RUMORS are flying thick and fast these days. One of Omaha's youthful bachelors is meeting his friends with the most amity of smiles these days, and when rank outsiders asked for the reason of this heyday glee they were told by the inner circles of the man's friendships that his engagement was soon to be announced to an out-of-town girl.

The girl visited here in the early winter, and was the guest of one of the popular matrons of the younger set, an enthusiastic member of one of the weekly bridge clubs.

The said gentleman is short, dark and engaged in the insurance business. His father is with one of the large packing houses in South Omaha, and a well known golfer.

KILLS HIS SISTER BECAUSE OF DREAM

George Pappandopolus Says Dream Lasted Twelve Nights, During Which He Came to Omaha.

HAD TO PURIFY HER SOUL

George Pappandopolus, 28 years old, whose trial on a charge of shooting his sister, Ellen Arbanilis, will begin this morning in Judge English's district court, declared yesterday in his cell in county jail that a dream, which lasted twelve successive nights, sent him to Omaha from St. Louis to purify his sister's soul by slaying her.

Mrs. Arbanilis, who was 23 years of age, deserted her husband for a sweetheart, said her brother. The breaking of one of two mirrors, which in his dream symbolized his two sisters, gave him notice of her fall from virtue last July, and last year the first came July 5. Both years Harvard sent in the first shipment of the new crop.

Both grain and railroad men assert that the season is now so far advanced and wheat is in such perfect condition that a bumper crop is certain, with the exception of perhaps limited and isolated sections, where the growing grain may be injured by wind or hail.

Anticipating one of the biggest crops raised since Nebraska took high rank as a winter wheat raising state, the railroad officials are laying their plans for a big movement of new grain, commencing soon after the middle of July.

All of the roads have put their freight cars through the shops and already are commencing to lay them in an adjacent at the stations out in the grain belt, in order that they may be ready to load as soon as the wheat is ready to move.

Railroads Prepare for a Heavy Run of Wheat This Summer

At the Omaha Grain exchange grain dealers are now not looking for the first of the Nebraska new wheat much before the middle of July, and some of them are certain that it will not commence to come in for several days later.

ONE JITNEY MAN TO QUIT AND THE OTHER TO STICK

"Will the jitneys go out of business?" is a question being asked quite generally since the passage of the city ordinance imposing heavy bonds and occupation taxes upon the "Bis."

"The jitneys will go out of business," says one of the men who are now not looking for the first of the Nebraska new wheat much before the middle of July, and some of them are certain that it will not commence to come in for several days later.

HUMBOLDT MOTORIST IS RELEASED ON OWN BOND

H. P. Bonison of Humboldt, Ia., who, while piloting a machine at Thirteenth and Douglas street, struck and injured Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Nicholas, 113 North Twenty-third street, was released from custody on a $200 cash bond, furnished by himself.

The accident occurred late Tuesday afternoon and although neither Mr. or Mrs. Nicholas was seriously hurt, witnesses asserted the man was driving recklessly. It was on this charge that he was arrested.

HANSON HEARS PAROLED MAN JOINS THE ARMY

Army Recruiting Sergeant Hanson was "all but up" the other day when he read in a newspaper dispatch from Lincoln that fifty-five inmates of the penitentiary had been paroled and that one of the men had enlisted in the army.

He immediately wrote to the warden and received an answer saying that they knew nothing of any ex-convict having enlisted in the army.

The sergeant points out that no man who ever has served a term in any penitentiary or jail or reformatory is eligible to join the army.

BRYAN'S LIFE MASK MADE BY BORGLUM

THIEVES JOIN FORCES AND BOTH ARE PINCHED

The old saying, "When thieves fall out, somebody gets the hook," or words to that effect, was completely reversed Tuesday afternoon. Following is the proof:

John Kruse stole a pushcart somewhere in the vicinity of Cuming street and R. Baden took a suitcase from a Leavenworth street domicile. Both men committed the offense at the same time, and a half hour later met by accident at Fourteenth and Chicago street. As each was searching for a common purchaser of the swag, a combination of forces was formulated and the pair started on pushing the pushcart, which now contained the suitcase. In less than five minutes they both were housed in the city jail.

The officer on the beat, not being able to allow the combination to get by his suspicious eyes.

In police court both offenders were sentenced to the county jail for twenty days.
