THE SOCIETY OF THE BEE-HIVE

By MELLIFICIA. Wednesday, October 9, 1912. DEBUTANTE plans continue to be of prime interest. Three prospective debutantes announced last week their coming-out parties for November. Now comes the announcement that two young women will be introduced at social entertainments early in December. Mrs. R. L. Carter will entertain at two afternoon teas, Tuesday December 10 and Wednesday, December 11; to introduce her daughter, Miss Alice Carter. Miss Carter has been attending school in Boston and returned home this summer, after spending two years in the east. Miss Mary Burkley, another attractive young debutante will probably be introduced at an evening coffee given at her home the first week in December, but the date has not been definitely decided. Miss Mary Burkley will be one of the attendants at the wedding of her sister, Miss Agnes Burkley, and Mr. MacMillan Harding, next Wednesday evening. The debutantes are having a strenuous time attending social affairs even before their formal debuts. Many of the young women are planning to attend two or three affairs today, and the rest of the week seems to be equally busy. The affairs for members of the younger set today included a lecture given by Miss Rose Smyth, a bridge party by Miss Alice Carter, a luncheon by Mrs. Daniel Baum, Jr., for Miss Rider of Dubuque, and a luncheon by Mrs. Barton Millard, and bridge by Mrs. C. W. Turner in honor of Miss Cudahy and Miss Peabody of Chicago.

TREATS TO KILL CONSTABLE

Justice of Peace Tells of Hearing the Threats Made. CONFLICT OVER PRONUNCIATION Barker Fails to Identify Puglisi as the Man Who Did the Killing, Although Says Name is Somewhat Similar. Warning that there would be a killing if any attempt should be made to replevin Sebastiano Puglisi's furniture was given to Justice of the Peace Barker ten days before Puglisi shot and killed Constable John A. Woods, according to testimony given by Justice Barker at Puglisi's trial for murder before Judge Sutton in the criminal division of the district court. Judge Barker's testimony was not specific and he could not identify Puglisi as the man who gave him the warning. His testimony and an alleged attempt of County Attorney English to bolster it resulted in a sharp tilt between the county attorney and J. C. Kinisler, of counsel for the defense. Justice Barker said that some Italian called at his office and in broken English said some one would be killed if there should be an attempt to replevin Puglisi's furniture on account of his having failed to meet his payments. The justice was not certain as to the name used, but said it sounded something like the word "pugilist". Mr. Kinisler objected to the testimony as immaterial. He said it was apparent the reference was not to this defendant because his name was pronounced in Italian does not sound like the word "pugilist", but like the word "police". The Italian pronunciation is as if the name were spelled "pu-lee-see", with the accent on the second syllable. He said the justice must have read something about Puglisi in some newspaper and have confused it with some other incident regarding threats over a replevin suit. His Own Pronunciation. In his examination of other witnesses Mr. English pronounced the defendant's name "Pugilist". Finally Kinisler rose and objected, declaring Mr. English deliberately was mispronouncing the name in order to make it conform to Justice Barker's testimony. A lively interchange between English and Kinisler followed. Mr. English said he was doing his best to pronounce the name correctly, but his knowledge of Italian was not so great as Mr. Kinisler's. Rosa Rosso, Maria Vadres and other women who witnessed the struggle between Puglisi and Woods testified that after angry words Woods laid hands on his slayer, and the latter then started to fight back. DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

A pure, healthful, Cream of Tartar Baking Powder

When buying an article of food you are entitled to know exactly what you are buying—its quality and ingredients. If this information is refused don't buy it. Some of the low grade baking powders are advertised, but the ingredients of the powders are scrupulously concealed. A housekeeper would not use a baking powder containing alum if she knew it.

It is well when buying to examine the label on the can. Unless it shows the ingredient cream of tartar, don't buy it. Dr. Price's baking powder is absolutely free from alum.

No Canal Franchise in Sight This Election

From outward appearances the Platte river power canal scheme seems to be hanging fire. At any rate no steps have been taken toward submitting the proposed franchise for the distribution of the electrical current, and the time has now passed for getting it before the voters at the coming November election. The city charter requires all franchise ordinances to be published for two weeks prior to their enactment, and an election proclamation by the mayor must call voter's attention to questions submitted not less than ten days before the election. Several bond propositions have already been perfected for submission, but nothing in the way of a franchise.

The health of both herself and the coming child depends largely upon the care she bestows upon herself during the waiting months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant mother's system for the coming event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the term. It works with and for nature, and by gradually expanding all tissues, muscles and tendons, involved, and keeping the breasts in good condition, brings the woman to the crisis in splendid physical condition. The baby, too, is more apt to be perfect and strong where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function.
