COLUMBUS DAY IS CELEBRATED HERE

Italian Circles in America Observing Anniversary of Explorer Who Discovered America.

PARADE THE LOCAL STREETS

Omahans Who Are Natives of Same Country as Famous Discoverer of Western Hemisphere Join in Long Procession.

Monday was a big day in Italian circles in America. It was the anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus 423 years ago. While it was a legal holiday in America, the Italian-Americans made it a day of special celebration in honor of the great achievement of the discovery of a new hemisphere by the great explorer, who was himself an Italian.

A great Italian parade, in which thousands of Omaha Italians took part, traversed the principal business streets of Omaha in the afternoon. With a few hundred horsemen, several hundred automobiles, delegations of all the Italian societies and lodges and five bands the parade made a splendid showing.

Starting at Sixteenth and Nicholas streets at 2 o'clock the parade passed south to Douglas, east to Eleventh, south to Farnam, west to Nineteenth, south to Harney, east to Eleventh, south to Mason, west to Thirtieth, and thence south to Metz hall, where Mayor Dahman, L. J. Platt, Joe Seato and others addressed the crowd.

Two Flags Intertwined. Italian and American flags were intertwined and everywhere they flew in the wind in abundance and profusion. Joe Calebra was marshal of the parade. Three beautiful floats, representing three features of Columbus' expedition lent charm to the parade.

The first of the floats represented Columbus before Queen Isabella of Spain in his plea for funds with which to make what seemed a foolhardy voyage into the unknown wilds of the Atlantic in quest of a direct route to India. Queen Isabella was seen in the float pledging her jewels to the raising of money for the voyage which King Ferdinand was loath to finance.

The next float showed the Santa Maria at the landing on American shores after a perilous voyage of many weeks. It showed Columbus and his sailors stepping out of the trusty hull upon the welcome shores of the island.

Represent Return to Spain. The third float represented the return to Spain. Again the great sailor and explorer is before the king and queen, making his report of his voyage and what he has discovered.

Leading the parade came the marshal and his aides, a cavalcade of horsemen, a band and representatives of the Christopher Columbus society, another band and the Dalceniso All Etna society, a band and the Italian Benevolent association, followed by another band, the Humpert Lodge of the Modern Brotherhood of America, a band and the Giovanni D'Amelio society. Then followed the train of automobiles with prominent Italians of the city, some more floats, and finally the city and county officials in automobiles.

The day was rounded out with a big ball at Metz hall at 7:30 last evening.

field of observation than that of Poland, Lemberg, in Galicia, is their destination. On saying farewell to the correspondents, Grand Duke Nicholas emphasized the "great utility of the press in expert and worthy hands," but he quickly quenched the rising hopes of his audience by saying:

"I regret that I shall not be able to show you all I should like to, for in this war so specially grandiose, absolute silence regarding military secrets dealing with the plan of campaign is a necessity of success."

The grand duke then informed the correspondents that they were going to Lemberg.

Threats of Austria. According to Italian sources, the Austro-Hungarian government, anticipating Italian participation in the war, made all arrangements to throw into the jails the prominent citizens of Trieste of Italian birth or descent and it is asserted threatens to shoot without trial all persons participating in pro-Italian demonstrations. It is even said that Trieste itself will be bombarded in the event of anything in the nature of an insurrection.

A message from Budapest published in Rome credits the Hungarian government with the intention of granting autonomy to Transylvania, with a view of averting an insurrection in that country.

Militia Preparing to Take Charge of Colorado Situation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Reorganization of the Colorado state militia in order to relieve the federal troops now on duty in the coal strike region there, is being planned by Governor Ammons, according to information reaching President Wilson.

The president said today, however, that he could not tell details of the plan and that nothing definite has been done.

Repeated efforts have been made to have the Colorado mine operators accept the strike settlement already adopted by the miners, but so far the president's attempts have been fruitless.

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 12.—Governor E. M. Ammons today was at Wichita, Kan., attending the International Dry Farming congress. His most recent statement regarding the proposed withdrawal of the federal troops from the strike district was to the effect that the ability of the state to take care of the situation depended upon the sale of $1,000,000 bonds voted by the legislature last May for the payment of the military debt. None of these bonds have been sold. About $400,000 of them, it was stated today, have been exchanged for certificates of indebtedness issued to militiamen and other creditors of the state.

