to whom they have a special interest. those men who are trying to win them

-trying. A man wonders blindly when he will marry. He may spare himself the trouble of guessing. Bernhardt and the man with made up her mind to marry him chooses. minded audience. The man about fate and in fancy see a grave- airs and graces, her odd little humors, faced woman spinning and weaving the her alternate smiles and gravity are web of their future. Bosh! A man's fate about. If he finds out in time he will is determined by quite a different person, become her proud and happy husband. a woman not grave of face, but merry, If she becomes impatient with his dullwho weaves his future-not by a spindle, ness, and her interest centers in another but with a perfumed fan. Someone dimly and cleverer man, he will mourn her feeling this truth long ago voiced it by "fickleness."

man's "fate. She is his "fate" because she has resolved to marry him. What he wishes is change his wishes and she sees to it that strange pranks his up-and-down stairs naming the girl he was to marry a he does. A woman falls in love first because she has keener perceptions than man's. Despite all the slanders of all the men of all the ages, women know what they

When they meet the man they would like for a husband, the fact is quickly A woman has a liveller imagination than it and call him an idiot. The girl who, about the room in his arms, not only has a mental picture of herself as the mistress of their home, but has already furin one room, children are frequently subject to emotional shocks of one kind or another which unbalance them completely. Yet it is very difficult to trace the symptoms which develop from this shock back to the original source. "The child who has seen his mother beaten by the father may have received such a shock, which later may show itself in the child's extreme cruelty to he will kick and hit the mother herself." "What could be done for such a child?" inquired. "The original shock could be discovered through a process of psycho-analysis, or, if the child's mother is willing. the child could be hypnotized. I have done this often, first finding out just what the child considered the most beautiful and precious thing in the world or what was his ideal of beauty. This ideal is connected with the mother while the child is in a state of hypnosis. After that whenever the child looks at the mother he at once gets the mental picture which was impressed upon his mind-angel flower and whatever it was that he liked-and it is impossible for him to harm it. Of course, the impression wears away in time, but by that time the bad habit has been broken. "Whatever is going to be done for the had boy or the moral delinquent, physical exercise and manual training must play a large part in the work. "Many of them who will not concenand can be appealed to.

"As conditions are at present, however, unless a child is bad enough to be sent to an institution of some kind than 1,000 miles, 3 cents fo rone opund there is very little chance for his evil and 7 cents for each additional pound. tendencies to be corrected.

"The school teachers have their hands full, and as it is thousands of children pound and 9 cents for each additional are only in school on half-time.

"If the child is in a graded class, or send him home, which usually means out pound. "The problem of the bad' boy, the

By ADA PATTERSON.

men's camp. Amused silence in the Wobeen falsely termed woman's fickleness.

Woman is not fickle. She loves truly? and ardently for a while, but grows tired of waiting for the slow creature with cumbersome mental processes to overalle take her. In the love-race, woman is like the hare, man like the fabled tortoise. except that in Cupid's uncertain country, the tortoise does not always overtake the hare. Many a man loves a girl because he is too slow-witted to catch up with .. her before her quickly born love for hims self has turned to scorn for his slow wit. Women, taught that it is immodest to reveal their love until it is asked, have become in that respect, mistresses of dissimulation. In the drama of love allifu women are actresses. Every girl is a He will marry when the girl who has is in love, her blundering, cumbersome A few dreamy-eyed persons still talk interested, puzzled, wonders what all her

A girl of 16 is grown up and has long gowns and dresses and cupola piled hair like her mother's. A boy of 16 is still shy a matter of little moment. He must as a rabbit, and is wondering at the voice plays him. So with their falling in love, the girl arrives long before him wer She meets a man and thereafter his a face floats between her and her mother's features. The echoes of his voice are want and know it sooner than a man louder in her ears than of her father's tones bidding her bring him the evening's paper. She knows what this means-the first age of love. She begins at once to apparent to them, though not to the men hide it from every one but herself, and and usually succeeds, while the man later disa man has. If, when a man has twice covers that she is "a very nice little girl, danced with a girl, it were suggested to indeed, with a taking way." Taking intous him that he picture her his wife, he deed, for she has taken him, but he losespore would laugh at the person who suggested his appetite, grows moon-eyed and presue occupied, talks sentiment and is poor with such seeming indifference, floats company until every one knows he is inlove and with whom-every one save himeeself. Finally the scales fall from his 200 eyes and he proposes, and if her pride that has grown while she hid her love, or and her disgust with his slow moving increase tellect, have not conquered his "fate"! becomes his. If not, some other and the

A woman who has happily married and man of deliberate speech and slow consider clusions, said she was so piqued by his of beginning a proposal one night and leavist ing it unfinished for a week, that shed nearly ran away with a man whom shell animals or smaller children, or possibly disliked. A tactful mother left the coflege professor alone with her daughter and told the man with the eloping in tent that her daughter was "engaged X10" When she went back to the parlor she saw her words were prophetic. The easyl going suitor had captured his "fate" while nearly losing it. Women know this, all women, and quicker man wins her.

Bernard Shaw. If they love at all, they love first. If they don't love first thesall do not love. They only permit them-

Postal Rates and Zones

Zone 1-For distances not exceeding %ad fifty miles, 5 cents for the first pound, and 3 cents for each additional pound of Zone 2-For distances over fity and less, era than 150 miles, 7 cents for one pound and 4 cents for each additional pound wi Zone 3-For distances over 150 and less trate on any kind of work will do so than 300 miles, 7 cents for one pound for a reward if the reward is money. The and 5 cents for each additional pound. desire to earn money is generally strong | Zone 4-For distances over 300 and less than 600 miles, 8 cents for one pound and 5 cents for each additional poundites Zone 5-For distances over 600 and less Zone 6-For distances over 1,000 and 20 less than 1,400 miles, 9 cents for one pound.

Zone 7-For distances over 1,400 and ungraded one, his teacher can do no more less than 1,800 miles. Il cents for one for him after the school period than to pound and 9 cents for each additional Zone 8-For distances over 1,800 miles. harm, but once the emotions come into the original cause of the abnormal ten-"Now, if the state, instead of taking play the effect of beating a child is dencies. Frequently the child has re- weak and mentally undeveloped child. | cents for each and every pound mailed.

mother found her feverish when morn- to dig a hole in the earth about three would pay her a pension-provided, of The child feels that the parent is taking suddenly brought to a realization of child is probably the greatest and most miles square. All points within one of the course, she were the right kind of a advantage of a helpless and weaker be- things or conditions which the child's important one before the community tocurrence of the child's indisposition, and plates are placed in the hole with mother-she would have time to look ing, and such a beating necessarily breed- brain is too undeveloped to grasp prop- day, for the number of such children is from the center of the quadrangle in constantly increasing, and their influence which they were located. The zones will "In the congested quarters of the city, is a menace to every healthy child in lie fifty, 150, 300, 600, 1,000, 1,400 and 1,800 in. miles from each of these centers.