BOSTON, Oct. 15.—New York Nationals administered a crushing defeat to the Boston Americans today by 11 to 4 in the seventh game of the world's series. Tonight finds the Giants and the Red Sox waiting to engage in the final combat here tomorrow, that will determine which team shall be the world's champions of 1912.

The series now stands: Boston, three games won; New York, three games won and one to contest a tie.

"Smoky Joe" wood, the red Sox star twirler, who had already beaten the Giants twice, this series, was sent out to pitch the Red Sox into the world's championship. His end was so swift and so sudden that the 20,000 spectators sat in silence at Fenway park as they saw his delivery batted to all parts of the field, and six Giant players were over the home plate before the last New Yorker was put out in the first inning.

Red Sox Fall to Revive. The Red Sox never recovered from that first inning and though they peppered away fitfully at Tesreau's moist ball, they never came within threatening distance of the Giants. Manager McGraw, in the coach's box, down off third base, directed the attack on Wood. He gave orders to hit the first ball pitched and with few exceptions all of the nine men who batted in the first inning, rapped the first ball sent up. This shower of hits, combined with a double steal, paved the way to New York's six runs. Thereafter Wood was a broken reed and Charlie Hall, Boston's relief pitcher, was sent to the mound.

Some of the Giant players seemed to think Wood had broken under the strain of his two earlier games. His curve ball had little break to it and the Giants had no trouble hitting his fast ones.

The Red Sox have Hugh Bedient ready to go on the firing line for the deciding game tomorrow, with Wood prepared to go to his assistance, while the Giants will depend on Mathewson, with Marquard held in reserve.

Tesreau held the whip hand throughout today's game. His moist ball broke sharply over the plate and the Red Sox were unable toathom his delivery when his wood have scored runs. Twelve red-legged players were left anchored on the bases.

Although New York had a commanding lead throughout the game, McGraw kept Mathewson warmed up to relieve Tesreau in case he weakened.

TAFT SENDS HIS SYMPATHY

President Expresses Horror Over the Shooting of Col. Roosevelt.

HOPES FOR SPEEDY RECOVERY

Attempted Murder by Schrenk is Decried by the Chief Executive of Nation as a Dastardly Act.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—President Taft issued a statement on board the Mayflower this afternoon relating to the shooting of Colonel Roosevelt: "I cannot withhold an expression of horror," he said, "at the act of the maniac who attempted to assassinate Colonel Roosevelt."

"When I briefly expressed my regret last night," the president's statement continued, "I had been informed that Colonel Roosevelt was then speaking and had escaped injury. The news this morning, however, is of a more serious character. I feel the deepest sympathy for Mr. Roosevelt and his family and I pray that the wound may prove to be only a flesh wound and that, as the surgeons predict, there may be no complications."

The assault following the shooting of Mayor Gaynor two years ago, and the assassination of three, out of the last nine presidents elected by our people, are events which must cause solemn reflection by all Americans upon conditions which make it possible that such dastardly deeds may occur in a country affording its citizens such complete advantages of civil liberty.

"It is, of course, difficult entirely to avoid the malignant purpose of the insane. The severe enforcement of the laws against the carrying of concealed weapons and the more rigorous and certain prosecution of all such attempted crimes are, of course, helpful, but the condemnation of all good citizens of such acts will be more effective."

"I speak for the American people in expressing the profound hopes that Colonel Roosevelt may speedily recover from the effects of this dastardly act."

Mr. Taft sent messages to Colonel Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt, respectively, as follows: "I am greatly shocked to hear of the outrageous and deplorable assault made upon you and earnestly hope and pray that your recovery may be speedy and without suffering."

"(Signed) W. H. TAFT." "I extend to you my heartfelt sympathy in your present distress. I earnestly hope and pray that you and your family and the country may be promptly relieved of suspense by news that all danger is passed."

"(Signed) W. H. TAFT." Prayer for Roosevelt's Recovery. NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Progressive State Chairman Hotchkiss today announced that he had requested all his party county chairmen by telegraph to open their meetings hereafter with prayers for Colonel Roosevelt's recovery. He added that he would seek to make this a national movement.

Wilson Extends Sympathy. TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 15.—Governor Woodrow Wilson sent the following telegram to Colonel Roosevelt today: "Please accept my warmest sympathy and heartfelt congratulations that your wound is not serious."

Johnson Says He's a Fighter. CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 15.—"He's a fighter and he's unafraid. Regardless of what they may do he will carry on his crusade as long as he is able." Thus spoke Governor Johnson, Colonel Roosevelt's running mate on the progressive ticket today.

