PROFITABLE

We have a high-class 40-acre fruit farm adjoining the city limits of Council Bluffs which the owner during the past eight years has been developing up to the highest point of production. It has been a big success and the owner can now retire and live upon the money he has been able to accumulate.

Why spend years of your life, as he has done, in developing such a property when you can buy one already producing a fine income and at a price which experts claim is considerably less than its value? This farm is offered at $15,000; one-third cash, balance in annual payments; or the owner might be willing to take some nice, clean income property, but it would have to be gitt-edged. It interested, call and see a plat of the farm and get a detailed description, or, better still, go with us and look it over carefully.
