OMAHA, Feb. 2. 1815.

Wheat prices have more than coubled in the last seven months, which is most tunusual. The situation is regarded as more builish now than when wheat prices were about $1 for May. Trading in May is rapidly decreasing and the market is becoming congested, as stocks are down to almost 1,600,000 bu, which is too small, considering the sike of the trade. The market has practically ited itself up. Farmers continue to dictate prices and as most men in the trade regard the situation, it is more of a question of getting the wheat than of prices.

Many local bulls took profits on corn on yesterday's bulge around 82c for May and 82c for July. They say they are waiting for a reaction to get in again. Country and eleventh hour speculators have been good buyers for several days and local shorts have reduced their lines. Bears said that present prices discount all bullish conditions and until foreigners come in and buy heavily, they expect a setback. There are numerous bulls to be found on oats, who predict that prices will go much higher and that the country has sold its surplus. CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—Every modern high priced goal for wheat was left behind today except three—$1.85 a bushel paid by Joseph Leiter in 1898; $2 exacted during the B. F. Hutchinson corner of 1898, and lastly, the American civil war record when gold was at a big premium and the value of a bushel of wheat was not very far from $3.

May wheat here today rose $\frac{1}{2}$c to $1.65—more than double the cost of wheat for far from $3.

May wheat here today rose $3\tilde{c}$ to $1.65—more than double the cost of wheat for spot cash last July, before the European hostilities commenced. It simply was a question of getting the wheat. Buyers appeared to regard the subject of price as merely a detail. Excited purchasing, which began at the opening bell, reached its wildest pitch in the last few minutes of the session. As a consequence, the final quotations were the topmost reached and the market in the end was virtually bare of offerings.

Alarm at Liverpool, where a startling upturn in prices of wheat resulted from submarine attacks by Germans on British merchant vessels in the Irish sea, was what chiefly influenced trading here. Assertions, however, by strenuous demand for export, especially the circumstance of 1.00,000 bushels having been taken by the Italian government, was effective in helping to produce the overwhelming builtish sentiment that made the market throughout the day a series of extraordinary upward whirls.

sell short to any large extent, and notably so in the May option, as the stock of unsold wheal available in Chicago elevators for delivery on pit contracts for May appeared to have been almost exhausted. 91 ... 6 50 16... SHEEP-As a result of the bad condition of the roads in the country due to the recent snow storm the receipts of sheep and lambs dropped off considerably, there being only some 4,600 head of ewes and lambs reported in as against 12,643 last Tuesday and 8,147 a year ago. Quality was pretty much the same as yesterday, but no Maxicans were in the receipts. The bulk of the receipts came from Iowa and Nebraska feed lots, including the Scott's Bluff country, with a sprinkling from Iadho. Chicago reported a run of 5,500 head.

As was the case on yesterday's market, the packers were on hand in good season and started in filling their orders as if they really needed some good killers. Prices on both ewas and lambs were anywhere from strong to 10@15c higher, and possibly more in some cases. A load of Scott's Bluff lambs weighing eighty-three pounds sold up to $8.76. Most of the sales were made at $5.1595.65. Some Scott's Bluff ewes brought $6.30 top for the day ....156 ... 6 50 and the highest price since May of last year. There were no wethers or year-lings of consequence. Trade had a fair degree of activity, with a good clearance. The receipts for the two days of the week so far amount to 19,690 head, as compared with 22,684 hast week and 14,569 a year ago. Under the influence of the light supply prices have shown an advance of fully 100,000 since the close of last week.
