THE BEE is publishing a picture today of our executive chief and his precious grandchild.

While gazing at it I could not help but notice the poise, self-possession and pride he portrays in handling such an armful. Apparently he seems perfectly at ease, but why do men ordinarily hold babies as if they were as fragile as an asbestos mantle?

These wee bits of humanity do look perishable, but those who know they tick together pretty well for their period of existence, Mexican troubles, ship bills, the literary test and other state cares have become lost for the time being to honor this small being, and it does seem like an awful lot of attention going to waste, doesn't it now, when they cannot even recognize such importance of position.

All grandfathers may not show just so much satisfaction as President Wilson, but I guess we can name a few grandpapas in Omaha who can smile as much.

Now there is Grandpa Joslyn, who has two to handle, and his friends say he does it well. Mr. M. C. Peters is just as careful as can be from all reports, and Mr. D. J. O'Brien went away down east to Bridgeport, Conn., to play with just a chubby bundle on Christmas day.

But by far the loveliest thing of the whole affair is the return of President Wilson's smile. This is the first smile we have had from the White House chief since his sorrow, and that it should be forthcoming by the visit of the wee stranger, we may feel sure of it again.

MRS. HICKENS WILL NOT BE PROSECUTED

Father of Murdered Man Asks that Case Against Her Be Dismissed by the State.

IS NOW BLIND AND SPEECHLESS

Mrs. Emma Hickens, who shot to death Bruno C. Hansen, the man responsible for her alienation from her husband, September 23 at the Presbyterian hospital, will not be required to answer for her action in the courts. An information charging first degree murder has been nolleed by County Attorney Magney upon the request of T. K. Hansen of Tilden, father of the dead man.

Mrs. Hickens, who shot herself through the head in an attempt to commit suicide, already has been punished more severely than many murderers, according to information received by County Attorney Magney. She is said to be permanently blind and to have lost the faculty of speech as a result of the wound.

Mrs. Hickens, who came near death after the tragedy, has been cared for by her husband, George T. Hickens, a traveling salesman, who secured a bond and took her from the hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Hansen and Mr. and Mrs. Hickens became acquainted several years ago while living in Omaha. The Hansens moved to Chicago, but Mr. Hansen made his home in Omaha. Later he and Mrs. Hickens went to South America.

After about six months they returned to Omaha. Mrs. Hickens sought her husband and begged him to take her back. He refused, declaring that he would provide for her, but would not again live with her.

Immediately after the interview Mrs. Hickens secured a revolver and went to the Presbyterian hospital, where Hansen was taking medical treatment. After a short interview with Hansen she shot him and turned the gun on herself, inflicting a severe wound in the head.

An information charging first degree murder was lodged against Mrs. Hickens, but relatives of the dead man decided they did not care to prosecute her, and County Attorney Magney, believing it would be impossible to convict her in her feeble state of health, consented to nolle the case.

Foshier Pays Man to Quit Smoking. A man walked into the office of W. E. Foshier, distributor of Cartercar, Singer and Metz automobiles, 2115 Farnam street, and showed a note calling for $200. "Well, sir, Mr. Foshier, I took it according to direction," he said, smiling at the man and said, "All right, Joe, I'm glad you did. I'm satisfied. Just present that to the cashier and get your money."

The man had earned $25 simply by "cutting out" smoking for one year. Mr. Foshier, himself, was a great smoker for years. He stopped it and declared he feels as much better without Lady nicotine's company that he wants to get as many of his fellow men to divorce her as he can.

"I'd rather have the other fellow's good will than his money," he says.

Belgian Excited Over the War Abuses His Wife. Dick Lark, a Belgian, is said by the police to be so upset by the plight of his native country in the war that he doesn't work any more, but just sits around and engages in war disputes with relatives and neighbors. His wife had to go to work in order to support the family. It is said, and Lark went to 2134 Lake street, where she was employed, and started a rumour. Her position was threatened, and to retain it she had her husband arrested. He received a fifteen-day sentence in police court on the charge of disorderly conduct.

M. P. HAS LARGE FORCE CLEARING THE BELT LINE. Monday afternoon the Missouri Pacific put something like 300 men at work shoveling off the Belt Line tracks. The section men were able to keep the main line tracks cleared of snow, but they would not care for the numerous sidings.

The Union Depot company is getting the snow off its property, 100 or more men being at work in the passenger yards. At the Burlington passenger station the yards were filled with snow and drifted badly. Here the snow is being shoveled into huge piles and is being carted away.

An Easy Way to Get Fat and Be Strong. The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drinking their stomachs or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "fish cream," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. Fat cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into simple form the very elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This master-stroke of modern chemistry is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through its re-generative, re-constructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood where they are carried to every corner, breaking down all surplus of your body. You can readily picture the result when this amazing transformation has taken place and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappear and you take on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh—without resorting to hard, expensive, inefficient Sherma's or McConnell Drug Store's and other leading druggists of Omaha and vicinity have it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee given in every package.

CAUTION—While Sargol has given excellent results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles it should not be taken by those who do not wish to gain ten pounds or more—Advertisement.

Some Wag Makes a Jitney Bus Out of the Police Patrol

Jitney bus. Hop in. We'll carry you so far that it will cost you $5 to get back. We leave regularly from Eleventh and Dodge streets. This legend, placarded on both sides of the police patrol wagon driven by Harry Buford, caused hundreds of smiles as it dashed about the streets for a while this morning.

Harry smiled back so many times at smiling strangers that finally he began to wonder at the unusual good humor of those the black wagon happened to pass. Then he got out and looked at the sides of his wagon.

"Oh, the blanky, blank, blank blank!" he raved, frantically tearing off the signs. Harry is so proud of his wagon that he spends most of his time polishing the brass work and removing finger prints made by clumsy officers or awkward prisoners.

HOPE TO HELP CITY DADS

Rev. Titus Lowe Tells of Wonderful Things that Will Happen When Sunday Comes to Town.

GRANT TABERNACLE PERMIT. "I hope the Billy Sunday campaign in Omaha will result in a great moral and spiritual awakening of the city commissioners and all of us," remarked Rev. Titus Lowe, pastor of the First Methodist church, addressing the city council in connection with the granting of a special permit for the Sunday tabernacle on Leavenworth street, between Nineteenth and Twentieth streets.

The minister's reference to the commissioners evoked a smile from a conferee of citizens who were in the council chamber on various matters of business. The council granted the permit and received the thanks of representatives of the Omaha Evangelistic association.

"The Sunday movement today in Philadelphia is greater than any movement experienced during the history of the Christian faith. It is a great moral, Christian movement and we are going to see great things happen in Omaha when Mr. Sunday gets here," added the Rev. Mr. Lowe.

The permit granted by the city council carries with it stipulations that there shall be no lights at the exits, that there shall be ample exits, the doors shall swing outward and there shall be plenty of janitors. A bond of $5,000 will be filed by the Omaha Evangelistic association. The tabernacle will have twenty-seven large double doors and the seats will all be on the ground floor.
