COTTON CORNER CASE TRIED

Bullitt, for Government, Admits the Indictments Are Defective.

Prosecution.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.-Admissions of defects in the indictment of James Patten, Eugene Scales, Frank B. Hayne and William P. Brown, on charges of conspiracy to run a $10,000,000 corner on cotton in 1919 on the New York Cotton exchange in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, were made in the supreme court of the United States today by Solicitor General Bullitt for the government.

The occasion was the second argument over the indictment, the court not being willing to decide last spring the correctness of the decision of the New York federal court in quashing several vital counts in the indictment.

The new solicitor general had barely stated to the court that the question in the case was the decision of the lower court that the Sherman anti-trust law did not prohibit the running of a corner before Chief Justice White suggested that he would be pleased to have the government at some time define just what it meant by a corner.

Mr. Bullitt responded it was a combination among dealers in a commodity or outside capitalists for the purpose of buying up the greater portion of the commodity and holding it back from sale until the demand so far outran the limited supply as to advance the price abnormally.

"Now I want you to show how the indictment fits that definition," added the chief flustice.

Admits'a Defect. led the solicitor general to announce that he abandoned the third indictment of the count because the lower court found there was no charge in it that the defendants were to hold back the cotton from sale and consequently no corner charged

"Getting right down to brass tacks," declared Bullitt, "I frankly admit that the other count, the seventh, has one defect. There is no express statement in it that the combination was created to withhold from the market the cotton bought."

The solicitor general said that in deal ing with this defect the government advanced two arguments. One was that charge the running of a corner and the but accept that interpretation, notwithstanding it might have the duty to examine the interpretation if there was a conviction and an appeal.

The second argument, Bullitt said, was that the government had used the word corner in the count and everybody in the world knew that a corner in cluded a withholding from sale.

Justice Vandevanter suggested that the man who drafted the indictment did not have that in mind, perhaps, for immediately after the word corner, he had defined the term, without including a charge of withholding from sale.

Finally Bullitt admitted that if nei one of these arguments was acceptable the government had no case. Former Senator John C. Spooner will OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR be heard tomorrow in defense of the Housework Drudgery!

Housework is drudgery for the weak woman. She brushes, dusts and scrubs, or is on her feet all day attending to the many details of the household, her back aching, her temples throbbing, nerves quivering under the stress of pain, possibly dizzy feelings. Sometimes rest in bed is not refreshing, because the poor tired nerves do not permit of refreshing sleep. The real need of weak, nervous women is satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and as Mrs. Briggs and others testify :
