

Nebraska WIFE CONFESSES TO SAVE HUSBAND

Mrs. Hattie Vance, on Witness Stand, Tells of Relations with Man Husband Killed.

INSANITY WILL BE DEFENSE

WEST POINT, Neb., March 12.—(Special Telegram.)—Mrs. Hattie Vance, wife of Joseph E. Vance, on trial here for the murder of Amundus J. Krause, September 11, 1914, today told the story of her relations with the man her husband killed. The recital supplies the motive for the murder. She admitted having sustained illicit relations with Krause on numerous occasions and that he had urged her to get a divorce and marry him. It is apparent from the tone of the examination by the defense, that justification will be pleaded. Vance on the stand in the afternoon swore that when he discovered his wife's unfaithfulness, he became temporarily deranged.

Vance is a man of 50 years, while Krause was 34 years of age, the son of a lately deceased pioneer citizen of much local prominence.

Mrs. Vance Bars Life.
Mrs. Vance testified to numerous instances of illicit relations with Krause between August, 1913, and September, 1914, at West Point, at Fremont and at two hotels in Omaha and other places. At the Paxton hotel in Omaha they were registered as A. T. Ford and wife and occupied a room together for four days. She received $5 per month from Krause regularly; that Krause urged her to marry him upon her divorcing Vance; that she asked her through an Omaha detective agency for assistance in procuring testimony sufficient for him to divorce his own wife and that he kept up a correspondence with her at all times. The woman's evidence was in the nature of a complete confession and was given with little emotion.

Two Sons Hear Story.
The questions of Attorney Chas. direct and searching, brought clear and positive answers. Her two little boys, Dean and Ray, were seated near their father during the recital.

From the tone of the examination by the defense it is evident that it will be sought to show that Vance had justification.

In the afternoon Vance testified. His evidence tended to show that when he discovered his wife's unfaithfulness he became temporarily insane. He disclaims and denies any knowledge of what he was doing when the shooting was done. Omaha detectives bore out the evidence of Mrs. Vance.

Bucharest Dispatch Says in Case of Capture Allies Must Regard It as Undefended Town.

BULGARIA BRINGS UP BIG GUNS

LONDON, March 12.—It is learned through diplomatic sources in London that the Russian Black sea fleet is expected to start a bombardment of the Bosphorus ports in active cooperation with the allied fleet, which is attempting to force its way to Constantinople through the Dardanelles, from the south.

LONDON, March 12.—The Turks are dismantling the guns defending Constantinople, the intention being that in case of a defeat, the allies should regard Constantinople as an undefended town.

Bulgaria is transporting heavy artillery to Jantse, near the Greek frontier, according to Salonki dispatches to the Daily Mail.

Allies Proceed Cautiously.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Monday, March 12.—(Via Berlin, March 11, and London, March 12.)—The fire of British warships on Turkish positions in the Dardanelles has been well directed on the whole, but at times ineffectual. The Turkish on their side have shown a fair degree of accuracy in their marksmanship and have compelled British vessels to exercise great caution in approaching their batteries. A correspondent of the Associated Press witnessed the bombardment of March 5 directed against the positions at Kild Bahr on the European side of the straits. He could see the fire of either side and note how all the shots fell. The vessels engaged were British ships of the Agamemnon type. The firing started at 11:50 a. m. and lasted until 4:25 p. m., when the British withdrew. Their fire had been rather scattered. Some of it was directed against Dardanus and other points on the European side of the strait, but damage inflicted was slight. At Kild Bahr the British fire was well directed on the whole, but it was not very effective. Of about thirty heavy shells ten fell close to the Turkish batteries, while the others mostly fell short. Many of them struck the water's edge.

Turkish Fire Effective.

One British vessel which ventured in range of the Kild Bahr batteries was subjected to well aimed fire from them. It retreated hastily. The vicinity of these particular batteries was then avoided the rest of the day. In the afternoon two other British vessels came within range of a hidden Turkish battery and had narrow escapes from the shore fire. During all the afternoon the British vessels inside the straits were obliged to maneuver actively, because as soon as any one of them stopped it invariably drew a fiery accurate Turkish fire. It was evident that the British were exercising the greatest caution.

About 3:40 o'clock in the afternoon several
