12

THE . OMAHA DAILY BEE

FOUNDED BY EDWARD ROSEWATER.

VICTOR ROSEWATER, EDITOR. The Bee Publishing Company, Proprietor.

BEE BUILDING, FARNAM AND SEVENTEENTH Entered at Omaha postoffice as second-class matter. TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION

a presente or	By carrier By mail
allow the Part of the	per month. per year.
Light and Sunday
Dully without Sunday.,	···· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
The second secon	40c
Sunday Bee only	300 1.00
Send notice of change	of address or complaints of fregularity in delivery	to Omaha Bee, Circulation Department.

REMITTANCE

REMITTANCE. Remit by draft, express or postal order. Only two-cent stamps received in payment of small ac-counts, Personal checks, except on Omaha and eastern suchange, not accepted.

OFFICES. Omaha-The Bee Building. South Omaha-315 N street. Council Bluffs-14 North Main street. Lincoln-35 Little Building. Chicago-301 Hearst Building. New York-Room 196, 385 Fifth avenue. St. Louis-551 New Bank of Commerce. Washington-725 Fourteenth St., N. W.

CORRESPONDENCE. dress communications relating to news and edi-rial matter to Omaha Bee, Editorial Department.

SEPTEMBER CIRCULATION.

56,519

State of Nebrasks, County of Douglas, ss. Dwight Williams, circulation manager of The Bee Publishing company, being duly sworm, says that the average daily circulation for the month of Sep-tember, 1914, was 15,519. DWIGHT WILLIAMS, Circulation Manager. Bubaceibed in my presence and sworn to before Subscribed in my presence and sworn to befor me, this 3d Cay of October, 1314. BOBERT HUNTER, Notary Public.

Subscribers loaving the city temporarily should have The Bee mailed to them. Address will be changed as often as requested.

King Cotton is another one with an uneasy head.

That Aguas Callentes convention proves to be "hot water" all right.

The wanderers all agree that Omaha is a mighty good place to come back to.

Minnesota has six candidates for governor.

Sort of six-day-go-as-you-please race,

Marriage generally proves a failure to the man who is wedded to his own genius.

Why, yes, the subdued auto light ordinance is a good one-provided it is enforced.

Uncle Sam is so very neutral that even the Army-Navy foot ball game has been deferred.

Germany has fifty-four army corps on the field, which still leaves the 57 varieties a lead of three

But even if the war should abruptly end, we would have the Thaw case in reserve as a side issue.

The Bee has no patent on the short ballot alogan. All candidates are free to adopt it and relcome.

His loyal subjects are waiting to hear the good tiding from Ak-Sar-Ben's chancellor of the

The Latest Historic Ride.

It makes the blood tingle, this thrilling ride of the president from golf links to capitol to sign the war revenue bill before congress adjourns. Like a flash his auto flies through the streets, pursued by curious crowds. The president is clad in his white golf flannels. He leaps from the machine and up the big stone steps, three at a time, to reach his desk just as the big clock is about to tick off the last minute of grace. His "specs," where are they? A senator thrusts a strange pair into his hands. The president seizes a pen and whips his signature across the paper just in time to save the day for a strangling nation.

Now, of course, what future historians may say of his famous ride, we do not know. It was spectacular, no doubt of that, but the glamor surrounding it is punctured in two or three places. First, congress being a very perverse creature, did not adjourn after all, but went along filibustering. Second, the treasury, while needing a war revenue measure, was far from strangulation.

And, no doubt, President Wilson, with nat ural dignity, will let the incident slip by without further ado.

Three Deserving Congressmen.

Of Nebraska's six representatives in the lower house at Washington three are republicans, and all three, namely, Sloan in the Fourth, Barton in the Fifth and Kinkaid in the Sixth district, have been renominated, practically without opposition. What is more, prospects all point to their re-election by safe majorities, as should be where constituents appreciate faithful and painstaking service. Congressman Kinkaid's long experience in the halls of legislation has put him in the ranks of the veterans, while Congressman Sload has been coming rapidly to the front as one of the republican floor leaders. Congressman Barton, though serving his first term, has in many ways proved his usefulness. All these republican members of the Nebraska delegation have been alive to the interests of the state, and their districts, and even where they have differed upon measures have merely manifested an independence asserting their honest convictions. The voters of their respective districts will do well for themselves, for Nebraska and for the nation to keep them where they are.

