IN BLAZE OF GLORY AK-SAR-BEN XVIII ENTERS ROYAL CITY

this, beneath a flowered canopy, running water poured from a gargoyle's mouth, suggestive of the entryway to the castle of some knight.

Roses, the float which followed, probably also had a special lure for the fair sex. As the eternal suggestion of the rose is love, so was the theme of this float--love.

Diamonds' Prismatic Glories.

Doves billed on either side of the brilliant car and so natural did they appear that their coos almost could be heard. Little Dan Cupid? arrowed bow in hand, stood at the front of the float, his form balancing in the picture, the gigantic roses whose vines twined everywhere over the body of the car and the pair of great red hearts which adorned each side. To make the suggested story complete, Romea and Juliet were here in vivid reality, presenting the famous balcony scene in the greatest of all love dreams.

The most precious of jewels formed the composition of the float which followed--the diamond--and probably not a more glittering spectacle was in the parade. Under the innumerable lights, of which the float practically was composed, the prismatic colors of this gem flashed up into the heavens, illuminating the staid figure of Saturn that surrounded all. The diamond being dedicated to Saturday, Saturn, the ancient god of agriculture and civilization made the cynosure of the eye on the diamond float, while things suggestive of April, the diamond month, such as Easter lilies and furry rabbits, completed the beautiful adornment.

All along the line of march His Majesty's subjects loudly applauded the burst of varicolored flames in the galaxy of his cortège. And then attention was attracted to the imposing appearance of the lily float, which came next in line.

Lifelike Tigers Glare.
From the front of this glared two lifelike tigers, the tushes in their open mouths and the aggressiveness of their general appearance striking the onlookers with awe. Directly behind them there bloomed a gigantic tiger lily, the coloring of which blended harmoniously into the one. Back of this an Easter lily of equal size stood directly in front of a refreshing pool filled with pond lily leaves. Several maidens rode upon this float, carrying out the idea of purity which symbolizes.

ARCHBOLD, MORGAN, FRICK AND GOULD ARE BIG CONTRIBUTORS

mittée was investigating only Colonel Roosevelt's expenses and intended to let those of Taft, Wilson and Harmon, Underwood and Clark go until after the election, brought out bitter exchanges with members of the committee. Chairman Clapp took the charge as a personal reflection upon himself, "the only member of the committee friendly to Colonel Roosevelt."

Senator Dixon finally demanded that Charles P. Taft be summoned to tell whether he had spent $500,000 to secure President Taft's renomination and the committee agreed to consider the suggestion.

The $25,000, Senator Dixon said, was in addition to the $11,000 Mr. Hooker told of yesterday handled by the Roosevelt headquarters in New York. $52,000 Hooker had handled for the New York local campaign and the $102,000 William Plinn said he had given for Pennsylvania. The $25,000 each contributed by Perkins, Munsey and Hanna were also in addition, Mr. Dixon said, to the $25,000 given to the New York headquarters by Hanna, the $19,000 given by Mr. Munsey and the $23,000 given by Mr. Perkins.

Contributions to Other Funds.
Senator Dixon told the committee he had been reliably informed that Thomas P. Ryan and A. H. Plant, auditor of the Southern railway, had contributed heavily to Oscar W. Underwood's campaign; that Joseph E. Davis spent $48,000 in Governor Wilson's re-election campaign; that Charles P. Taft had spent $50,000 for his brother, the president, and that "leading financiers of New York had spent large sums for Governor Harmon."

Chairman Clapp told Senator Dixon he could tell what he knew about other candidates later.

"I'd send him to jail," declared Senator Pomerene, as Senator Dixon closed his remarks to the committee.

Senator Dixon then told what contributions he had personally received.

William Eno, a relative of Gifford Pinchot, gave him $5,000; Frank Munsey gave him some money, "probably $3,000," and more from time to time; George W. Perkins made several contributions; Mrs. Antonette Wood, aunt of Gifford Pinchot, gave $5,000; Dan R. Hanna made several contributions. About $5,000 or $6,000 was the total Senator Dixon gave as the amount he personally had spent.