Several new organizations of the national guard recently have been enlisted at Delgado, Hastings, Walsenburg, Forbes and other points in the southern Colorado strike district. It is expected that all of these new organizations, totalling from 500 to 600 men, will have been mustered into service by the end of the week.

President Regards Naco Incident as a Local Difficulty

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Firing across the international border at Naco, Ariz., by American patrol troops and Mexican soldiers was characterized by President Wilson today as a "local difficulty."

Apparently he considered that the incident had no bearing on the general situation in Mexico and was not inclined to attach much importance to it.

NACO, Ariz., Oct. 12.—The Carranza garrison of Naco, Sonora, was again subjected today to shell fire from the guns of Governor Maytorena. The Villista artillery, which threw four shells into American territory yesterday, doing considerable damage, seemed to be better handled today, and the shells fell into the Mexican town.

General Hill, commanding the garrison, again ran trenches parallel to the boundary line to protect his men from the firing of Maytorena's Yaqui Indians, who, during Saturday night and early yesterday, worked around and to the American line and directed their fire on the garrison from this side of the border.

Hill complained that the American border guard had failed to prevent this violation of American neutrality.

TWO MORE GERMAN BOMBS HIT IN PARIS

three persons were killed yesterday and fourteen wounded. At the same time officials adopted measures looking to the prevention of similar acts.

Hirschauer Reads Defense. General Hirschauer was appointed to take charge of the defense of the city. He organized last year the aerial branch of the army service. A number of deputies met at the call of Deputy Denis Cochin, to consider various means of rendering the city more secure from aeroplane attacks.

The creation of aerial squadrons stationed at cardinal points to be always ready to dash after the air craft of the enemy as soon as they should be signalled approaching the city; the arming of fast monoplanes with quick firing guns, and the telephoning of warnings by residents of the capital to the French Aero club, which is now under military control, were among the suggestions discussed.

Bombs Strike Cathedral. News that one of the German bombs yesterday struck the cathedral of Notre Dame, had been communicated to the Vatican. It is reported that the pope exclaimed on getting the message: "Providence has prevented an outrage which would have shocked the world."

Military critics, commenting today on the movement of the armies in the Apennine region, declare it is worthy of note that Apennine, to the east of St. Mihiel, is the route the enemy would take if they sought to withdraw from St. Mihiel in the direction of Lorraine. Their positions in this vicinity mean much to them, it is declared.

HARRY WOODS SHOOTS SELF CAREFULLY PLANNED THE DEED

Secretary of State of Illinois Sends Bullet Through His Brain.

Probable Cause of His Act Was His Extensive Dealings on the Chicago Board of Trade in Grain.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 12.—Secretary of State Harry Wood, one of the democratic candidates at the September primary and former operator on the Chicago Board of Trade, killed himself early yesterday morning. His lifeless body, with a gaping bullet wound in the center of his forehead and a revolver clutched in his right hand, was discovered this morning lying in the tool room in a garage at the rear of his residence.

John J. Coffey, assistant chief clerk of the auditor's office, was placed in charge of the office of the secretary of state by Governor Dunne.

An examination of the accounts of the office was started at once. The last return of fees to the state treasury by Secretary Woods was on June 30, when the total was $70,035 for the quarter. No return has been made for the quarter ending September 30.

Mrs. Woods had become alarmed at her husband's absence from home since 6 o'clock Sunday morning. Going to the garage, she found her husband's keys locked on the inside. A neighbor was called and a door forced, and in the corner of the tool room the body of the secretary of state was found.

No note of explanation was left by Mr. Woods and the only clue which would give a possible indication for a cause of the tragic deed was a bulky bundle of papers, showing extensive dealings in grain through a Chicago brokerage house. There was evidence that the secretary carefully planned the deed. He had taken off his hat and laid it on a bench, but did not remove his eyeglasses. An iron bed had been placed against the door leading into the room, and all the doors were locked.

The vacancy in the secretaryship will be filled by appointment by the governor.

ANTWERP'S FALL QUITE DRAMATIC

ish reinforcements, but events proved that this powerful aid, which would have been sufficient a week earlier, was not sufficient now when a section of the fortifications already had been silenced.

