

TALKS HEALING BY PRAYER

Rev. Frank L. Loveland, Former Omaha Pastor, Arouses Interest by Sermon at Portland.

QUESTION WELL WORTH WHILE

"Here is a question worth while. If the human body can be healed of disease by simple prayer and faith, we ought to know it. If prayer is to bring healing, I declare to you that the Church of Jesus Christ has been criminal in its negligence in the past and Christianity stands indicted at the bar of justice."

Studying Held Worth While.

"It is worth your while and mine to study and find out, not for the purpose of antagonism, but for the purpose of understanding. Don't let us be like the people who are so narrow and whose eyes are so close together that they never can see but one thing."

"We may discover there is something in this belief that demands more than a sneer and a laughing glance."

"We know that sick people are easily hoodwinked. People are wandering everywhere in search of health. The fear in the mind of the sick person makes him a mark for the faker and the fanatic and because of this Christian people must study this question. Legislation has taken up as important the matter of health, and we have our pure food laws. Public health, public morals and public safety are subjects that must be considered in the pulpit. It is worth while for our religion to be big enough to get hold of God's truth, no matter whence it comes. All truth is God's truth."

Hope Held for Men Who Think. "I am the Lord that health thee, I would we could all waken to the truth of this statement. I would we could all use our intelligence to the advancement of the public weal. When a man's faith is rooted in reason, he will have a good reason for his faith. I'd rather have thinking infidelity than blind credulity. There's hope for the man who thinks."

"I say unto you, it is God who heals."

"Don't go off on a tangent, doctors; you may apply allopathy, homeopathy or any otheropathy you like, or you may use the surgeon's knife, but remember that these are only instrumentalities that clear the way for God to heal. All healing, whether of the body or the soul, is divine."

"It isn't the method of baptism or ritual that saves, it is God. The great mistake of the past has been in the church as well as elsewhere. We have had exaltation of method above the high moral attitude of principle. I remember the day when men of various denominations hated each other. Even now there are some Methodists, Baptists, Presbyterians and others, I have no doubt, that think the Christian Scientists will go to hell."

"The Christian church is beginning to feel that something has been lost out of Christianity. Did Jesus heal the sick? He did."

"In the beginning Christianity was meant for all humanity as a whole, but as time went on unfortunately something was dropped out. We have been so busy putting up partitions between the various denominations and have lost sight of important things."

"The Christian church has got to pay less attention to modes of baptism and less and all get on a plane where we can deal with humanity as a mighty whole."

Something of Value Offered. "The Christian Science church has been growing and taking our members because it offers something of value that can be cashed now, in freedom from disease. The church of Jesus Christ should have been doing that all these years."

Omaha Man Sells $5,000,000 Bond to Packing Firm

Lvone D. Upham, agent in Omaha for the Fidelity and Deposit company of Maryland, extended his field of solicitation to Chicago Thursday, made a visit to that city and returned to Omaha with the record of having sold the Cudahy Packing company a $5,000,000 security bond. Mr. Upham invaded Chicago with the express purpose of winning that bond and despite keen competition from seven other companies and their New York and Chicago experts, he proved that real speed is a western virtue by landing the contract. The premium on the $5,000,000 is $40,000, covering the period of three years, during which time the bond will be in force. Mr. Upham just took over the agency for the Fidelity and Deposit company of Maryland the first of the year and it is quite a credit to him to land such a big contract so quickly.

New Books

A WOMAN'S CAREER. By Myrtle Reed. 75 cents. G. P. Putnam's Sons.

A manuscript of the late Myrtle Reed, who writes with her accustomed humor in regard to the position of the working woman (she points out that practically all women are to be so classed) and as to certain hampering burdens (from which men are free), which have been placed upon woman's activities and which have, of necessity, served as a barrier to her natural and proper development.

THE HOUSE WE LIVE IN. By William Elliot Griffis. 214 Pp. 60 cents. Funk & Wagnalls company.

How "The House We Live In" (the body) has been built; how to be a worthy tenant of it; how to take care of it and preserve it; how to keep it a happy habitation.

POET PLAYS. Translated by Barrett Clark. 267 Pp. $1.50. Stewart & Kidd Company.

These plays have been produced at the Free theater in Paris by Antoine. The Free theater was to the French drama of the last quarter century what the Reformation was to Christianity; Andre Antoine was its Martin Luther. To Antoine it appeared that the drama of life was fettered with conventions of style, technique and subject matter, to such an extent that the young dramatists with new ideas and new ways of expressing them, had little or no opportunity to produce their works.

THE SUBTERRANEAN BROTHERHOOD. By Julius Hawthorne. 229 Pp. $1.50. McBride, Naat & Co.

The author of this picture of prison life is a veteran journalist who brought to the present task human sympathy and understanding that simply cannot be denied. His claim to attention is his forceful idea for decency in prison administration.

LITTLE SIR GALAHAD. By Phoebe Gray. $1.50. Small, Maynard & Co.

