The opening rate today, 6 per cent, support which the market receved from the unsettied weather over the northwest gave out after the first hour. Minneapolis prices had a sharp reaction, and the bearish cash wheat reports from Winnine peg, added to the heaviness in the Chicago market, resulted in the break to 90% for December. The feeling was very bearish after the close yesterday because the trade failed to hold the buil market with the bad weather news. Russa is offering her wheat freely. Naturally the trade will oversell and have temporary rallies, but it looks as if a lower level will be needed to sell surplus wheat abroad. Cash wheat, ½c to lo lower. PIGS. SHEEP AND LAMBS-With an unsheep and Lambs—With an un-usually large supply of sheep and lambs on that market yesterday and a weak and lower tendency to the general trade at other points, local trade was rather dull and lasted well on into the after-noon. While a comparatively few prime kniing lambs were among the offerings, a large number of pretty good kinds were on saie. Prices on lambs ruled generally 15@25c lower than Tuesday's market. Al-though fat sheep were also in good supthough fat sheep were also in good sup-ply, values remained pretty closely to a steady basis. Trade in wethers was not any too good and most of them were slow to seil. The fat end of yesterday's receipts was pretty well cleaned up by night. Feeder buyers had a liberal supply of feeding stock from which to make their selections yesterday, but as the trade in kiliers was slow and late in getting started, business in the feeder divisions was slow and at lower process.

as quiet early in the day as for some time back. The quietness of the trade was partially attributed to the fact that really prime killing stuff was very scarce while less desirable kinds of both sheep and lambs were in liberal supply. Another bearish influence was the weakness and lower prices at other live stock centers. One string of pretty good lambs commission should have authority over the sale in both cities and in which President Lynch is said to have sided with him, was conducted behind closed doors.

Heydler of the National league and 30,000 of the 38,000 seats will be held for sale at the entrance to the Polo grounds -one to each purchaser on the days of the game.

The umpires for the series will be O'Loughlin and Evans of the American league and Rigier and Klem of the National league.

Meeting at Brush's Home. These are the principal features of the arrangements perfected today at a meeting of the National Base Ball commission, consisting of Chairman August Herrmann and Presidents Johnson and Lynch, of the American and National leagues, at the suburban home of John T. Bush, president of the New York club. Also present were President James Mc-Aleer and Secretary Robert McRoy of the Boston club; Secretary Joseph O'Brien of the New York club and Secretary Heydler of the National league. The meeting was practically a series of contests preliminary to the championship, and resulted in the New York Nationals twice winning over the Boston Americans; in the American league president defeating the national commission and in the national commission defeating effectually, it is believed, any possibility of a repetition of the ticket speculation scandal in this city, which marred the series last year.

Advantage of opening on local grounds was lost by Boston, when on the toss of the coin by President Johnson, President Brush of New York called "tails" and President McAleer of Boston chose "heads." The coin fell tails. New York won this so-called advantage of the opening game last year.

The Bostons desired to start the series October 7. President Brush regarded Monday as a poor day for an opener in New York and probably also foresaw an advantage in giving his team an extra day's rest after their probably late clinching of the pennant title. He wanted the games to begin Tuesday.

sion was also slow and at lower prices.
Bulk of the feeders showed a decline of logific below prices prevailing on Tuesday. About twenty loads of feeding sheep and lambs, most of which were open wool lambs, were carried over for today's trade.

"Call it," said Chairman Herrmann, as he flipped a coin. "Heads," said Mc-deer, again. "Talls," said Brush. The coin again fell talls, scoring a double-beader defeat of Boston. header defeat of Boston.

Dispute Over Ticket Sale. Coin tossing decisions were simple as compared with the arguments which followed the next business on the program. Determined to abide by his declaration that the Boston American league club should handle the sale of tickets in its own way, President Johnson of the Amerlcan league had come to the meeting to fight it out. The discussion of the muchdisputed question, in which August Herrmann took the stand that the National commission should have authority over

The American league president was backed virtually by an ultimatum in the form of a resolution adopted by his league last winter declaring that it never again would engage in an interleague series unless its club was given control of the ticket selling in its city. On the strength of this determination Secretary McRoy of the Boston club early in July began plans for handling the tickets by canvassing all the regular patrons of the game in whose hands he purposed to place the much-coveted world's series ad-

What took place in the secret session of the commission was not given out in detail, but it was apparent that President Johnson had scored a victory, for when the conference adjourned Secretary Heydler announced that Boston would be allowed to go ahead with its plans, "Secretary McRoy has had experience in several world's series," he said, "and the commission could not have a better man in charge." Although it appeared that McRoy would have a free hand, Secretary Heydler said the Boston plans would be carried out "with the supervision and approval of the National commission." Mr. Heydler was delegated by the commission to have complete charge of the sale in New York, taking it out of the hands of the local club officials, but, it was said, with the approval of President Brush.

Plan to Beat Scalpers. The commission believes it has at last checked the ticket scalper by the following program for the sale of tickets for the New York game:

Of the 28.000 seats at the Polo grounds. of the 38,000 seats at the Polo grounds.

12,000 bleacher seats (unreserved) will be sold at $1 each; 17,000 lower grandstand seats will be sold at $2 each; 8,000 upper grandstand seats at $3 each and boxes seating four persons at $25 each.

With the exception of the upper grandstand and the boxes all the tickets will be held for sale at the Polo grounds on the days of the game. One toket only will be sold to a person and purchasers will be required to enter the grounds immediately after buying.

The block of $,000 seats in the upper tier of the grandstand will be disposed of at public sale, on a date to be announced later, with an allowance of two seats to each purchaser. This sale will not take place, however, until from the National commission and two to each of the eligible players and requests from prominent individuals, off clals of organ ized base ball and season box holders have been taken care of. What tickets are left after this priority list is taken care of,

may be bought for from one to three games in advance, but positively no mali orders will be considered, according to Secretary Heydler.

The boxes will be placed on sale at

Secretary Heydler.

The boxes will be placed on sale at the same time these seats are offered the public.