The suburbs began to suffer from the shell fire, but confidence is still general in the city.

October 4.—The German circle of fire lights on the city stern facts have eaten into our confidence. The men on the front stand the grueling punishment without being able to see the enemy, the men in the trenches are fagged out and tormented. At the Malines gates there clamors a great horde of refugees from suburban towns. The crowd for a time was kept back by soldiers. Antwerp's own citizens also are fleeing in terror. The newspapers announce officially that the situation is grave. The bulk of the people have sent about preparations for departure.

October 7.—The newspapers today publish official advice to the people as to their behavior during the bombardment. The city's gas holders have been emptied and the animals in the Zoo have been killed. Men go about the streets killing homeless dogs. The hospitals are being emptied and the staffs of the regiments and most of the consuls are departing. There is hardly a carriage of any kind left in the city. The telegraph offices are closed, the civic guard has been disarmed and the newspapers have ceased publication.

"On the front of the Nethe the line has been abandoned. The partial retirement from the field was followed by the reduction of several forts. Fort Broeckhain was the last of the southern forts to go.

Artillery Outmanned. The German artillery has pushed forward. A Belgian staff officer made this explanation:

"We were outmanned in artillery from the first. As a consequence the Germans were able to destroy a section of the outer forts. When the British aid arrived the situation was almost hopeless.

"The troubles of the staff are added to by the fact that the Germans are kept advised by spies, on the actual battle ground of our position.

October 8.—The bombardment of the city proper was commenced at 1 o'clock this morning with the Germans' twenty-eight-centimeter guns. When the first of these shells exploded in the southern quarter, the whole city seemed shaken by the concussion. The people poured out into the streets and began a hurried flight. The night was clear and moonlight, with the glare of burning houses adding to the illumination. Constantly the shriek of a woman or the wail of a child broke in upon the lustful plodding of the fugitives.

"Shells came in clusters of six, very methodically, into our particular quarter, and then the guns were deflected a little to attack another quarter. The Belgians let out all the oil from the tanks along the Scheldt at Hoboken."

Man Sent to Jail for Contempt of Court Sues Judge Landis

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Suit for $25,000 damages filed against United States Judge Kenneth M. Landis on Saturday, it became known today, is the result of thirty days spent in jail by Frank Blackidge on a contempt charge preferred by the federal judge.

If the suit is pressed to trial it will be the first time in local history, it was said, that a United States judge was sued for damages as a result of one of his decisions.

Blackidge became involved in a bankruptcy suit and Judge Landis accused him of perjury. Blackidge bases his claim for damages on alleged impairment of his health due to his stay in jail, loss of his position and $2,400, which it is alleged, was involved in the bankruptcy proceedings.

Queen of Belgium is Still in Ostend

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Definite information has been received here that the queen of the Belgians, notwithstanding the report last week that she had reached England, has not left Ostend for London.

In the course of the operations around Antwerp last week King Albert proceeded to St. Nicholas, an important place on the railroad line between Antwerp and Ghent and beyond the outer range of the Antwerp forts. His majesty was at St. Nicholas as late as last Thursday morning. His subsequent journey eastward was in company with Belgian troops, whose withdrawal in that direction had been rendered necessary by the overwhelming forces opposing them.

Greatest of All Human Blessings

The most wonderful thing in the world is love expressed in the helpless infant. And among those aids and comforts for expectant mothers is the well known "Mother's Friend."

This is an external application to enable the abdominal muscles to become more pliant, to expand naturally without undue pain from the strain upon cords and ligaments.

In almost every settled community are women who have enjoyed the blessing of this famous remedial and helpful embrocation. Their daughters have grown up to learn of its splendid assistance.

Applied as directed upon those muscles involved in the bearing of the child, the period of expectancy may be avoided and the period of pregnancy passed through in ease and comfort.

Anything that adds so much comfort must be counted as a blessing indeed. In a little book sent by mail much useful information is given to inexperienced mothers. It tells how to use "Mother's Friend" and how to avoid caking breasts. Get a bottle today and write for book to Bradlee's Register Co., 209 Laurier Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Be sure you get "Mother's Friend."
