

ANGRY DOG BITES FOUR OMAHA MEN

Cur with Disposition to Attack Everybody in Sight Runs Wild at 25th and Leavenworth.

IS NOT MAD, MERELY ANNOYED

Although atmospheric conditions are not exactly conducive to a flourishing mad dog crop, nevertheless an animal seeming to be greatly annoyed, if not downright angry, bit three individuals yesterday and almost chewed a perfectly good theatrical manager.

Dr. B. C. Rasmus of the Lord Lister hospital staff while attending a patient at the home of Mrs. M. McPherson, 129 South Twenty-fourth avenue, had just run the front door bell when a man, black and white, evidently with a leaning toward the bull species, appeared from around the corner, leaped to the porch and bit him on the left foot. Meanwhile Rasmus's right boot had described a semicircle in the air and catching the attacking canine midships lifted him to the sidewalk, where he proceeded on his way.

Bites James Bolen.

James Bolen, 725 Newport avenue, was the next victim, and received a slash on the ankle when the cur dashed past him at Twenty-fourth and St. Mary's avenue. Bolen's wound consisted merely of a badly damaged trouser's leg and the breaking of the skin on the attacked member.

As it proceeded on its way the dog evidently controlled its temper to some extent, because at Twenty-fifth and Jackson streets it approached Timothy Sullivan, Benson peddler, in a very deceiving manner. Sullivan is fond of pets and stooped to pat it on the head. But this apparently enraged the animal, for it nipped him on the fingers.

With considerable agility Sullivan sprang to his wagon and escaped further lacerations, while the brute started for new fields.

Hunter Bents Dog to It.

At Twenty-fifth and Leavenworth streets Assistant Manager James Hunter of the Empress was suddenly confronted by the almost-bulldog, which sprang for a pair of purple socks that Mr. Hunter was wearing. Hunter, with careful precision, duplicated Dr. Rasmus's maneuvers and then climbed two rungs of a nearby telephone pole, where he made faces at the dog, until it became so furious that, with wild, outlandish noises, it made way through a vacant lot to the south and disappeared.

Late this afternoon Officer Le Roy Wade located the beast and shot it. Dr. Rasmus has had the head cut off and will send it this evening to the Pasteur Institute, Chicago.

Former Chadronites Hold Reunion Here on Third of July

Former residents of Chadron, Neb., met in the city council chamber Friday evening, elected Dr. P. T. Barber president of a local organization and decided to hold a celebration July 3 at Elmwood park. Mrs. C. A. Tennant was elected secretary.

At this first annual reunion Chief Justice Andrew Morrison of Lincoln will be the principal speaker. Mayor Dahlman, who was mayor of Chadron before he moved here, also will be on the program. There are about 300 former Chadron residents living in Greater Omaha. It is expected to hold a reunion every year.

Name Woman from Dundee or South Omaha on Board

Commissioner Hummel of the city park department states that the fifth member of the new recreation board will be a woman of South Omaha or Dundee. It is expected this appointment will be made next week.

Elkhorn Has Plan to Boost the Village

Upon invitation, D. M. Carr Friday night addressed the Commercial club of Elkhorn, outlining a general plan for boosting the village and working up interest in a festival that is to be held there this fall.

Elkhorn, though having a population of about 500, has a Commercial club with a membership of fifty. At the meeting it was decided to widen the scope of the organization and admit to membership such farmers of Elkhorn precinct as desire to join.

Wappich Would Like Fred Anheuser's Job

Attorney W. F. Wappich, member of the old fire and police board, is seeking the appointment of city prosecutor. Fred Anheuser, present incumbent, is holding the position by reason of a law which entitles him to remain until a successor shall have been duly named and confirmed.

BUTCHERS AND GROCERS TO HOLD ANOTHER PICNIC

Not entirely satisfied with the quantity of train that they brought when they held their picnic last Thursday, next Thursday the Omaha retail grocers and butchers will have another picnic at Krug park. Upon this occasion they will close their stores and markets at noon and spend the balance of the day at the park. The picnic this time is for the purpose of raising off the sport events that were on the card for last Thursday, but cancelled. In addition to these events a number of features will be added to the program.

OLD-TIMERS FROM TERRE HAUTE HOLD REUNION

Reminiscences were exchanged for several hours at the home of J. D. Weaver Thursday night, when Mr. and Mrs. Weaver entertained Charles Nehf, one of the T. P. A.'s from Terre Haute. Nehf has been a jeweler in Terre Haute, Ind., for forty-three years. Mr. Nehf and Mrs. J. D. Weaver were school children together in the old home town. So when the Weavers learned that Nehf was in Omaha they took him to the Hanshaw Hotel and packed him home to talk over old times.

MUSIC

THE Tuesday Morning Musical club, which recently revised its constitution and enlarged its membership so that it might fill an even more important part in Omaha's musical life than heretofore, announces the following program for its coming season.

The afternoon musicales, which are made up from representative Omaha talent, promise many treats to all who are familiar with the work of these chosen. The evening recitals will present visiting artists of national reputation. Harold Bauer is admitted one of the great pianists of the present day. Mme. Homer is one of the favorite singers of the Metropolitan Opera company, known as widely by her concert programs as by her operatic successes, and the Zoellner Quartet, which has only been heard once very informally in Omaha, is a sterling chamber music organization, which is noted for its repertoire of meritorious modern music. The program:

Afternoon Musicales.