Is This a Way Out!

"If we owe Great Britain $200,000,000, and if we have cotton to that amount which Great Britain needs, it ought not to be difficult to make a trade," suggests the Baltimore Sun. Possibly this might afford a way out of our mutual troubles. Why was not this phase of the question more fully considered in congress ahead of the fiat money plan for the south? England would have nothing but gold for her obligations? Well, then we might insist on nothing but gold for our cotton and accounts might halance

Yet through emergency action we have gone to work to hasten our hundreds of millions in gold to Europe to meet recurring obligations since the war begun, while not only England, but other warring countries, are unable, it seems, to offer us any relief in return. The cotton crisis is, to be sure, a national affair, not to be reckoned entirely from a sectional point of view, and would justify some special arrangeif it could be brought about. Even though

Our toadyism is a very costly luxury to sustain.

and the war will teach us that it is by no means tion. Why go to Europe as much as we have been doing for the material to make our clothing? It is absurd enough to import the fashions, far more so to import the materials. We have the raw products in our own country, much of which we ship to Europe and buy back in the form of finished goods, along with a lot of grotesque styles. It is poor business, and how it has escaped our Yankee genius so long is really

The Case of Steel.

the federal courts in Philadelphia to dissolve the United States Steel Corporation is the outgrowth of the move begun under the Taft administration in 1911. Under the date of July 1.

of that year, Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of corporations, filed an exhaustive report, showing the astounding mastery of this greatest of all modern industrial combines. It controlled, matter of fact, it controlled two-thirds of the country's crude steel and from one-half to four-fifths of the principal rolled steel products, being therefore thoroughly integrated from ore corporation's capital is placed at $1,400,000,000.

of this $500,000,000 is sharged to an excessive.

The corporation was organized with (in round numbers) $510,000,000 of preferred stock, $508,000,000 of common stock, $303,000,008 of corporation bonds, and about $$1,000,000 of underlying and miscellaneous obligations. While the claim was made by the steel company that the value justified a fair business return on this capitalization, the commissioner insisted that the fairest tangible value would not exceed fairs of 55 per cent of the railroads of this congressional committee found the aggregate value of railroads to be about $18,000,000,000, with the Steel corporation controlling $10,000,- 000,000 of it. These figures will help felks to understand the gigantic task of dissolution, to which the last republican administration set souri, and the vice president in addition.

Either the administration is in desperate straits down there or merely wants to show 'em.

Three cabinet members are to stump Mis-

The steel grant has also dominated the af-

The country is now reminded that, while the

to the finished output.

$700,000,000.

itself.

The formal action new being taken before

But a larger question arises in this connec-indispensable, amazing.

Medals of Honor

THE, BEE: OMAHA, SATURDAY, OCTOBER, 24, 1914.

Britains New Descarations.

Great Britain has instituted two new here decora tions as rewards for distinguished services on land and sea in the present war. The immensity of the struggle and the numbers engaged develops such variety of uncommon service that existing medals of honor, with restricted conditions of award, do not fully meet the needs of the service. The new decorations comprise a "distinguished service medal," available for non-commissioned officers and men in the and navy where "conspicuous gallantry medals" would not be applicable, and a "consplauous service cross," which may be won by officers below the rank of lieutenant commander.

The most prized of all the insignlas of valor warded in Great Britain is the Victoria cross. The little Maltese cross of bronze bearing the simple inscription, "For valor," had its origin in the Crimean war, and was primarily intended to be conferred upon junior commissioned officers and the rank and file. Neither rank, length of service, wounds nor any cir-cumstance whatsoever can qualify for this noble badge save a personal act of signal bravery performed in the presence of the enemy. The decoration was instituted by Queen Victoria in 1866, the prince consort being, it is said, its originator and the designer of the insignia of it.

Each Victoria cross is made from bronze which once formed part of some Russian guns captured during the Crimean war, and although the medal itself is intrinsically worth only about fourpence halfpenny. a number of them have been sold at sales for £100 and over. The winning of the Victoria cross carried an annulty of £10, which may be increased to £5), payable quarterly, to all except officers, but including those who have risen from the ranks. Sixty years ago the Russian fortress of Bomarsund, in the Baltic Sea, was being bombarded by an Anglo-French force. Suddenly a shell fired from the fortress fell on the deck of H. M. S. Hecla. In an instant a brave young mate seized it, and, with fuse hissing between his hands, he fung it with a jerk overboard. That young mate-he ultimately became Rear Admiral Charles Davis Lucas, who died a few days ago-was immedi-ately promoted lieutenant and awarded the Victoria cross, being the first to win that much-coveted decoration, although, owing to three other officers being of senior rank, he was the fourth actually to receive it from Queen Victoria.

