

BRITISH NOTE IS FLAT NEGATIVE

Cologne Gazette Says This is Real Meaning of It Despite Its Friendly Tone.

COMMENT OF THE FRENCH PRESS

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 12.—(Via London.)—The Cologne Gazette, referring in a recent issue to Great Britain's reply to the American note on shipping, expressed the opinion that this communication from London, in spite of its expressions of friendliness, is in fact a flat negative.

The Gazette upholds the contention that the increase of American exports to neutral countries has been due entirely to the increased home requirements of these countries.

French View of Note. PARIS, Jan. 12.—The reply of the British government to President Wilson's protest against interference against American shipping is widely commented in the French press.

All consider the reply moderate and conciliatory and express confidence that a satisfactory arrangement will be arrived at.

Senate Employees to Wear Metal Badges, As is Done in House

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Jan. 12.—(Special.)—Employees of the senate will wear metal badges designating their respective offices, according to a resolution introduced by Senator Wilson of Frontier county this morning and passed.

This practice was adopted in the house several sessions ago and has been in vogue there since.

Inasmuch as they now have printed copies of the daily Journal placed upon their desks every morning, the senators have dispensed permanently with the reading of the minutes of the previous session, such a measure having been adopted on the motion of Senator Klechel.

The senate has received a copy of a resolution sent over by the house, as adopted in that body, taking steps against the useless duplication of bills as an unnecessary expense.

The co-operation of the senate was asked, and the resolution was not proposed as a joint measure. Whether similar measures will be taken in the upper body has not yet even been discussed formally.

VOTES FOR WOMEN DEFEATED IN HOUSE

as that which attended the vote on the prohibition amendment recently.

Webb Leads for Opposites. Representative Webb, chairman of the judiciary committee, led off the debate in opposition to the amendment. He believed that if the question were voted on by women more than 50 per cent would vote against suffrage.

Debate on the special rule had been concluded by the floor leaders of the republican and democratic sides. Representative Mann supporting the amendment and Representative Underwood opposing it.

"Then tendency of the world everywhere is toward enlarging the grant of power to those who shall control the destinies of the nations," said Mr. Mann.

"We may say the current for a moment, but civilization and progress demands the granting of the franchise to those who have the power and knowledge to use it."

The right of the states to control the franchise was insisted upon by Mr. Underwood.

"This question," he said, "is the gravest one this body has had to consider. I say that the franchise is a universal right. You do not believe it is a right. Many of those who will vote for this amendment here today are from states which would deny this right to other races because you believe it would destroy your civilization. Therefore you recognize that it is a privilege and not a universal right."

Mr. Webb charged that woman suffrage was more or less a fad.

"These agitating woman suffragists want something to agitate about and if they would find nothing to agitate about they would be disappointed," he said.

"If they can't get it they'll carry on agitation for it. I for one shall vote against this amendment in order to protect womanhood against itself."

Representative Taylor of Colorado supported the amendment, saying the opposition was prejudiced and misinformed.

"I believe the welfare of the national republic is superior to the whim of any state," he declared.

Representative Mondell of Wyoming, co-author of the resolution, urged its adoption in a speech which traced the history of the movement of the states.

Representative Manderson of Michigan, Brown of New York and Stevens of New Hampshire spoke for the resolution, and Representatives Abercrombie of Alabama and Harry of Texas made brief but vigorous speeches against it.

Representative Abercrombie of Alabama said he would vote against the amendment, but that he had no doubt the women of the country ultimately would give the ballot, either state by state or through a federal constitutional amendment.

He favored woman suffrage granted by the states. Representative Bartlett of Georgia and Representative Sisson of Mississippi vigorously opposed the resolution, insisting that the right to demand the suffrage question should be left to the states.

Representative, Maibach of Illinois, Town of Iowa, Barnhart of Indiana, Baker of California supported the resolution in brief speeches.

Peoples Voting Women. Representative Seldondridge of Colorado supported the resolution and praised the voting women of his state. In opposing the resolution Representative Hughes of Virginia declared that should the proposed amendment be ratified by the states it would precipitate a serious situation in the southern states on account of the race problem.