Fairbanks Expresses Regret. BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Oct. 15.—"The news is a shock to me. I regret it very deeply. All good Americans, whether they differ or agree with Colonel Roosevelt, will condemn such a deed." said former Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks today.

Champ Clark Expresses Sorrow. ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Oct. 15.—Speaker Champ Clark telegraphed today as follows: "Awfully sorry that you were shot. Glad no worse. Hope for your speedy recovery."

Johnson and Miller Send Word. CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Among many telegrams sent to Colonel Roosevelt were ones from Governor Johnson of California, now campaigning in Ohio, and one from Burt A. Miller, a nephew of President McKinley, Governor Johnson's telegram read:

"TOLEDO, Oct. 15.—We all rejoice at your providential escape. May God be with you always, as He was last night." Mr. Miller telegraphed from Cleveland: "You have been wounded in the same battle for humanity in which my uncle, William McKinley, lost his life. May you live to carry forward this righteous war."

Affects Voting Machines. It is shown that under section 125-r, chapter 26 of the Compiled Statutes of Nebraska, 1911, page 943, that in the use of voting machines the names of the candidates for presidential electors need not appear on the ballot labels, but in lieu thereof one ballot in each party column or row may contain only the words, "presidential electors," preceded by the party name and the names of the candidates for president and vice president, and every voter registered for such ballot shall operate as a vote for all candidates of such party for presidential electors and be counted as such. Attention is then drawn to the fact that under the provision of this section of the law the name of W. H. Taft may be put on the ballot preceded by the name "Republican party" and that the declared purpose of the six electors nominated on the regular ticket, to vote for the nominees of the progressive party ticket for president and vice president would be and is in violation of the provision of the statute laws, while to permit their names to appear on the republican ticket and be so voted for as provided in the statute quoted would result in the violation of and in the nullification of the said statutory provision of the election law of the state of Nebraska, and, therefore, would be unlawful and unconstitutional.

PAINTERS HAVE BAD FALL, BUT ARE NOT INJURED

Fred Hicks, 1918 Cass street and Ben Grady, 621, South Seventeenth, painters, while working on a tall building at Fifteenth and Leavenworth streets, were the victims of a peculiar accident. The two men were on a scaffold suspended by ropes about forty feet from the ground, when suddenly one of the ropes gave way and the painters dropped to the ground. A small pile of rubbish covering the pavement directly upon the spot where they fell, served as a shock absorber and served its purpose so well that neither man even so much as received a bruise. After they became fully aware that they were neither killed, maimed or wounded, the occupants patched up their treacherous perch and once again resumed their chosen occupation.

COURT ASKED TO PUT REPUBLICANS' NAMES ON BALLOT STRAIGHT

Writ of Mandamus Sought to Direct Secretary of State to Give Republicans Title.

APPLICATION TO BE MADE TODAY

Petition All Ready to Go to Lancaster District Court.

BASIS OF ACTION IS CLEAR

Wait Without Right to Act as He Has in Matter.

RIGHT OF VOTERS IN DANGER

Unless Writ is Granted Bull Moose Candidates Will be Presented as Republicans at Coming Election.

Application for a writ of mandamus will be filed in the district court of Lancaster county this morning, praying that Secretary of State Wait be commanded to place the names of the six Taft electors on the ballot for the fall election in place of the bull moose electors who seek places under the republican designation.

John L. Webster has just completed the papers. They are signed by John L. Webster, Norris Brown, A. W. Jefferts, Aaron Wall and Amos Thomas, attorneys for the relators.

The six candidates for electors the relators seek to have placed on the ballot are: C. F. Reavis, Falls City, First district; George D. Smith, Norfolk, Third district; W. H. Kilpatrick, Beatrice, Fourth district; Q. A. Abbott, Grand Island, Fifth district; electors-at-large, Daniel B. Jenckes, Chadron, and Vac Buresh, Omaha.

It is asked that these be placed on the ticket as republican electors in place of A. V. Pease, W. J. Broatch, George S. Flory, W. E. Thorne, A. R. Davis and Allen Johnson, who it is alleged, have forfeited their right to appear on the ballot as republicans, by reason of which six vacancies exist.

Selected According to Law. The six names sought to be put on the ballot are those selected and nominated by the republican state central committee, September 24, 1912. On October 3, the republican committee presented to Secretary of State Wait an application and certificate of nomination of the six men the committee had chosen for the places and asked that they be placed on the ballot to fill the vacancies. This the secretary of state refused to do.

