

WOMAN WOULD NOT GIVE UP

Though Sick and Suffering; At Last Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richmond, Pa. — "When I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was in a dreadfully rundown state of health, had internal troubles, and was so extremely nervous and prostrated that if I had given in to my feelings I would have been in bed. As it was I had hardly strength at times to be on my feet and... I did do was by a great effort. I could not sleep at night, and of course felt very bad in the morning, and had a steady headache.

"After taking the second bottle I noticed that the headache was not so bad, I rested better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued its use until it made a new woman of me, and now I can hardly realize that I am able to do so much as I do. Whenever I know any woman in need of a good medicine I highly praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

— Mrs. FRANK CLARK, 3146 N. Tulip St., Richmond, Pa.

Women Have Been Telling Women for forty years how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored their health when suffering with female ills. This accounts for the enormous demand for it from coast to coast. If you are troubled with any ailment peculiar to women why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It will pay you to do so. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Attorneys Argue Big Grain Suit is Already Adjudicated

Arguments of attorneys made before District Judge Estelle in the absence of the jury, occupied the second day of the suit brought by the Saunders-Westrand Grain company to recover $400,000 alleged transferred from its assets by the late Sherman Saunders and William C. Sandberg to Larson Bros. & Co. in gambling transactions.

First America-Made Weather Balloon to Be Sent Up in Omaha

A seven-foot rubber balloon will be sent up many miles above Omaha on the first clear day, according to announcement by B. J. Sherry, weather observer in charge of aerial work by the government party at the observation farm near Elk City and Dennington. The first flight will be done as a test of the balloons, which are the first made in America, since the war cut off the usual supply from Russia.

The average height reached by the observation balloons hitherto is 10,000 feet. They carry no passengers, but have instruments attached, which record information about conditions of weather, air and wind far above the clouds.

The balloon will be released from Fort Omaha, the hydrogen gas plant there being used to inflate the big rubber bag.

McGrew Tells of Affairs on Coast

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McGrew are just back from a two months' visit on the Pacific coast. "This was my first trip to southern California for twenty-seven years," said Mr. McGrew, "and naturally I found many changes. Los Angeles, then a town of 20,000 or 30,000 people, now extends sixty miles from the mountains to San Pedro harbor and claims a population of 600,000. San Diego, then a semi-Mexican village of 5,000 or 10,000 people, now has a population of 90,000 and a seaport trade of which they are very proud.

Through the kindness of our friends, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Carpenter of Iowa, we motored more than 1,000 miles over a fine road as can be found in any part of the world. We met many old Nebraska friends, among them the Bidwells and the Morans in their flower-sprinkled homes at Hollywood, and spent a delightful day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Welsh on the Up-Islands, in their lemon and orange groves. The exposition at San Diego is most beautifully located, out in the receiving the attendance that is warranted. Some writer aptly described the San Diego exposition "as a gem" and the San Francisco one "as a collection of gems."

"Business conditions in California are not of the best, but with their usual optimistic spirit, they look for early revival. We often heard of Omaha as being located in one of the bright spots and every one seemed to have a good word for our substantial city."

As for himself, Mr. McGrew declares he would prefer to live in a country that produced wheat, breakfast bacon and porthouse steak rather than where fruit and flowers are the chief production, although to spend a few of the winter months among the delightful surroundings of southern California should be esteemed as a great privilege.

Traveling Man's Experience.
"In the summer of 1888 I had a very severe attack of cholera morbus. Two physicians worked over me from 4 a. m. to 8 p. m. without giving me any relief and then told me they did not expect me to live; that I had best telegraph for my family. Instead of doing so, I gave the hotel porter 50 cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and take no substitute. I took a double dose according to the directions and went to sleep after the second dose. At 5 o'clock the next morning I was called by my order and took a train for my next stopping point, a well man but feeling rather shaky, although to spend a few of the winter months among the delightful surroundings of southern California should be esteemed as a great privilege."

RAIN AND SNOW OVER ENTIRE WEST

Farmers Have Fears for the Fruit and the Growing Small Grain Crops.

HEAVY FROST WAS PREDICTED

What the present cold spell, asserted to be most severe during any May in many years, is going to do to the fruit and the growing crops is a thing that is agitating the farmers, according to advices to the railroad men around the local headquarters.

While it is not so very cold in the immediate vicinity of Omaha, the railroad reports freezing weather out through the state and in South Dakota, Wyoming and Colorado. Warmer weather is predicted for today.