Iron Cross of Germany.

Dispatches from Germany frequently tell how the emperor has been distributing the iron cross among officers and men who have distinguished themselves in the war. The decoration was instituted a century ago by Frederick William III, king of Prussia, as reward for bravery in the Napoleonic wars. The original design consisted of an iron cross of the form known as "cross patte," with a border of silver suspended by a black ribbon with two white stripes. the center of the cross with a spray of three oak leaves and above it was a crown with the initials "F. and the date of 1813.

When the Franco-Prussian war began Empero William I revived the order, which had languished. The only change in the cross was that the initial became a "W" and the date was changed to 1870.

Since the Franco-Prussian war no iron crosses have been awarded, the order being strictly a military one and the awards being made for deeds of daring in battle.

There are many German orders, dating from the feudal days, when the Teuton barons awarded to their lieges various marks of favor. These orders, however, are mainly conferred by the rulers of tho various kingdoms and principalities constituting the empire, and many of them are for terms of military service or for distinguished work in devising military Weapons.

Orders of Other Nations.

Frenchmen, of course, covet the Legion of Honor awarded to all men France thinks have done some great deed, no matter in what walk of life. It was founded by Napoleon in 1802, and was first known as the Order of the Eagle.

The Russians, for military bravery, decorate with the Order of St. George, which was established by Empress Catherine II in 1989. Servia has the Order of Takova, and Austria has two purely military orders, Japan has the Order of the Golden Kite, the newest all of the decorations for valor it be urged that, so far as England is concerned, Austria confers her Ancient Order of Marie it is merely a matter of the price of cotton, the Thereso. Russia distributes per Dross of St. Viadimir sparexchange still should not be impossible. ingiv to Hes successful soldiers Denmark has one of the most illustrious orders of Call for Yankee Genius. chivalry, the Order of the Elephant, which ranks even Now that the war has put the Parisian fashwith that of the Order of the Garter. Spain is truly proud of her Order of the Golden Fleece, which is, and has been, most sparingly conion makers hors du combat, many sensible Americana are crying for styles of our own. And ferred why not, as The Bee has already suggested?

Americans All.

OMAHA, Oct. 23,-To the Editor of The Bee: Let us have articles from the readers of your paper telling of how the was started (if they know how it did), or a description of its awfurness, or in sympathy for the mothers, sisters and wives of the butchered soldiers. Letters in sympathy for any special warring hation should be given no consideration. We, as citizens of the greatest nation on the globe, are not German, French, English, Russian! We are brothers by adoption, living in peace in a great and glorious land. I have heard men of fereign birth tell how much better the old country was than our grand old United States. Now to them I wish to say that if the kaiser, caar, king or emperor appeals and stands for more to them than our free democratic spirited president they should so to his side and forever swear allegiance to rulers who can play with men's lives as pawns upon E. C. a vast chess board.

Letters from # Political Heathen. SOMEWHERE, Oct. 23 .- To the Editor The Bee: It is unnecessary to refer to the recall of Henry Lane Wilson, the expedition of John Lind, the splendid conduct, suprame prudance, Job-like patience and consummate tact of that past master of diplomacy, Nelson O'Shaughnessy, residing at the capital of Mexico as the official representative of the goverament, which recognized Mexico simply as 785,851 square miles of territory, containing 15,501,684 of population.

murder, looting, torture and rape, we come to the Tampico incident. On April 9, 1814, an American government vessel, the Dolphin, was stationed in Tampice. Some American sailors from the ship, going on board were arrested by an ignorant and over-scalous Mexican subattern. These were released by a superior officer. The subaltern was punished. An ample apology was afterward tendered by Huerts. This should have ended the But the American squadron at affair. Tampico happened to be in command of a blustering and bolsterous bully of the quarterdeck, the doughty hero of many unfought battles a character well known to old sallors. 'He demanded a salute to the American flag. The administration backed the domand. Reflect for one moment upon the puerile absurdity. According to the Bryanic theory, Huerta was a murderer and freebooter. Here was a demand not that the government, but that a bandit, salute the flag. Huerta consanted, but demanded that a return salute be given gun for gun:" This arrangement fell through a Congress virtually delegated its power to declare war to the president-an act without precadent-and twelve days after the alleged outrage, April 21, the United States took forcible pomension of Vera Cruz, at the cost of 304 human lives. We have held it ever since, collecting import duties at Mexico's chief port, and now have more than $1,000,000 of Mexico's revenue in our pecket, but do not know what to do with it. Quaere: Have we had one or two wars with Mexico?

