

RYDER TELLS CITY'S NEEDS

Police Commissioner Advocates Reforms Before Noonday Club.

ALBERT LAW IS UNCHRISTIAN

Playgrounds and Workhouse Are Needed—Says Commission Form of Government is Not Getting a Good Trial.

Speaking before the Noonday club at a luncheon J. J. Ryder, police and sanitary commissioner, pointed out some of the things that in his judgment Omaha must have in order to be an up-to-date city.

Mr. Ryder characterized the Albert law as positively unchristian. "Before such a law is put on the statute books," he continued, "there ought to be a way provided to take care of the wild game you are hunting. We still have them on our hands. You can't chloroform them. You can't throw them into the river. No one will hire them. In one or two instances I have secured jobs for such women and after they worked for a few days they lost their jobs because someone recognized them."

To Much Red Tape. Mr. Ryder also said that the commission form of government had not really been given a fair trial in Omaha, because it was tied up with the old form of city charter. He said there was too much red tape connected with getting anything done. He gave instances of little repairs costing not more than $100 that were needed on public buildings in Omaha that had been damaged by storm. Instead of letting the commissioner go ahead and have the work done, it was necessary to open the matter to bids for time, and resulted in getting the work done no cheaper nor better than if it had been done at once in accordance with the judgment of the commissioner having that in charge.

Mr. Ryder would have a workhouse for the city where he would make prisoners work instead of "loafing in the jails as they do now." "Why should Omaha support big, able-bodied men in the jail while the cities make them work?" he asked. In advocating public playgrounds he said, "We must have playgrounds where the children are allowed to pursue wholesome play, where they are taught discipline. I believe it is the place to lay the groundwork of good citizenship. We want a place where we can shorten the crop of shipwrecks. Instead of providing for a place to take care of the shipwrecks after they are made."

Appraiser Values Brandeis' Estate at $1,043,922.02

Appraiser's estimate of the value of the estate of the late Emil Brandeis filed today gave the total value of the estate at $1,043,922.02.

Victor Rosewater, an appraiser, makes the value conform to the inventory, previously filed, except as to two items. Common stock in the American Realty company listed at $50,000 has no value at present. The appraiser's report agrees with the inventory in valuing American Realty company preferred stock at $50,000. The inventory lists stock in J. L. Brandeis & Sons Co. at $123,332.32, while the appraiser fixes the value at $271,532.32.

The inheritance tax computed on the basis of the appraiser's report will be between $5,000 and $10,000.

Haines Dies of His Injuries at Noon

Alve M. Haines, manager of the Great Western pharmacy, 739 South Sixteenth street, who was injured in company with his brother-in-law, Eckill Kronholm, when their motorcycle which they were riding was struck by a Union Pacific passenger train near Lane Cutoff Sunday morning, died of his injuries at St. Joseph's hospital yesterday at 12:30. Kronholm is still in a very serious condition and little hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Crusade to Start Against Cut-Outs

Chief of Police Dunn will detail a motorcycle cop to chase and arrest automobile drivers who run their machines with the muffler cut out. There is an ordinance against open mufflers and residents of sections of the city where autoists cut out the mufflers on the up-hill climb complain of the noise. Chief Dunn will see that the ordinance is strictly enforced.

BAR ASSOCIATION WILL DISCUSS WORKMEN'S LAWS

Protect Your Children's Eyes

THE greatest desire of parents is to see their children well nourished, strong and healthy—physically well equipped to make a success of life.

Yet, how many parents are there who endeavor to protect that most important sense of all—the eyesight of their children by providing the most suitable light for the study hours?

Modern methods of schooling and the necessity for completing their primary education at an early age imposes a severe tax on the eyes during the growing period of life. In many cases this strain weakens the eyes, or results in loss of sight simply because the little ones are compelled to study under a poor or improper light.

Edison Mazda Lamps now afford the most suitable electric light to study by as well as for general home use, and furnish it at minimum cost.

Give your children the benefit of this light. We will be glad to advise you as to the most beneficial way to use Edison Mazda Lamps.
