PUBLIC WELFARE APPEALS TO BEST

Dr. Stimson Reminds City Commissioners of Its Argumentative Value in Coming Campaign.

IS NOT A FAD OR A VAGARY

"And the city election is coming on—paraphrasing to refer to it, gentlemen, but you all know it, nevertheless—and you will make a tremendous appeal to the best sense of your very best thinking people by stressing the importance of this great work." You need not fear criticism for promoting a fad or vagary, for you will simply be advocating measures to thrust your city into the forefront of modern improvements, such as the most progressive cities have or soon will have.

Proposed Ordinance. Dr. Stimson talked informally at some length, then at the commissioner's request read a proposed ordinance drawn by City Attorney Rine, with his advice, calculated to give the city the reform he advocates. This ordinance specifies no appropriation, for the simple reason that no money is now available, save the little $20,000 budget for the parks. The ordinance could not, therefore, become effective until such time as the commission makes up its new budget.

"But that is all the more reason," urged Dr. Stimson, "for beginning our preparation now."

And most of the commissioners present thought so, too. In fact, the commissioners seem to be working in very close harmony with Dr. Stimson.

Men and Women on Board. This proposed ordinance, which is yet to be dressed down considerably, provides for a nonsalaried board of five, men and women, with comprehensive powers and duties. It would have supervision over, not alone the public child play life, but charities, housing conditions and everything affecting the social, physical or economic welfare of these requiring public attention. It would have power to inquire into alleged mistreatment of prisoners in local jails, to look after wife and child abandonment, censor charity soliciting, taking this and other such encumbrances off the Commercial club. This board would be nominated by the mayor and confirmed by the commission.

Dr. Stimson is impressed with the conservative character of the Omaha people and therefore the need of patient cooperation along these lines to secure what he conceives to be essential improvements.

Final action on the ordinance was deferred until the latter part of the week, when Mayor Dehman shall have returned from his sojourn at Excelsior Springs.

When Baby Has the Croup. When a mother is awakened from sound sleep to find her child, who has gone to bed apparently in the best of health, struggling for breath, she is naturally alarmed. Yes, if she can keep her presence of mind and give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy every ten minutes until vomiting is produced, quick relief will follow and the child will drop to sleep to awaken in the morning as well as ever. This remedy has been in use for many years with uniform success. Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

School Children Make Good on an Oversight of Old Saint Nick

Santa Claus can't be blamed if he occasionally forgets some boy or girl on his yearly rounds. He forgot one little girl last Christmas. And probably, up at the North Pole when he was checking up his books, he was very much annoyed that he failed to leave a doll at the home of Nina Butta, 2215 Laird street, Omaha.

But the good old saint need lose no sleep on account of this oversight, because a lot of Nina's little friends whom he did not forget have rectified his error, with the assistance of The Bee.

It all started when Nina sadly mentioned to her schoolmates in Fourth A of the Lathrop school that she hadn't gotten a doll for Christmas. In a jiffy some little girls whose parents take The Bee had their heads together. Then the news flew around the room. The plan was simply for every girl to collect coupons from The Bee for the doll that is given away every week. The boys heard of it and demanded to be allowed to assist. So they all started in together. It would have done old Santa Claus' heart good to see how the Christmas spirit was alive and flourishing in all those generous little hearts nearly a month after his 1914 visit.

Saturday an excited committee of children brought 791 votes to The Bee office and deposited them in the name of Nina Butta. Yesterday the beautiful doll, which was named Elizabeth, was presented to the entranced Nina as the crowning event of a special little party in her honor.

And the good old man in his workshop up at the North Pole, of course, knows all about it. It is putting a check mark after the name of Nina Butta and a special mark before the names of all the thoughtful little girls and boys who helped to win Elizabeth.

JUDGE LOVETT A SICK MAN

Chairman of Executive Committee of the Union Pacific Does Not Leave His Berth Here.

LUNCHEON IS CALLED OFF

Judge Lovett, chairman of the executive committee of the Union Pacific railroad company is a sick man. Accompanied by his wife he is being hurried through to California with the hope that the mild climate will enable him to regain his health.