After the Vera Cruiz incident came the A B C tender of good offices, and the Niagara conference, at which we receded from our demand for a valute to the flag, which was our causus belli, but set about to regulate the internal affairs of Mexico. Huerta left Mexico for Eng-

Editorial Snapshots

St. Louis Gohn-Democrat: Wheat and orn are commanding such high prices in the markets of the world that they are no longer ashamed to associate with caltle and hogs.

Indianapolis News: Before the war began Belgium had more inhabitants to the square mile than any other country. And now it probably has more dead men to the square mile. Pittehursh Dispatch: Out in Neorasha some of the democrate are bolting the party ticket because it was put up by "The beakes." Tammany may suggest to Mr. Bryan that reform should begin at bame.

New York Post: When one reads of General Bennenkampt leading the Slavs against a Teutonic force headed by Generol Boavericz, he loses all faith in the maxim that blood is thicker than water. Philadelphia Bulletin: 'The poor man's medicine will not be taxed for the customs deficit, but chewing gum is classed with bear drinking, wine sipping, tobacco and the movies, as among the great American habits, and must be taxed. New York World: Deaths and injuries from industrial accidents in the United States have been reduced one-half within six years. But how insignificant is this mere conservation of human life by a peace nation by comparison with the wholesale destruction of it under mili-

St. Louis Republic: Lovely woman has the courage of her inconsistency. Just at a time when she requests the vote at the hands of more man she adopts styles which are the farthest north of the bizarre and the inconvenient. It certabily takes something akin to audacity tariam!

ballot.

SUNNY GEMS.

"I est only roasted chemauts on ac-count of the worms" "But roasted chemauts have their share of worms." "Oh, I don't mind a worm so much if is in well cooked."-Louisville Courier-Journal. Journal

Gabe-What's the matter? Tou look as though you had lost all your friends. Steve-I was the victim of a black hand outrage last night. Gabe-How did it happen? Steve-How did it happen? Steve-The other fellow held free spades. -Cincinnail Enquirer.

ington Star.

"T have seven wives," explained the un-speakable Turk to the interviewer. "Great Caesar! How do you manage to pay your dressmaker's bills?" "T married dressmaker's bills?" "T married dressmaker's bills?"

Little Johnny-Mrs. Talkendown paid

You a big compliment. Mother-Did she, really? Well there's no denying that woman has sense. What did she say 7 Little Johnny-She said she didn't see how you came to have such a boy as I was .- Hartford Times.

THE VOICE THAT RULES.

When autumn winds rage 'round about And cold rains lash against the pane, We murmur and lament and doubt We'll never see the sun again.

But autumn storms one Voice ebey. The while they howl about the eaves. And when their work is done we'll wake And see the sunlight on the leaves.

And thus it is when war-clouds loom, And curnons roar and thousands fall; it seems there'll ne'er be poace again, So dark and dreadful is the pall.

But there's a Hand that rules the storm, A Voice that all things must obey. And when it speaks, lo.. peace shall dawn And war and strife shall fade away. for a human being in a coal-sonttie overdress or a three-flare skirt to ask for the -BAYOLL NE TRELLE

New Ideas Now Add Attractions to This Extra-Sturdy Car

Reo the Fifth

A Super Car

$1,175 with Electric Equipment, f. o. b. Lansing

You will see in this latest Reo all the new ideas in cars, Some of them are not yet shown in any other car. Many new features have been added in the past few months.

you utter exactness. It makes every part meet our radical tests. It goes into better materials, costly parts, margins of safety. It gives

You can see this car's supertority in every touch and de-extra care and caution. Six weeks are spent on each car. It means to you a car that stays new-inst renders years

Passing 'a year of watchful waiting,

Our Congressman Lobeck will soon be home, and then what was missing in this campaign will be supplied.