According to the morning weather report of the Burlington, covering the southern, central and northern portions of the state, in many localities winter weather is the rule. With the exception of the extreme northwest corner of Nebraska there is snow or rain over the entire state, the precipitation that started in Wednesday continuing yesterday and ranging from one-half to one and one-half inches.

Burlington operators reported snow that ranged from flurries to two inches during the night and still snowing at Grand Island, St. Paul, Aurora, Loup City, Tyronis, Broken Bow, Sutton, Ericson, Durwell in the north and central portions of the state, and all the way from Hastings to Denver on the main line.

Rains All Night.

At points not reporting snow there was rain that continued during the night and was still falling. The coldest point was at Durwell, where a temperature of 2 degrees above zero was recorded. Elsewhere on the system, west of Grand Island and Hastings, north into South Dakota and Wyoming and down into Kansas, the readings were 2 to 40 degrees above, with the wind blowing from the northwest.

Along the Northwestern it was raining over all of the Nebraska territory, with snow starting at Harrison, this state, and continuing across to Lander, Wyo. The temperatures were from 20 to 40 degrees above, with a warmer spot in the vicinity of Crawford, where a small area showed temperatures of from 40 to 45 above.

The Union Pacific had a steady rain all along its main line from Omaha to Julesburg. West of the last named place and as far out as Rawlins there was snow to a depth of from one to four inches, with temperatures above freezing. On the Nebraska branches north and south of the main line there was rain everywhere that still continued to fall at a late hour yesterday morning.

Jury Believes Man's Story that Officer Needed Some Credit

Henry Daulson, who explained to a jury that a policeman arrested him on a charge of breaking and entering in order to get credit for himself, was acquitted in Judge English's district court.

Police Officer William J. Turner, chief witness for the state, testified he was standing at Sixteenth and Harney streets early in the morning when he heard a noise in Helmer Nielsen's saloon, 313 South Sixteenth street. He ran over and caught Daulson robbing the cash register, he asserted.

Daulson declared he was passing the saloon on the way to work when the officer met him. Turner placed a revolver against his stomach, forced him through a broken glass door into the saloon, he said, and then called the patrol wagon.

Evidence was produced showing that Daulson had served two terms in the penitentiary on similar charges, but the jury accepted his story.

Could Join Kaiser's Navy With This Name

The Kaiser's navy is not the only one having sailors named Wilhelm and Johannes. Wilhelm Herman Johannes Jahn has just enlisted in Uncle Sam's navy here, and has been sent to the training station at Great Lakes, Ill., as an apprentice seaman. He is the son of a German farmer near Basile, Minn., Knox county, Nebraska, but was born in the United States himself. Although recently turned down because of a bad cold, when he applied for enlistment, he was persistent in wanting to serve his country, and applied again after curing his cold.

Commercial Club to Boost Annexation

The Commercial club plans to take an active part in the campaign preceding the annexation election, which has been set for June 1. At that time Omaha, South Omaha and Dundee will vote on the proposition of consolidating these cities into one municipality to be known as Greater Omaha. Florence is not included in the proclamation the governor issued for the election. The Commercial Club took an active part in the fight to get the bill through the legislature, having a committee on the ground at the state house practically all the time. It does not intend to weaken its interest until it actually finds the consolidation effected.

TOBACCO DEALERS MUST PAY PENALTY FOR DELAY

Many dealers in tobacco are being forced to pay penalties of 50 per cent to the government because they did not secure their special licenses on time. The law went into effect November 1, shortly after its passage as an emergency war revenue measure. Even the small dealers, subject to a tax of only $3.50 for the eight months' period, ending with the fiscal year June 30, have to pay a penalty of $1.50 if they did not secure their special tax stamp on time.

Keep the Children Bright and Happy

Happy youngsters must be healthy. The digestive organs of children are delicate and give out readily as do those of their elders, and the result is equally distressing. When the bowels are clogged with an accumulation of refuse from the stomach, the child naturally becomes cross and fretful from the discomfort, and is often punished for temper when medical attention is really what is needed.

The next time your child is cross and unhappy, without apparent reason, try giving it a mild laxative. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a mild, pleasant tasting combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, and is especially recommended for children because of its freedom from all opiate or narcotic drugs and its gentle action. It is sold in drug stores everywhere. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

COCONUT OIL MAKES A SPLENDID SHAMPOO

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulled coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as it can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulled coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and few ounces is enough for all everyone in the family for months.—Advertisement.