"I didn't keep any books," he said. "I spent the money as fast as I got it."

One elevator man in the capitol he said had given $50.

"What do you know of efforts to change the votes of southern delegates by the use of money?" asked Senator Clapp.

"Nothink except hearsay," answered Mr. Dixon vigorously.

"Do you know by repute of any such attempts, in which you had a part or acquiesced?" asked Senator Clapp.

"Not a thing," said Dixon. He said he collected no funds for the holding of the progressive national convention in August; that the $15,000 necessary was all raised by the local committee in Chicago.

Exchanges between Senators Dixon and Pomerene became so heated this afternoon that Mr. Pomerene invited Mr. Dixon "outside," but the affair passed off without incident. Mr. Dixon closed his testimony without giving the names of his informants that large sums of money had been spent for Mr. Taft. After a brief examination of Congressman Weeks of Massachusetts the committee adjourned until tomorrow morning.

Denial from Wilson.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 2.—Governor Wilson today denied knowledge of a $10,000 contribution to his campaign fund by Charles R. Crane of Chicago, when shown the report of the evidence before the Clapp committee yesterday. Governor Wilson was preparing speeches for his western trip, which begins tonight and which will take him as far as Denver.

"It can't be true," said the governor, "or I would have heard of it. I know what the total contributions were and how hard up we were. Of course, Mr. Coombs has all the data and will testify about those things."

The nominee added that he was under the impression that Mr. Crane did not contribute at all to the pre-convention campaign fund, but that his first contribution came after the Baltimore convention.

Why Have "Nerves"?

This is the reason why women have "nerves." When thoughts begin to grow cloudy and uncertain, impulses lag and the warnings of pain and distress are sent like flying messages throughout limbs and frame, straightway, nine times in ten, a woman will lay the cause of the trouble to some defect at the point where the first felt it. It is a headache, a backache, a sensation of irritability or twitching and uncontrollable nervousness, something must be wrong with the head or back, a woman naturally says, but all the time the real trouble very often centers in the womanly organs. In nine cases out of ten the seat of the difficulty is here, and a woman should take rational treatment for its cure. The local disorder and inflammation of the delicate special organs of the sex should be treated steadily and systematically.

Dr. Pierce, during a long period of practice, found that a prescription made from medicinal extracts of native roots, without the use of alcohol, relieved over 90 per cent. of such cases. After using this remedy for many years in his private practice he put it up in form of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that would make it easily procurable, and it can be had at any store where medicines are handled.

Mrs. LILA B. HAWKINS, of Zeas, Va., writes: "I had been falling in health for two years--most of the time was not able to attend to my household duties. Female weakness was my trouble and I was getting very bad but, thanks to Doctor Pierce's medicine, I am well and strong again. I took only three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' and used the 'Lotion Tablets.' I have nothing but praise for Doctor Pierce's wonderful medicine."

LYNCHING IN STATE PRISON

this they dispersed, for guards were patrolling the penitentiary walls, with instructions to shoot anyone that came near. But inside the walls of the prison the word was quietly being passed from cell to cell that "the negro is here," and by daylight it is assumed that every prisoner in the cell house was posted and ready to do his part.

Storm Breaks Suddenly.

At the usual hour, the prisoners were marched out to breakfast, but there was not a sign to indicate the storm about to break. Every man appeared calm and ate breakfast in the usual deliberate manner. Then followed the morning cleaning of the cell house and rooms. This gave the prisoners the opportunity to locate Wigfall, who had been placed in a cell on the fifth tier of the cell house.

At 8:30 there was a sudden rush, the guards and turnkey were overpowered, and while several convicts stood guard, the others rushed to the fifth floor, secured Wigfall, and with one end of a rope tied about his neck and the other fastened to the railing of the corridor, and amid wild yells and curses, the colored fiend was cast over. He fell twenty-five feet, being killed instantly, and his head was almost jerked from his body.

Prisoners Return to Cells.

Satisfying themselves that Wigfall was dead, the prisoners released the guards and turnkey, formed in line, prepared to lokestep to the broom factory. The men were returned to their cells and quiet restored. They said they did not wish to be contaminated with the presence of ## so foul a monster and believed it was up to them to mete out summary justice.

