SEVEN FOOD BILLS ARE SAFELY PASSED

Commissioner Harman Secures All Changes in the Law that He Desired

SALARY RAISE WITH THE REST

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, April 14.—(Special.)—The food commissioner's department fared very well at the hands of the 1915 legislature. Of the seven bills in which Food Commissioner Harman was interested on behalf of the department not one fell by the wayside.

One of the measures passed makes it a felony to sell diseased meat. Formerly it was only a misdemeanor and the only result of most of the prosecutions was a fine that rarely exceeded $10. The dairy bill provides for dairy inspection from May 1 to October 31, whereas under the former law it was only for the three summer months. It also authorizes the department to put the buying or selling of cream on a quality basis. The weights and measures amendment provides for three inspectors instead of two.

The stock foods law requires the filing of the name of each ingredient with the food commissioner, an analysis and a fee from the manufacturer for each brand. The concentrated feeding stuffs law requires the branding of mixed feeds or parts of whole feeds with a fat, protein or fibre analysis.

The food commissioner got his $50 a year raise in salary and 50 cents a day increase for his inspectors.

No Money Provided For Court Commission

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, April 14.—(Special.)—While the legislature provided for a supreme court commission, it failed to make any appropriation for the payment of the commissioners or for the stenographer who is to assist them. The bill provided for three commissioners, who should receive a salary of $3,000 per year, and a stenographer, who would receive $1,000. However, they will have to serve without pay unless something is done to help them out.

His relatives at Norfolk paid the hotel bill and made all checks he had issued good, and paid all costs pertaining to the case. He was released yesterday and left for his home.

RED AND BLUE ARMIES IN CLASH AT LINCOLN

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, April 14.—(Special.)—Two armies met and clashed in a pitched battle in a Europe this afternoon in the hills near Belmont, a Lincoln suburb. It was the annual maneuver clash of the state farm cadet regiment, the Blue army, with the Red, the cadets from the city campus. The chief umpire was Adjutant General Hall.

District Court in Madison

(From a Staff Correspondent.) MADISON, Neb., April 14.—(Special.)—An adjourned session of the November, 1914, term of the district court convened at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon with Judge A. A. Welch presiding. The quo warranto proceedings brought by Watson Purdy to oust J. W. Fitch from the office of county commissioner, was continued on motion of William L. Dowling, attorney for Fitch, until May 17. Mr. Dowling in his motion stated that a motion was pending before the supreme court for a rehearing on the Purdy-Fitch mandamus case, a decision of which was recently handed down in favor of Purdy.

In the case of Ralph N. McKinney against Della McKinney for divorce, hearing was had on application for defendant for temporary alimony and suit money and the plaintiff ordered to pay defendant $75 for suit money on or before May 17, 1915, and $10 per month for support until further order of the court.

In the case of the State of Nebraska against Herman and Paul Lease for stealing hides, defendants were arraigned and each pleaded guilty and were sentenced to the county jail for twenty days and costs.

Lincoln Women Will Hold Moot Session of House for One Day

LINCOLN, Neb., April 14.—(Special.)—After the spring winds have swept through the open windows of representative hall at the Nebraska State Capitol building, doing violence to tobacco smoke and other evidences of mere lawmaking men, 100 women will take possession. Suffragists, members of the Lincoln Woman's club, members of the Women's Christian Temperance union, quiet women with babies in their arms, these will be representatives of the state of Nebraska for just one day.

One hundred women will be seated on the main floor as members of the house, in nearly all cases the representatives have at some time resided in the district from which they are registered. Lobbyists, of course, will be barred, but the galleries will be open to the men, if they care to come.

The speaker of the house will be Mrs. Beas Gearhart Morrison, well known throughout Nebraska as a reader and lecturer. Mrs. I. B. Schreckengast, of University, Lincoln, the wife of the vice chancellor of the Nebraska Wesleyan university. Mrs. A. M. Bunting, who has been appointed chaplain for the day, is prominent in temperance work throughout Nebraska. Mrs. A. W. Slossom of Normal will act as sergeant-at-arms. Mrs. G. L. Reeder, chairman of the day's activities, is assistant leader of the parliamentary department of the Woman's club. The day's program, commencing at 10 a. m., will be carried out as a regular session. However, the women claim that unlike the present house, they will maintain strict order and will follow Robert's rules of order to the letter.

Although the day's entertainment will be a take-off on the Nebraska legislature, the discussions will not be frivolous. Such weighty matters as minimum working hours for women and child labor, child welfare boards, tuberculosis prevention, naturalization questions and female representation on the state board of control, are bills to come up for debate and action.

After the dinner several matters of importance were taken up and discussed by members, among them that of accepting the Carnegie corporation proposition to erect a library for the city; the matter of beautifying the grounds donated by John H. Buckley for park purposes. Considerable sentiment toward paving some of the principal city streets was expressed, and a committee was appointed to meet with the city council with a view of ascertaining if it is the proper thing to do at this time.

Band concerts that are given in the city every Wednesday and Saturday evenings during the summer months are to be continued.

NEBRASKA-IOWA BOUNDARY BILL PROVES DEFECTIVE

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., April 14.—(Special Telegram.)—A result of the hurry of the last days of the Nebraska legislature has been shown in the case of H. R. 208, a bill to fix the boundary line between Nebraska and Iowa near Omaha. The bill, which appropriates $300 for making the survey and for the expenses of the commission, does not recite the appropriation in the title. This will invalidate it, according to those who say they know. The title of a bill is supposed to show what the body contains.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, April 14.—(Special.)—The State Normal board, meeting at the state house, has apportioned the amount of money to be received during the coming biennium by the four normal schools of the state for the purposes of maintenance.

The school at Chadron will get $55,000; the school at Kearney, $160,000; Peru, $190,000; and Wayne, $120,000. The normal school levy of .45 mill brought in $721,075.55 last biennium. It is anticipated that the regular increase in the assessment roll of the state will bring this amount up to about $720,000 for the present biennium.

Increase for this biennium is divided as follows: Chadron, $10,000; Kearney, $10,000; Peru, $15,000; Wayne, $10,000. At the morning meeting the board had not yet decided as to the apportionment to the building funds.

Wheat Market Goes Wild on Rumors of Big Foreign Demand

(From a Staff Correspondent.) CHICAGO, April 14.—Prospects of a world shortage in wheat available for immediate shipment resulted today in a sensational bulge in prices. Business suddenly assumed large proportions in the last hour of trading and prices fluctuated wildly, jumping up at the rate of 1/8 between transactions.

May wheat rose swiftly 4 1/2 cents to $1.51, as against $1.56 1/2 at the close last night. July wheat rose even more sharply than May, touching $1.53 1/2, a leap of 9 cents as against $1.54 1/2 at the close last night. The ascent was accompanied by assertions that the British government had ceased buying, having obtained all that was required for British needs and that a scramble was expected on the part of countries for the small remaining surplus supply.

Before the finish July soared 4 cent higher to $1.53, a total ascent of 9 1/2 cents, compared with last night. Heavy profits taking broke the market back 4 cents from the top, but on a resumption of active buying prices started upward again. The close was excited, with the market as a whole ranging 3/4 to 5 cents above last night.