The application for mandamus sets forth that the progressive party has put in nomination for electors A. V. Pease, W. J. Broatch, George S. Flory, W. E. Thorne, A. R. Davis and Allen Johnson, and has filed their names with the secretary of state. It also represents that Secretary of State Wait ruled that the progressives had a right to nominate these men on their ticket, and that he would put them on the ballot. It is set forth that these men accepted the nomination of the progressives and expect to be candidates on the progressive ticket in opposition to the national republican party of the United States and of the state of Nebraska, and that for this reason, Wait is without authority to put them on the ballot as "republicans," but that he is legally and in duty bound to cause to be put on the ballot the names of the six electors nominated by the republican state central committee.

It is set out that under the constitution of the United States and constitution and laws of Nebraska, the electors of the state have a constitutional right to nominate and to have nominated and have put on the ballot the names of eight persons as republican presidential electors; and they have the constitutional right to exercise the privilege of voting for eight republican presidential electors under the name of republican electors of the state of Nebraska and the republican voters of the state have a right to exercise the privilege of voting for eight republican presidential electors, who shall be persons who recognize their obligation to vote for the nominee of the national republican party for president and vice president; and that any statute, rule, law, or regulation which deprives the people of their constitutional right to vote for such electors is unconstitutional, null and void.

It is also alleged that Secretary of State Wait is without jurisdiction, power, or authority to refuse to put upon the ballot the names of the six electors chosen by the state committee as no objection has ever been filed to the certificate of their nomination.

Presbyterians Endorse Work Among Foreign Born

Fifteen ministers and elders of Omaha Presbyterian churches have tentatively endorsed the proposition of throwing their churches' local strength to the Home Mission board's foreign-work promotion plan in South Omaha.

This is the net result thus far of a visit to the city of W. P. Shriver, representing the board in New York. November 19 has been fixed as the date for a conference of the men to complete their plans of co-operation. This meeting will be held during home mission week in Omaha.

The first step to be taken, as suggested by Mr. Shriver, will be the physical renovation of the South Omaha Bohemian church building. The initial effort will be directed among the Slavic people, a pastor for whom has been secured in Rev. E. J. Kallina, himself a Bohemian. This enterprise is promoted by the reorganized church extension committee of the Home Mission board, New York.

SAM SCHEPPS ON THE STAND

New York Gambler Tells of the Murder of Rosenthal.

TELLS OF DIVISION OF MONEY

In the Murder Car with Rose, Vallon and the Gang that Went to the Gambling Rooms of Webber.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Dapper little Sam Schepps, gambler and underworld hanger-on, who District Attorney Whitman's men seized at Hot Springs, Ark., took the witness stand at the trial of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker today. Rose and Webber having given their coinciding versions of the alleged plot to slay Herman Rosenthal, the prosecutor hoped to get further corroboration from Schepps.

Schepps told of knowing Jack Rose and former Lieutenant Becker and of carrying messages between the two. He said he was at the meeting at Dora Gilbert's house when Rosenthal's former wife made the affidavit, "backing the gambler's character."

Schepps also told of getting into the murder car at Fourteenth street with Rose and Harry Vallon, of picking up "Dago Frank" and their driving to Webber's poker rooms. Sam Paul, "Whitely" Lewis, "Lefty Louis" and "Gyp the Blood" were waiting on the street. All went up into the poker rooms, Schepps said, and sat down at a table.

"Bridgie Webber," he continued, "went out and returned with the message that Rosenthal was at the Metropole. "Lefty" "Gyp," "Whitely" and "Dago Frank" went out then."

Schepps said he went out later and about 1:30 that morning, half an hour before the murder, he saw Lieutenant Becker driving in an automobile on Forty-second street. After the murder he met Harry Vallon at the Elks' club. Then he went to the apartment of the gun men. Schepps then described the payment of the gunman the day of the murder, Webber giving the money to Rose, who handed it to "Lefty Louis."

Moose Sentiment is Growing Scarce

"The bull moose sentiment is practically cleared out of the territory along the Elkhorn valley," said F. L. Putney of Tilden, at republican state headquarters. Mr. Putney was making arrangements for some Taft speakers for Tilden. "I have talked with many men from the various towns along the Northwestern line up and down the valley. They tell me that the bull moose sentiment is getting scarce. Several have told me that in their towns there were only one or, perhaps, two moosers. So far as Madison county is concerned, the regular republicans have control of the county organization here and the moosers have no county organization. They are sending out some literature, but this is all being done quietly and they have no county committee."

