HALT IN THE EXPORT DEMAND

OMAHA, June 28, 1915. The wheat placed on the tables was quickly taken up at an advance of 1450 to 240c. There was not much change in the corn market, although the demand was good and the sales comparatively heavy. Oats were a trifle weak and were quoted at 150 lower. There has been an almost complete halt in the export demand for cash wheat, as the buying power is now centered in one concern, and it is feared that the price will be made by the buying side.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO, June 28.—Wet delay to harvesting brought about a decided upturn today in the value of wheat. The result was a steady close at %c to 2%42%c net advance. of the storm effects the movement of new wheat would be much hindered and that the main pressure of hedging sales would not be felt in July. The consequence was persistent buying of options for that month. Every dip in wheat led to a widening of demand with an ensuing OMAHA LIVE STOCK MARKET widening of demand with an ensuing fresh advance.

Active demand for old wheat to be shipped to the seaboard tended materially to encourage the bulls. Premiums over the July delivery rose in some cases fully 2 cents above the rates current on Saturday. In this connection more attention was given to the falling off in the United States visible supply total and to word that arrivals of spring wheat in the northwest had become unstansantly small.

Corn, like wheat, was affected by adverse crop news, the result of storm weather. Despite Argentine offers easter demand here was fairly active and stocks were steadily continuing to meit. Hedging sales had a depressing effect on oats. A leading authority intimated that the yield of oats this season might exceed the record crop of 1812.

Although at first the provision market the record crop of 1912.

Although at first the provision market gave way with prices for logs, a rally took place later. Packers were buyers and there were rumors of immense export sales.

CATTLE-Receipts were very fair this norning, 149 cars being reported in, but twas the smallest Monday's run since our weeks ago. As compared with a car ago there was a gain of a few hundred head.

The market on beef steers opened allow card ago there was a gain of a tew for died head.

The market on beef steers opened slow and buyers' early bids were generally a little lower than last week's high close. Sellers, however, held on firmly, and in the end forced buyers to pay ateady, or close to steady, for the big bulk of the receipts. There was nothing very choice in the way of full loads to test out the top.

Cows and heifers were in good demand Cows and heiters were in good demand and sold very freely at prices that were good and strong as compared will last week's close.

Stockers and feeders did not show any material change compared with last week. Quotations on cattle: Good to choice yearlings, $8.75/92.35; good to choice cornfed beeves, $8.30/98.25; fair to good cornfed beeves, $8.30/98.25; common to fair

HOGS-It was a long, hard fight in the hog yards this morning. In the first risce receipts were the largest for a Monday that they have been since the middle of May, and to make it still worse buyers had made up their minds that receipts would run heavy during the remainder of the week. Some were estimating the receipts for Tuesday as high as 200 cars. At the same time advices from all other selling points indicated mitre or less of a break everywhere. Unfortunately shipping orders were very small, so that the market did not have its usual support from that source. The more urgent orders were quickly filled and some of the buyers began dropping out, so that before all the hogs could be disposed of the market eased off again, becoming very dull and weak on what was left unsold.

SHEEF-Prices went up like a rocket this morning. Spring iambs sold around 40c higher than the best time last week, and the trade was so active at the advance that everything was dilaposed of before 10 o'clock in the morning. The best Idaho springs sold at $10.25 as against $9.90, the top last week.

Ewes were 10c higher than last week, the top being $5.50 as against $5.55 last week. The offerings were very light there being only a few scattering lots on sale. The market was also practically bare of vearilings and old wethers, there not being enough in sight to cut any figure in the trade.

Omaha was the big spot on the map this morning, having more sheep and lambs, according to the early estimate, than any other market. At this point thirty-four cars were reported in the yards about thirty cars of them being spring lambs. Idaho furnished most of the supply, there being a few Oregons, but very little stuff from any other state.

but very little stuff from any other state.

Everything was in seliers favor this morning, light receipts and stronger markets being reported at all other selling points. At the same time local receipts were by no means burdensome, being silinity smaller than on Monday of lest week, though larger than any previous Monday for several weeks back. As compared with a year ago there was a sight decrease. In addition to the moderate run today there was also a prospect that the receipts for the remainder of the week would be far from heavy.

Railroad conditions, particularly in the west, showed an increase of tonnage over the corresponding period of last year. This applied mainly to grains, miscellaneous freight being smaller.