This democratic congress seems to have as hard a time agreeing on adjournment as agreeing on anything else.

Colonel Watterson has surrendered to Comander-in-chief Wilson, but still continues to ombard the German emperor.

Our democratic contemporary has discovered 'a reformed republican." Well, we are glad to know there is at least one of him.

"A man with millions may be poorer than to ragged beggar holding out his hat for charr." says a philosopher-humorist. Perhaps, but be never feels it as keenly.

Charles W. Morse-former ice king, you now-has been sued for a million. But after all, with the promise of many more six-months nstallments of life before him, what does he Care?

They may be able to run down John D. tockefeller ships at sea, but experience has roved the futility of trying to catch John D., nself, on land or sea when he does not want In be eaught.

The idaho state treasurer has pleaded guilty in emberiement and taken a penitentiary senience. Unless Idaho is different from Nebraska, a petition of full pardon will soon be in circulation actively pushed along by the beneficiaries of the loot.

The street car company has a large force of mon work on the Thirtsenth street line and hopes to ve care running before the ground is frozen. bary contemplates building the red line seven or blocks north, and then running it to connect the grass line on Eighteenth street. It plans to build a line out Farnam to Twenty-fourth and than across to connect with the BL Mary's avenue Report has it that sasters parties will lease th acking house at the Union stock yards and put hum in charge of J. H. Hammond for operation.

Folloeman John Turnbull and Miss H. G. Cummings country, according to information brought out are united in matriage at the bride's home, 709 South by the Stanley investigating committee. This Thirteenth, by Rev. James Patterson.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Josiyn have returned from a srip to Canada.

Mrn. W. E. Copeland left for her old home in Bostop to spend a few weeks with friends.

Superintendent James has some to Leavenworth in attend the annual convention of western school perintandents.

William M. Ijams, who has been alling for a few days, is sumin at his desk.

Mrs. C. M. Richmond, 1216 Capitol avenue, wants to cut and make children's clothes to order.

Frack J. Hamps offers a reward for the return of a Topt builder, which answers to name of Fido, two years old, light with yellow spots, with ears cot, Italy never fails to decorate her soldiers with her Military Medal of Marit.

Twice Told Tales

Misfit Expression.

The heavy An advertising man tells this one: advertiser of a certain Indiana town entered the edit torial offices of the daily paper, and in angry and dis-guated tones delivered himself as follows:

"What's the matter with this sheet any war? That was, a fine break you people made in my ad yester-

'What seems to be the trouble?' asked the editor anxiously

"Read it and see!' said the advertiser, and he thrust a copy of the paper into the editorial hands. "The uphappy editor read 'lf.you want to have a fit, wear Jones' shoes." "Lippincott's Magazine.

Working by the Day.

A certain Chicago business man has had a great deal of troubly with his workmen, a number of whom have from time to time evinced a disposition to "nol-

On one occasion when this supplement, in company with his brother, was visiting the farm of a friend in southern Illinois, the two observed an uncouth fig-ure standing in a distant field.

"Since it isn't moving." observed the brother, not only the refined product, but the raw ore must be a sourcerow." as well, and utterly defied competition. As a "That isn't a scaredrow," said the other, after a long gaze at the figure, the day."-Chicago Post "Thats a man working by

People and Events

Irving Ruland of Wading River, L. I., husband of two weeks' experience, went to the mat with his wife's family and came out of the malee carrying the family stove, with a bot dinner in the oven and two constables on guard. A replayin haid the stove, but a like decree falled to fetch the bride of two weaks.

London militants are not fdle, although their doings no longer command front page publicity. Mrs. Despart. a sister of General Sir John Franch, is commander in chisf of a volunteer police force of women who will so into action should London be invaded by hostiles. The volunteers are togged out in navy blue serge, military cut, a belt and metal shoulder straps, and a hard felt hat of the "bowier" pattern. Sartorial experts declare the uniform is the most warlike regalia that over fluttored the bunting on Piccadilly.

in the old days when kings were kings who had pis threa times a day, one of the biggest mutta in the ruling business boased asvigation on the River Scheldt and collected tolls from seamen when he needed a bunch of money. Heamen who did not cough needed a bunch of money. Seamen who did not cough up promptly and cheerily had their right hands cut off at the elbow and the diamembered parts were tonsed into the river. Gid chronicies say that a party of soamen who disliked surgery one day fell upon the ruling mutt, cut off both his arms as wall as his head and east them into the Scheidt. The people aflawward spoke of the place where the king was dut up as "Hand Werf," from the Feuton words "hand" and "werfen" to throw. In the Flemish the "hand" and "warfen," to throw. In the Flemish the two words were marged into "Antworpon," and today the city is known as Antworp.

