American Meat Men Appeal to U. S. State Department to Insist Britain Free Cargoes.

ACTION PURPOSELY DELAYED

WASHINGTON, July 15 .- American neat packers appealed to the State department today to demand that Great Britain stop interfering with their cargoes consigned to neutral ports and settle for $14,000,000 worth of their products now held up in prize courts. They charge the British government with the destruction of commerce in food products between the United States and other hears of it. neutral nations.

After two conferences between the packers and Chandler Anderson, special counsellor of the State department, it was announced that the department would make representations to Great be done immediately, the communication dealing specifically with the complain of the packers and not going into the general subject of interference with neutral trade under the order in council against commerce with Germany, which soon is to be made the subject of another note.

Wilson on his return. The general belief is that the president will be here for a regular cabinet meeting next Tuesday and that he may bring with him from Cornish, N. H., a memo randum or rough draft of a note to be sent to Germany. He will exchange views first with Secretary Lansing, who, it is believed, also has mapped out a draft of a note.

Decision on the policy to be followed probably will be reached at the cabinet esting and the new note may be completed by the end of next week.

Will Call on Lansing. Before the president returns, Count won Bernstorff, the German amhassador, will call on Secretary Lansing to explain at length the viewpoint of his government. The ambassador recommended to his foreign office the inclusion in the last note of those paragraphs expressing the hope that the United States and Germany would work together for the adop tion of the principle of the freedom of the seas. He places much significance on the expressed willingness of Germany to follow the lead of the United States on this question and thinks that the way is thereby open for the United States to mediate the entire controversy over the rules of maritime warfare as they affect neutral rights.

controversy. With the $14,000,000 of packers' products held up in the prize courts and with the settlement of the controversy as remote as it was months ago, the packers are not inclined to take further chances in reopening trade with neutral countries niess they are able to receive ansurances that their products will be allowed to arrive at the ports desig-

"In their conferences with Mr. Anderson the packers were insistent that the American government should take firm on, and their statement says of this of the subject:

"The packers assert that the attitude of Great Britain sceme incredible in view of the many adjustments they have ade to most the English government in its demands. They take the position of being entitled to full compensation for beir goods, and declare that as Amern citizens they should be afforded tection by the United States, and that this government should take a determined nd to protect their rights to ship to Cases that Are Emphasized.

The statement lays particular stress oon the cases of five cargoes shinped ore November 25 last in neutral steamfor Copenhagen and selzed on the high seas on the ground that they were ultimately destined for Germany. These cases, postponed from time to time, are et to come up in the prize court again tomorrow. The ships involved are the Alfred Noble, Bjørstjarne, Fridland, Kim and Arkansas. Three sailed before the uncil was issued and two before the order was known to the pack-The packers maintain that the ids had been sold at neutral ports bere shipment, or "where the goods had not been so sold, then to the consignors agents for sale by them to bonn fide neutrai purchasers at such notitral ports."

packers call attention to a statement made by Premier Asquith in the House of Commons March 1 last "that als with cargoes which have sailed before the date of this notification (orderin-council) will not he affected."

The statement continues:

vily after the beginning of the way the British ambassador at Washington assured the United States government that Great Britain would not inorfere with the trade in foodstuffs between neutrals. With this in mind the packers say they were justified in making their shipments to neutral ports in nestral ships.

Wilson made progress today in the do velopment of his ideas as to the next stop in the policy to be pursued by the United States toward the submarine warfare of Germany.
