Omaha's Cup of Coffee

Omaha consumes somewhere in the neighborhood of 200,000 cups of coffee morning, noon and night. Estimating 40 cups to the pound, this is about 5,475,000 pounds a year.

Yet the combined output of Omaha coffee manufacturers is much less than the consumption of Omaha alone. They tell us that only about 1-5 of their output is bought by Omaha people.

If all Omaha would take to drinking Omaha-made coffee, there would be a great commercial revival.