An interesting story with its message of help and loving sympathy, which will appeal to the heart of every reader. It is an influence for good, and the faith of the little hero of what it meant to be a Galahad Knight is most convincing and touching.

YET SPEAKETH HE. By Gertrude Capen Whitney. 90 Pp. $1.25. Sherman, French & Co.

Half essay, half story of a deeply religious flavor.

RIZING UP UNCLE SAM. By George Fitch. 238 Pp. $1. Frederick A. Stokes Company.

With his characteristic dry humor Mr. Fitch has summed up the characteristics of our states, cities, leading citizens, political phenomena, fads, pastimes, bragging points, drawbacks and problems, etc.

THE STORY OF DARTMOUTH. By Wilder D. Quint. 278 Pp. E. Little, Brown & Co.

An analysis of the development as a school for Indians down to the present period of expansion and national popularity. The ancient landmarks, the unique customs, the rich traditions of the college, together with an analysis of its famous "spirit," are interestingly treated by the author. The volume is admirably illustrated from pencil sketches by John Albert Sanford, who has visited Hanover to make drawings of the most picturesque buildings and scenes.

SOUL SPUR. By Richard Wightman. 300 Pp. $1.25. The Century company.

This is a book of heart and hope and wisdom. It meets a world-craving for a simple workable philosophy of life which can be practiced everywhere by everybody.

POLICE PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE. By Cornelius F. Cahalane. 241 p. $1.50. E. P. Dutton company.

A clear, concise book for reference and review by those engaged in police work. Mr. Cahalane is in charge of the training school of the New York police department, and has come up from the ranks to his present position, and his book is characterized by those best in position to know, "as thorough, accurate, practical."

THE CONGO. By Vachel Lindsey. 128 Pp. $1.25. The Macmillan company.

A collection of poems, including many suitable for reading aloud, lyrical poems, child poems and poems on the war.

PHILIP THE KING. By John Massfield. 141 Pp. $1.25. The Macmillan company.

This volume takes its title from a one-act drama in verse, which will be welcomed by those who held Mr. Massfield to be the foremost dramatic poet, as well as a narrative poet of the day.

WITH SABER AND SCALPEL. By John Allan Wyeth. 32 Pp. $1. Harper & Bros.

The well-known New York physician recounts the interesting events of his stirring life, from his infancy in remotest Alabama (1846), among forests in which Indians still lurked, to his position today in the foremost rank of active American surgeons. He has been farmer, woodsman, Confederate soldier, cotton planter, cattle buyer, medical student, river pilot, building contractor, land speculator, telegraph operator, doctor, vice president of the New York Academy of Medicine and founder of the New York Polytechnic. Dr. Wyeth's pictures of the south before the civil war, of life on the plantation, are valuable contributions to history.

LORD LISTER HOSPITAL BUILDING CHANGES HANDS

The Omaha Maternity and General hospital, formerly known as the Delleone hotel, fourteen street and Capitol avenue, has now been sold, the transfer being made to Mrs. Margaret A. Henry. It is now known as the Lord Lister hospital. The price paid is $20,000.

The purchasers have had a lease on the building for some time, and have been operating it as a hospital in the meantime, since the first of the year they have been spending a great deal of money in remodeling the interior. Now that the purchase has been made the efforts to complete the remodeling will be redoubled, and within a few months all the remodeling is to be completed. The remodeling is to cost about $15,000.

Only a Few Offices But Some Very Choice Ones

While we can only offer you a choice of four offices at the present time, recent changes make it possible to offer you several particularly desirable offices and suites in

The Bee Building

We would advise you to make your choice now and not wait until spring, as it is very probable at that time we will have nothing to offer. The selection is:

Suite 222: This is a very choice office on the second floor, facing the corridor around the court. It is partitioned for a very comfortable waiting room and two private offices. It has north light. Price, per month. . . . . $45.00

Room 420: This is one of the corner offices which is considered so very desirable. It is 29x20 feet, and has two windows facing north and two west. The large vault is particularly desirable for some classes of business. The door of this office is directly at the end of the hall, so that the sign may be seen by everyone walking down the corridor. Price, per month. . . . . $40.00

Suite 426: This suite offers exceptional space and desirability for the price. It is divided into a waiting room and two private rooms. It has north light and its occupants receive all the service and comforts of a well kept office building. Price, per month. . . . . $27.50

Suite 432: This consists of waiting room and two private rooms. It faces 17th street. It is now occupied, but will be available about March 10. Price, per month. . . . . $30.00

Ground Floor Room: Especially adapted for printing office. This has been occupied by a printer for many years and on account of its location in an office building and in the heart of the office building district, the location itself is an asset in this business or any similar business. It has an entrance from the court on the ground floor and also from the alley. There is very satisfactory light and ventilation. It likewise has the advantage, from the standpoint of insurance and safety, of being in a fireproof building. The floor space is 1,232 feet. Price, per month. . . . . $100.00
