On the strength of encouraging advices from other points, shippers put up their droves on a steady to 5c higher basis. Their early purchases looked a full nickel up, but they beught hogs later at no better than steady prices. These saies ranged around $1.5007.50, the latter figure being top for the day, and equaling the night figure for the mouth.

Packers on the other hand opened out very hearish, and their early filds were right close to a dime lower. Sellers put up a hard fight and values did improve slightly, but in the end the bulk of the killer hogs sold on a 5010c lower hasts.

Bulk of packer hogs moved at $7.405 7.45, as against Saturday's long string at 7.50. On the whole the average was not over 2 nickel lower, the high shipper

Five buildred garments for bables and hildren of refugees in the war zone were hipped to Lucerno Switzerland, Monday opal church. The collection was under taken by Mrs. W. R. Adams, "Mother of the Visiting Nurses association, upon receipt of a personal letter from the dean of the Episcopal church at Lucerne to Mrs. Robert Daugherty, whose husband Dr. Daugherty, was formerly connected

The dean detailed the pitiful condition of the refugees and especially the little ones. He told of an infant who was wrapped only in newspapers. touched the hearts of local women that they immediately set to work to collect baby layettes and children's garments. The Kilpatrick store offered to pack the goods ready for shipment. It is expected that most of the clothing will go to the children of Belgian refugees.

Many Tourists Stopping in Omaha

Tourists are beginning to appear i numbers at Omaha's hotels, although, s far, they are regarded merely as the advance grard of the many more expected late in the season. Most of them are what early for the main body of auto tourists to put in an appearance. They are bound both east and west, and al take time to "stop off at Omaha" and take in the attractions of the Gate City on their way. Clerks Wilhelt and Diffee of the Fontenelle say that about a score a day register there, and the Henshaw, Rome, Paxton, Loyal. Merchants and other hotels also report good tourist business.
