FIGHT CLEMENCY FOR CONVICT

Omaha Men Enter Objection to Parole for Joseph Trimble.

STUDENTS RIOT AT CARNIVAL

Engage in Battle at Eagles' Festival When Free-for-All Battle Results—Shelton National Becomes State Bank.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Joseph Trimble, who was sent from Douglas county to serve a term in the penitentiary for assault to rob a druggist at Twenty-fourth and Burdette streets, and whom it was reported yesterday had been recommended for a pardon by the prison board of pardons, will not be pardoned or paroled as stated without an investigation being made and the matter first taken up with the Omaha authorities.

Trimble was a 39-year-old lad at the time the crime was committed and was one of a crowd of young men who were held responsible for it. While no weapons were found on him at the time, it is understood by the board that the man who fired the fatal shot used a revolver belonging to Trimble. There is so much opposition from Omaha, to the pardon or parole of the young man that the board will investigate the matter very thoroughly and also consult with the attorney of Douglas county before any action is taken.

Trimble and several other members of what was known as the "boy bandits" entered the store of Reuben Elton, the druggist, in January, 1911. One of them, now Trimble, shot him. He recovered but died six months later. His wife, who now conducts the store, will oppose Trimble's release.

The board of pardons was hailed over the coals by a local democratic paper last night for paroling Convict Sweet, who was sentenced to the penitentiary from Holt county for a term of fifteen years for attempted assault. A member of the board this morning stated that Sweet had served nine and one-half years of the fifteen-year sentence and had been in the penitentiary during that time. "He has not received a single black mark during his entire time of service and has been one of the most trusted members of the prison inmates," said the board member. The application made by Sweet was for a pardon, but the board recommended a parole instead. At the time of his sentence the jury recommended clemency, but the judge in his instruction, so it is said, set forth that the best way to punish crime was to give the offender the limit. "Many letters from prominent men were received," said the board member, "asking for Sweet's pardon, one of them being from Dan V. Stevens, democratic congressman from the Third district."

ALDRICH AND PARTY GIVEN CHEERS BY NORMAL BOYS

WAYNE, Neb., Oct. 10.—(Special Telegram.)—Governor Aldrich and party were escorted into Wayne at 11 a. m. by about fifty automobiles filled with friends and boosters for the governor on his trip through northeast Nebraska. The larger part of these automobiles were from Randolph, where plans were made to accompany him on his two days' trip. At Wayne the party was greeted by State Normal students, who gave yells and three cheers for Aldrich. The boys were liberal and also cheered for Wilson, Taft and Roosevelt. Superintendent Deibel, State Treasurer George and C. W. Taylor, candidate for railway commissioner, made short talks and then Governor Aldrich was introduced. He paid a glowing tribute to the schools of the state, declaring that the best solution for educational problems was to keep our schools in a condition of high efficiency. The governor then discussed state issues entirely, with no reference to the national situation.

SHELTON BANKER GOES TO THE FEDERAL PRISON

LINCOLN, Oct. 10.—(Special.)—E. M. Spicer, under five-year sentence in the federal prison at Leavenworth for defalcation of funds of the Bank of Shelton was taken to prison yesterday. No one is loser by the operations of Mr. Spicer, as the bank stock was taken over three days after the shortage was discovered at $100 a share. The money taken by Spicer was used in building a new bank building and in buying stocks in the same bank, so stockholders were no loser by the work of Mr. Spicer. His many friends expect to apply for a pardon as soon as the proper time comes. The statement that his father was a heavy loser is erroneous.

Book Agent Scheme Blocked by a Woman

CLAY CENTER, Neb., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Monday five smooth book agents selling "Progress of Nations" landed at Fairfield. Their scheme was to visit rural schools, ask permission to make an educational talk, get the children enthused over the books and their promise to pay for the same with box socials and spelling bees. Then if the teacher could be persuaded she was to sign a contract which proved to be a note binding her for $33.30.

As soon as County Superintendent Lathrop heard of the scheme she at once began to notify teachers by telephone not to invest. However, a large part of the country has been covered and some teachers had been caught in the trap. The books are in no way suitable for rural schools.