West Sisters' quartet with piano, one group numbers. Mrs. Beulah Dale Turner, two group numbers. Mrs. Eldridge, two group numbers. Miss Ruth Flynn, one group number. December. Miss Hazel Silver, two group numbers. Miss Emily Cleve, two group numbers. Mrs. Wagoner, two group numbers. January. Vocal recital. February. Mrs. Silver will arrange a song cycle for four voices for one-half of the program. Miss Weeks, pianist, one-half of program. March: Students' program. April: Mr. Cox's orchestra. Aria, Mrs. Louise Hansen Wylie. Concerto, Miss Marie Egan.

Evening Recitals.

Tuesday evening, November 16, 1915 at Boyd theater, Harold Bauer. Thursday evening, January 13, 1916, at Boyd theater, Mrs. Louise Hansen Wylie. Tuesday evening, February 23, 1916, at Fontenelle ball room, Zoellner string quartet. Madame Julia Clausen, the great Swedish mezzo contralto, has been engaged to sing at the coming season of the Northwest Singsong in Omaha, and then to sing at the Chicago Opera company, under the management of Andreas Dippel, and will be heard in opera after a short tour of the country in concert.

Dr. Karl Muck, the conductor of the Boston Symphony orchestra, that plays at the Omaha Auditorium October 1, and Mrs. Muck have taken advantage of the trip of the Boston Symphony orchestra to California to see a great deal of the country in the west. They did not return with the orchestra, but remained in San Francisco for a few days, then spent ten days in Yosemite valley, where they did a great deal of trapping. Returning to San Francisco they have now gone to southern California. Los Angeles and San Diego, and from there are going to the Grand canyon, where they spend another week. From the Grand canyon they strike north to Colorado for the Garden of the Gods and the like, then go to Yellowstone and Glacier parks. They expect to be back in Boston in July and the remainder of the summer they will spend in Maine. Dr. Muck has become a strong convert to the slogan "See America First."

Paderewski, who plays in Omaha at the Auditorium January 17, and who is in this country organizing a system of relief for the sufferers from the war in Poland, received a cablegram from Madame Melba, who is also one of the big features of the charity concert course, the other day saying that she had raised in concerts $13,000, or $65,000, for the benefit of the Poles. Madame Melba has been devoting nearly the entire winter and spring to work of this kind. In April she received an urgent cablegram from Mr. Paderewski asking her if she could do something for his suffering countrymen. Her cable was a reply. Madame Melba is planning to arrive in America the end of August by way of San Francisco.

Geraldine Farrar, the popular prima donna, who undoubtedly will be one of the greatest attractions of the charity concert course and the first of the great singers to "break into the movies," is now established in Los Angeles, where she will be until the end of July posing for motion pictures. Miss Farrar writes that she is interested in her new work. She is posing now for Blaes's "Carmen." The films will carry her personality throughout the country, ultimately to the towns where she is only known today by means of the talking machine.

Paderewski has been in this country since the end of April to organize general committees to handle systematically the work which is being done for the relief of war sufferers in Poland. He expects shortly to go to the Pacific coast to Paso Robles, where he is going to take the cure. A year ago last winter, when he was taken sick on the coast, he went to Paso Robles and received great benefit. He is in good condition now and the "cure" that he is to take is more in the nature of a prevention in order that he will be in the best of condition for the long tour which will begin next fall.

RULE OF REASON FOR THE FOURTH

Mayor and Police Chief Say Omaha Will Again Try to Set a Good Example for Others.

SAFETY FIRST IS TO RULE

A sane and safe Fourth of July for Greater Omaha! Mayor Dahlman, Superintendent Kugel of the police department and Acting Chief of Police Dempsey have voiced their sentiments, asking the people of Greater Omaha to co-operate in setting another example of how the national independence day may be observed and patriotism conserved without maiming or killing one person of the community.

Last year Omaha observed the glorious Fourth in a commendable manner. Accidents were few and of minor importance. The public officials look for a better record this year and they expect Omaha will be pointed to with pride as an American city in which a "sane and safe Fourth of July" is more of fact than fancy.

Double Bill Called Off, but Another is Carded for Today

Provided the weather man will be kind and true, Omaha will get to see its first bargain matinee of the season.

$1,635,000 Hidden In This Year's Goodyear Tires

Not an Excuse
Let us first explain that this is not an excuse for over-price. Our this year's price reduction—made February 1st—will save Goodyear users about five million dollars this year.

And that was our third reduction in two years, totaling 45 per cent. Our matchless output gives you in Goodyears a value never before known in tires.

Goodyear Extras
Goodyear Fortified Tires have five costly features found in no other tire. They combat your five major troubles in better ways than anyone else attempts.

GOOD YEAR
AKRON, OHIO
Fortified Tires
These tires, in addition, have other features not commonly employed.
If we omitted those extras, this year's probable output would cost us $1,635,000 less. That is, we could add to our profits about $5450 per day.
Most of these extras are hidden. Tires that lack them look as strong as Goodyears. And you would never know it, save by months of use, if we left them out.
$500,000 Added
This year's improvements—just our latest additions—cost us $600,000 yearly. Most of it goes into extra rubber—all into extra wear.
And this much is added—this half million dollars—at a time when we save users five million dollars in prices. At a time when some makers are skimping to meet competition.
Then our Research Department—to find more betterments still—will cost us $100,000.
Yours for the Asking
These extras are yours for the asking. Tires without them will be offered so long as you will buy them. But any dealer, if you ask him, will supply you Goodyear tires. Goodyear has for years outsold any other tire. It is gaining new users faster than we can supply them. And those extras did it.