The state authorities will at once make a vigorous investigation of the penitentiary. Many prisoners have escaped during the last year and there have been many charges of lax methods of management.

RAWLINS, Wyo., Oct. 2.—Convicts at the Wyoming state penitentiary today lynched Frank Wigfall, a negro and ex-convict, who last night was put in the state institution for safe keeping. Wigfall was arrested yesterday on a charge of attacking Mrs. Esther Higgins, aged 73, last Sunday.

Wigfall was arrested at Fort Steele, fifteen miles from here. Wigfall was placed in a cell on the third floor. This morning, as the other convicts passed, Wigfall's cell on their way to breakfast, the negro laughed and boasted about his deed. This incensed the prisoners, who quietly perfected their plans for vengeance.

After breakfast, with 150 convicts in the prison yard, about half of them started for the cell house. They overpowered the keeper, who at the time was locking the negro into another cell, and changed the keeper in a cell.

One of the convicts produced a rope, which he had secreted under his coat. A half hitch was placed around the negro's neck and he was dropped from the cell house balcony, a distance of thirty feet. The force of the fall broke Wigfall's back.

The time consumed in the lynching was less than five minutes and so quietly did the prisoners work that none but the cell house keeper who was overpowered, knew what was happening. The lynchers then returned to their work.

Many Lincoln People Come to See the King

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Oct. 2.—(Special Telegram.)—Over 1,000 Lincoln people left this morning for the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities at Omaha and two special trains took others this evening, with the regular trains loaded to the doors, has made Lincoln look depopulated. Most of the visitors were flying a ribbon marked "Lincoln."

Political Carnival Closes at Harvard

(Special Telegram.)

HARVARD, Neb., Oct. 2.—(Special Telegram.)—Congressman George W. Norris of McCook and ex-Governor A. C. Shallenbarger from Alma, met on the political chautauqua platform at Harvard this evening. Each speaker gave a strong and forcible talk. This chautauqua effort for a free discussion of the political issues for all parties has aroused much interest and been a success. The concluding session was held with R. L. Metcalf, George L. McNutt and Dr. Carter, as speakers each for his respective party.

TABOR TEACHER HOME FROM THE PHILIPPINES

(Special.)

TABOR, Ia., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Q. C. Todd entertained a small company of young people in honor of their son, Lester Todd, Tabor college, 1918, who recently returned from the Philippine Islands. Mr. Todd has for the last two years been the supervisor of schools in a district on the island of Samar, with headquarters at Laeang. This island has a population of about 600,000, and the district of which Mr. Todd was supervisor is about the size of one of our largest counties, and has a population of about 40,000.

Mr. Todd's work as supervisor consisted in visiting the various schools overseeing the instruction and directing the purchase of equipment. The greater part of the funds for this is furnished by the United States government, the natives of the district furnishing little toward the support of their schools. During the summer the American teachers hold a school, in which they instruct the native teachers.

He speaks most enthusiastically of the climate--says that it far exceeds that of China and other neighboring countries. On his return trip he spent a week in Japan, several days in China, visiting four of its large cities.

Mr. Todd left Tabor on Monday for Ann Arbor, Mich., where he will take the medical course in the university at that place. He plans to return to the Philippine Islands after completing this study.

Barn Burned Near Table Rock.

(Special.)

The fine barn on the farm of Frank Warner, five miles south of town, was discovered to be on fire yesterday afternoon, and burned to the ground. Three horses in the barn at the time were burned to death. The origin of the fire is unknown, but thought to have been from spontaneous combustion.

Major Wells Hawks, who was on General Stone's staff, told this story:

In the early days one of the Pilgrim Fathers was going out in the woods, carrying a gun. He met a man who said, "Where are you going?" "Out in the woods." "Why do you carry your gun?" "I might meet an Indian." "I thought you were a Calvinist." "I am a Calvinist." "Don't you believe you can't die till your time comes?" "I know I can't die till my time comes." "Then, why carry a gun?" "Because I might meet an Indian whose time had come."