Mr. Putney says the republicans refused to allow the lithograph of Governor Aldrich to be placed in their office in Tilden and that the people of Tilden in general refused to allow it to be placed in their show windows as that of a candidate for re-election.

Battleships Pass in Review Before President Taft

Would-Be Assassin Charged with Shooting with Intent to Kill.

WAIVES PRELIMINARY HEARING

Placed Under Bonds and Date for Trial is Set for the Regular Term, to be Held Next Month.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 15.—John Schrenk, Colonel Roosevelt's assailant, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempted murder when given a preliminary arraignment before Judge Neelan in the district court today.

Schrenk was taken to determine if the $5,000 bail date was set for the November term.

This action was taken on recommendation of District Attorney Zabel, who issued a warrant charging Schrenk with shooting Colonel Roosevelt with intent to kill. Judge Neelan of the district court immediately after the arraignment of Schrenk ordered the head of the chemical department of Marquette university to make a chemical test of bullets remaining in the would-be slayer's revolver.

Judge Neelan announced that this action was taken to determine if the $5,000 bail date was set for the November term.

The judge said he was prompted by memories of the bullet which killed President McKinley and also by a personal desire to give the surgeons at Chicago every possible aid in treating Colonel Roosevelt's wound.

Schrenk looked little the worse for a night spent in a cell at the Central station.

Schrenk Talks Rationally. Oh, pretty well, considering everything," he answered. He appeared unperturbed over the probable consequences of the shooting. He talked rationally. He said he usually voted the democratic ticket, but that sometimes he voted as a republican.

The district attorney was ordered to issue a warrant charging Schrenk with assault with intent to kill.

It was learned from Schrenk that his sweetheart, whom he called Emily Zeigler, lost her life in the destruction by fire of the steamship General Steuerman in New York harbor several years ago. He never married, he says.

Schrenk is a curious study. His hands are small and well formed and smooth, as though unused to toil. He talks fluently at times, using excellent English, but often stopping abruptly and refusing to say another word until his changing mood made him talkative once more. His appearance is that of an intelligent man, and his large, clear eyes, which he held steadily upon his inquisitors, did not seem like those of most men who are insane.

The police believe, however, that Schrenk is afflicted with some mental disorder. Whatever his state of mind, it was apparent to all who saw him that John Schrenk was thoroughly in earnest that he felt that it was a matter of high duty for him to kill Theodore Roosevelt.

"I will fix bail at $5,000, the maximum under the charge upon which the prisoner has been arraigned," said Judge Nolan. Schrenk was returned to the police station.

Mrs. Roosevelt on the Way to Chicago

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., Miss Ethel Roosevelt and Dr. Alexander Lambert, the family physician, left for Chicago on the Twentieth Century Limited this afternoon. On the same train were George C. Priestly, chairman of the finance committee of the progressive party, and Richard R. Quay of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Lambert explained that he was going at the request of Mrs. Roosevelt.

All Speaking Dates Canceled, with Possible Exception of One in New York—Messages of Sympathy Pour In.

MERCY HOSPITAL, CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Colonel Roosevelt was resting quietly tonight, but the doctors attending him said that the bullet fired into his breast yesterday in Milwaukee by John Schrenk had inflicted more than a flesh wound and that the patient would have to be absolutely quiet for several days. It was decided not to probe for or remove the bullet at present.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Colonel Roosevelt's condition was found improved at 6:25 tonight when the physicians made their final examination of his wound. As a precautionary measure tetanus antitoxin was administered in the medium dose and he was told he might eat what he desired. His breathing ceased, him less pain after his restful day.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Colonel Roosevelt's wound is not a mere flesh wound, but is a serious wound in the chest, said a bulletin issued this afternoon by physicians at Mercy hospital.

The statement was made in the form of a bulletin which was issued by the doctors after a later examination of the wound.

At 1:30 this afternoon the following bulletin was issued by physicians at the Mercy hospital: "The examination of Colonel Roosevelt at 1 p. m. showed that his temperature was 98.5; his pulse 82, his respiration normal. It pains him to breathe. He must have absolute quiet; must cease from talking and must not see any one until we give permission."

"This is not a mere flesh wound, but is a serious wound in the chest, and quietude is essential. Signed, 'J. B. MURPHY, 'ARTHUR DEAN BEVAN, 'S. L. TERRELL."

Sits Up and Reads. Sitting up in his bed and taking tea and toast, Colonel Roosevelt this afternoon read a volume of essays. He expressed regret that his managers had decided to have him give up the rest of his campaign trip. This was the word brought out by Medill McCormick as he left the colonel's room in the hospital.</
