GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Prices and Quality of Wheat So Irregular Comparison with Saturday's Quotations Impossible.

PREMIUM ON YELLOW CORN

OMAHA. Aug. 2, 1915.

The prices and quality of the wheat on the floor today were so irregular that it was impossible to make any comparison with Saturday's quotations. Corn receipts were good, but the market was very irregular and there were not many sales reported. The market sold 5/c higher to 5/c lower, with the yellow commodity 14/c 1920 premium ever the white.

Oats receipts were light and the demand was fair. The oats market was quoted 5/c higher.

There has been considerable delay in the marketing of the new wheat crop, due to the uncertain weather the last few weeks, but it is thought that sunshine will take the place of clouds and the movements from the hands of the farmers will increase to large proportions. Liverpool market closed today on account of holiday.

Clearances were: Wheat and flour equal to 275,000 bu. corn, 15,000 bu; oats, 7,000 bu.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Frost, black rust and wet weather left no chance today for the bears in wheat. The market closed strong at an advance of 1%c to 1%c net advance. Corn wound up with a gain of %c to %c and oats %c to %c to %c%c. Frovisions finished unchanged to 12%c higher. Despite occasional moderate reactions, wheat bulls had the advantage throughout the day. At the start reports of wet weather damage and of delay to the movement in winter wheat crop formed the chief influence that caused the market to advance. Subsequently news of sharp frosts in the Canadian wheat belt stimulated the buying higher. Still later a dispatch from a leading crop expert telling of black rust on every stalk in and around Fargo, N. D., led to the strongest advance of the session. The close was at the topmost point reached.

Corn was swayed mainly by the Prices on Board of Trade. Corn was swayed mainly by the strength of wheat. Bearish crop esti-mates, though were effective to some ex-week and 3,500 head lighter than two weeks ago, but a gain of more than 1,00 head as compared with the corresponding day a year ago.

Higher prices for hogs tended to lift provisions. Figures on contract stocks hore turned out to be larger than had been generally expected.

With extremely light supplies and encouraging advices from other narkets the shipper trade opened strong and fully ic higher, and before the close outside buyers had purchased about half of the receipts, at prices that were anyway a nickel higher, and possibly more than that in some cases. Best lights sold a high as $1.00, and in comparison to the size of the supplies, there was a better representation over $1.00 than at last week's close.

Packers did not seem to take much interest in the trade at any time. Shippers had shortened up what was at best a small supply, until there was little better than a good purchase for any one of them left, and their early bids were no more than steady. Buyers were so indifferent that it looked as though they could set their own figures, but sellers hung on until in the end most of the killing hogs sold on abgut the same basis as the shippers, that is around 5c higher. The market continued unever and supplies were so light that there were hardly enough sales at any one price to make a bulk. Nothing much sold below $5.50, although there was quite a sprinkling around this price, and from that on up to $6.40 caught the most of the packing hogs, Range of prices paid by killer buyers was much wider than that, however, as the packers bought some light hogs, and whenever they did they naturally were forced to pay shipper prices to get them. Movement was draggy all through, but supplies were so light that a fair clearance was made before 11 oclock.

only other point to have any sort of a supply.

According to early reports, there was a weaker trend to lamb values at all points, and the local market was no exception, packers making their opening offers on a quarter lower basis. Sellers had priced their offerings fully steady and in some cases higher, and as no one was willing to concede anything it was late in the day before any trading of consequence was done.

In the end buyers gave in and paid fully steady prices for the bulk of the lambs. Prices on paper showed some advance, as Traders in Doubt at Opening as to Which Way to Turn.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—In view of the eccentric performances of the market last week, with its furious speculations in a rew volatile favorities and evidences of their instability at the bigh prices to which they were elevated, tradera were in doubt at the opening to by which way to turn. There was no incilination to attempt a further spectacular marking up of the war stocks. Public buying of these issuits reli off and the ambunt of imperial to attempt a further spectacular marking up of these issuits reli off and the ambunt of orders accumulating over the weeksend was the smallest of several weeks. The mail tendency was to take profits when opportunity offered rather than add to the load of speculative holdings and the rather quiet opening was marked by small changes.

The first grew strong presently, as it became apparent that the war shares were holding well as there was no great pressure in any quarter. Trading was no longer concentrated in a group of favorities, but was expanded to all classes of stocks. A comprehensive rise followed, continuing through the day with no severe setback. The war stocks made good gains, as did coppers, fertilizers, oil shares and other industrials. In the railroad division there was a broad and substantial upturn, which was regarded by the holders committed to the long side as one of the most encouraging developments of the day. Total sales were 800,000 shares.

Further trade reports of a favorable maum prisual pushess as well as from the good showing of the June returns. Pennsylvania reported an increase of more than $1,000.—000 in operating income for June.

The copper shares were exceptionally strong and active. For copper metal there were reports that a further shading of prices would be made by the large weeks.