In his private car Judge Lovett reached Omaha Tuesday morning. The car was parked and in it the judge remained until the afternoon. His car went west on Union Pacific No. 2. During his stay in Omaha Judge Lovett did not leave his bed and denied himself to all callers except President Mohler of the Union Pacific, who was with him a few minutes. While here the judge was attended by Dr. A. F. Jones.

While Judge Lovett has been in bed practically all the time since he left New York, the information is given out that his illness is nothing more serious than a bad cold and that he is going west to recuperate and for a time forget business cares and get away from work, which it is asserted he has been giving too much attention of late. He expects to remain in California two months or so, most of the time at Santa Barbara.

President Mohler had planned a dinner for Judge Lovett at the Omaha club, but this was called off when word of the latter's illness reached here. In this connection the wives of several of the officials of the Union Pacific had planned a luncheon for Mrs. Lovett at the Omaha club. These plans were all carried out in detail and covers were laid for a dozen or so, Mrs. Mohler presiding.

GREAT WESTERN FREIGHT BUSINESS SHOWS INCREASE

Assistant General Freight Agent Chisam of the Chicago Great Western is back from Kansas City, where he attended a family meeting of the traffic officers of the road, the affair ending with a banquet last night. While at this meeting Mr. Chisam came in contact with freight officials from all divisions of the system, and the unanimous sentiment that the freight business has shown a pronounced improvement since the first of the year. Officials generally asserted that in their respective territory each man found business fully up to the maximum of any time last year.

BUTLER SHOWS WHERE CITY CAN CLIP SOME COUPONS

The city commission, on recommendation of Finance Commissioner Butler, has authorized the issuance this year of an additional $100,000 of intersection bonds, which added to $115,000 credit balance in this bond fund, as shown by Mr. Butler, will give $215,000 for the redemption of many small outstanding securities.

"This will save us a lot of interest money," said Mr. Butler. And his colleagues agreed that it was an excellent business proposition. These intersection bonds are for twenty years at 4 1/2 per cent.

Usually at this time the council issues street improvement bonds, but dispensation with it now because, as Mr. Butler explained, there being no money in these funds, bond buyers would not be eager for the securities on which they had to wait proceeds.

TWO FOUND DEAD IN GAS-FILLED ROOM

Fred Orchard and Elsie Schelquist Die in Rooming House—Both Have Families.

ROBERTS WORKED FOR THE CITY

As the result of labeling illuminating gas escaping from a jet which had accidentally been turned on, Fred Orchard, alias Fred Roberts, aged 30 years, a street foreman employed by the city, and Elsie Schelquist, wife of Edward Schelquist, a railroad foreman of Des Moines, were found dead in a room at 122 North Seventeenth street, by Mrs. J. J. Brown who conducts the rooming establishment at the above number. Orchard, who is a widower, had engaged the room Sunday, and together with Mrs. Schelquist, who had left her husband, came to the place late Monday night. The accident was not discovered until late Tuesday morning, when Mrs. Brown smelled the gas issuing from the room.

Mrs. Schelquist had been living with her two brothers, Harry and John Moore, at Eighteenth and Burr streets, and besides them is survived by her husband, Edward, and her 3-year-old daughter, Elsie. The little girl was given by the juvenile court into the custody of the father, who left Omaha for Des Moines Monday evening, after vainly attempting to effect a reconciliation with his wife.

Other Woman Appears. Immediately following the arrival of the police at the rooming house, Sadie Roberts, 132 Webster street, who had formerly lived with Orchard as man and wife, came to the place, where she became frantic with emotion at the sight of the dead couple, unbridling the dead woman for the cause of her separation from Orchard.

The dead man, whose home is in Kansas City, is survived by four small children, two of whom are living with an uncle in Oklahoma and the other two are being cared for by an aunt in Kansas City.

That the affair was accidental is practically conclusive from the condition in which the dead people were found and from the fact that Orchard had promised to give William French and John Campbell, two roomers at the Browline place, employment in the morning. The two victims and the Roberts woman are familiar to the police. Sadie Roberts recently had her father returned to the Kansas state penitentiary for violating his parole by drinking.