Hisses and audible expressions of resentment frequently interrupted a speech of Representative Bowditch of Ohio, who undertook to discuss the suffrage cause in humorous vein, and argued that a scientific analysis of woman's nature showed her to be totally disqualified as a voter and office holder.

Other Arguments. As the day passed into night, with the debate still in progress, arguments for suffrage were made by Representatives Hampton, Farr, Hayes, Sisson and Gordon while among the opponents were Representatives Sloan, Carter and McKay.

Representative Deiker of Missouri in supporting the amendment replied to Representative Bowditch. He declared that the governmental co-operation of women was a great blessing, and derided the idea that woman's lack of ability for military service disqualified her as a voter.

Representative Hayden of Arizona, Keating of Colorado, Volstead of Minnesota, Reddy of Connecticut, Cline of Indiana, Fess of Ohio and Baker of New York also supported the amendment.

SKIRMISHES ALONG WESTERN FRONT

French Official Report Tells of Numerous Minor Fights from North Sea to Alsace.

MORE SNOW IN THE MOUNTAINS

PARIS, Jan. 12.—The fighting in the western theater of the war did not yesterday show any developments of importance, according to the official report given out by the French war office this afternoon. There were artillery exchanges at some points along the line and infantry attacks on trenches. In some of these encounters the French claim to have been successful. It is still snowing in the Vosges mountains.

The statement is as follows: "From the sea to the Oise there was yesterday an intermittent cannonading, fairly violent at certain places."

"On the Aisne to the north of Soissons determined attacks have been delivered against the trenches occupied by us on the eighth and the tenth of January. The enemy during yesterday attacked our positions several times."

"We repulsed him and we took possession of more trenches."

"From Soissons to Rheims there were artillery exchanges. Our heavy pieces of artillery responded efficaciously to the batteries and the mine throwers of the Germans."

"In Champagne, in the region of Soaux, there was yesterday very active shooting by our artillery directed against the positions of our adversaries near Perthes."

"LeFortin, situated to the north of the Beauséjour farm, was the scene of desperate encounter. The enemy succeeded in setting up a trench at a point within a series of field works, the commanding position of which was held by us. This fighting still is going on."

"In the Argonne and as far as the Meuse there is nothing to report."

"In the heights of the Meuse there have been two German attacks, one at the forest of Convoisy and the other at the forest of Bouchoit. Each was repulsed."

"To the southeast of Cleiry-Sur-Yves one of our detachments surprised and put to flight a German company which was pillaging the village of St. Sauveur."

"In the Vosges and in Alsace the day passed quietly. Bad weather and the snowstorms continue."

He Suggests Solons Legislate for Nothing, Remitting Their Pay

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Jan. 12.—(Special.)—If the members of the legislature really want to practice economy where it counts, they ought to remit their own salaries and work for nothing. That is the suggestion of Representative Greenwalt of Custer county.

Greenwalt is one of the members who favors an allowance of stamps to each member for his legislative correspondence.

The stamp proposition has been up a couple of times and on each occasion the house voted against it, greatly to the chagrin of the member's dignified colleague.

"If it wasn't for the notoriety, I'd make a motion that all the members work without pay during the session," said Mr. Greenwalt. "That would save the state $30,000, and be something worth while. It would save twenty times as much as the stamps would cost."

WILSON SAYS HE IS MISINTERPRETED

President Had No Intention of Announcing Candidacy for Re-Election at Indianapolis.

REFUSES TO DISCUSS THE PLANK

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—President Wilson declared today that he was not thinking of announcing his candidacy for 1916 when he made the statement in his Indianapolis speech recently that the people of the United States might have a chance to judge of his acts.

His utterance was interpreted by the audience and by others at the time as a hint that he might be a candidate for re-election. The president explained to callers today that what he had in mind was that the future generations would pass upon his acts as president.

The president today absolutely refused to discuss the questions of being a candidate. Efforts were made to get an expression of opinion from him on the term plank of the Baltimore platform, but Mr. Wilson shook his head and refused to answer questions. He said that he could not talk about himself.