land. sing that he was forced to do so by the United States. Professing neutrality as much as we do in the present transatiantic conflict, we had renoved the embargo on arms and given our moral support to a country petti fogger and a Hunnish bandit, calling themselves the leaders of the constitutionalist party of Mexico. Carranza was the governor of a state, but we of Ne brasks know that means nothing. Out of eighteen we have had only two that were above mediocrity, and several who in private life would hardly attract the attention of their next door neighb Nebraska's ironic Bismarck can boast of having eliminated for Mexico the only man capable of restoring law and order to that unhappy country. Clip this letter from The Bee and read it bosido the next letter I shall write. DER HEIDE.

of electric railway employes in Los Angeles to show how all sorts of accidents occur and how many of them 'can be prevented.

Heading the list with a 20 per cent re-duction of his own salary, President Fairfax Harrison of the Southern railroad has inaugurated a retrenchment plan which is designed to affect equally all officers and interests in the corporation.

Superintendent of the city clocks is the position held by D. N. Graffam, 88 years old, of Providence, R. L. For seventeen years Mr. Graffam has been keeping 1.300 clocks ticking in the schools of Provi-dence and he is also in charge of the clocks of the state capitol.

Dan Smith of Big Island, Lake Minney tonka, has succeeded in obtaining a swallow-tailed kite, a rare bird in Minne sqta. It was shot near Brainord, at least miles north of St. Anthony Falls. which was set by scientists as the northernmost limit for the flight of these birds. Within three years the number of men. killed in the metal mines of the United States has decorcaned from 4.18 per thou sand to 3.64. Better safety tools and more rigorously imposed rules with better supervision both by the companies and the state authorities have accomplished the reduction.

It will be little short of a miracle if the war doesn't develop startling family complications. Suppose, for example, one of Count Zeppelin's airships, in dropping bombs around London, should blow up the statue of the kniser's grandmother in front of Buckingham palace, or the statue of the kniser's grandfather in Hyde park. what would the kniser do to the count? It's your guess.

According to the preliminary report of the census bureau, just published, the colored population of the country has been making a good record of progress, measured by the returns of the decade with whose development it deals. In the, ten-year period the total value of the farm property operated by neuroes has more than doubled and now exceeds very considerably $1,000,000,000, But perhaps the most encouraging gain of all is the advance that has been made in education. In 1900 more than 57 per cent of the blacks were reported as illiterate. That has now been reduced to a little over 30 per cent.

Look Below

It lies in extra strength-

Yet it costs you nothing But look below all of these extra. We save by efficiency, visible details. This car's Today this car, with all its main supremacy lies in the improvements, costs $220 less than it used to cost. chassis.

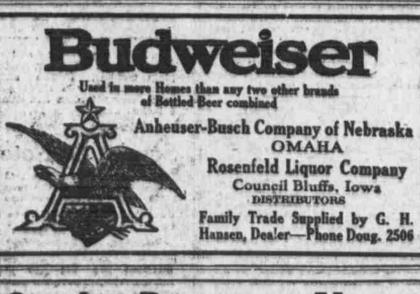

35,000 Users

This car-built by R. B. Olds and his able staff-has won $5,000 users. Most of them have owned other cars, and they wanted something better-built.

If you have like ideas, this car will fulfill them. Come and see the latest model. Let us show you what makes it the long-time car. Come now, for REO MOTOR CAR COMPANY, Lansing, Mich. L. E. DOTY, Inc.

Omaha, Neb.

Omaha Panoramic Views

Over a year's labor was required to produce a booklet showing bird'seye views of all Omaha. A beautiful booklet, finely printed. It makes a handsome remembrance to send to friends and relatives. Let them know how Omaha has grown. -- --

10c at The Bee Office or Newsstands in vast over-capacity. It lies in things that save trouble, upkeep and repairs. It lies in things which are vital to you in the car you buy to keep. We spend on those hidden tail

That extra goes into superstrength. It gives you big parts $2,000,000 per year more than we need spend if we built by usual standards.

of perfect service.

these are great motoring days.

