JITNEY MEN PLAN FIGHT

Bus Operators Refuse to File Applications at Des Moines and Start Lawsuit.

APPEAL TO SUPREME COURT

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 6.—(Special Telegram.)—Jitney bus operators have appealed to the Iowa supreme court for a stay of enforcement of the recently amended jitney bus ordinance which will otherwise become effective Saturday night.

Superintendent of Safety Mitchell has served notice on all jitneyers that wholesale arrests will follow if they do not comply with the ordinance before Sunday. The council met this morning to pass the jitney applications for licenses, but none was filed, as the operators are determined to fight the ordinance to a finish.

Autos Used on Rural Delivery. Rural free delivery service by means of motor vehicles will be established out of fifteen Iowa towns September 1. The average length of the route will be about fifty miles and the salary of the carriers will be around $1,700 per year. The towns are as follows: Anthon, Armstrong, Churdan, Estherville, Jefferson, Grand Junction, Little Sioux, Mount Hamill, Mount Pleasant, Onawa, Paton, Salem, Salix, Soranton and Whiting. Four routes will be established at Mount Pleasant, three out of Estherville, three out of Jefferson and two each out of Onawa and Soranton, and one each out of the other towns.

Small Grain Loss Large. The loss of small grain in southeastern Iowa will be fully 50 per cent of the crop in the judgment of W. W. Bentler of Centerville, a collector for the J. I. Case Threshing Machine company. "I have been over the roads in southern Iowa every day lately," said Mr. Bentler, "and in my territory there will be a big loss of small grain, due to the late rains and wet weather. I suppose it will be around 50 per cent in that country; in some places it is not that bad, but when you remember that the crops in the valleys of the Grand and the Chariton rivers will be a total loss, it is easy to believe it. There are hundreds of acres of small grain there that there has been no attempt to cut at all, and some that will never be touched. As regards corn, we are not nearly so bad off, even though there are hundreds of acres that have never been plowed. If frosts hold off we will have a fair crop."

Harding Won't Talk Politics. Lieutenant Governor Harding is making no announcements as to his plans with reference to his gubernatorial candidacy. He persistently refuses to talk for publication with reference to this subject. "The people are not interested in politics now, they are interested in the crops," he replied yesterday when asked concerning politics. "There will be plenty of time to talk politics after the first of the year. Yes, I am to make a number of addresses this month, but they are not of a political nature." Governor Harding is to speak at Decorah August 17; Dawson, August 18; Anita, August 19, and Webster City, August 21. On August 22 he will read a paper before the National Fraternal congress at Minneapolis on the subject "Have we too many laws?" On Labor day he speaks at Ottumwa, at a joint celebration, in which the cities of Ottumwa, Oskaloosa, Albia and Centerville join.

G. A. R. Encampment Plans. Colonel David J. Palmer, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, declares that the forthcoming encampment to be held at Washington, D. C., September 27 to October 2, will be one of the most notable ever held. It is the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the organization. The remnant of the old union army will gather in this historic city and march down Pennsylvania avenue again in review, just as they did fifty years ago, after the war was over. It is planned to have a welcoming speech from President Wilson. The Iowa party will take special trains out of Chicago over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and will make a stop at Harper's Ferry and other points of historic interest. Colonel Palmer says that there will be one of the largest crowds go out from Iowa that has ever come on one of these excursions. He says that many young people are going.

World Enforce Blue Laws. The Iowa party will take special trains out of Chicago over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and will make a stop at Harper's Ferry and other points of historic interest. the attorney general during the last few days, declaring that they expect to see the laws with reference to Sunday closing enforced. They succeeded in getting the sheriff to arrest the automobile racers at the speedway a few Sundays ago. Now they are demanding the close of Sunday theaters and all other places where work is done on the Sabbath.

Business Improved. In a business letter sent out by the Iowa National bank of Des Moines, it is pointed out that the central west is particularly active as compared to the rest of the country and that the business map of the whole country today is as good as it has been any time since 1910.

"On the whole crop conditions are quite satisfactory," says this report. "It is hardly to be expected that either winter wheat or corn can live up to the government estimate, but, outside of corn, all crops promise to give a good account of themselves and even the cotton crop, on an acreage reduced by about 15 per cent from last year, is promising to run as much as 12,000,000 to 13,000,000 bales. The area of poor business conditions continues to diminish and at present covers only a part of the southeastern states, including a strip along the Atlantic coast from South Carolina to New York."

Referred to Omaha Recruiting Station to Learn Methods

Lieutenant F. H. Weaver, U. S. N., retired, spent a day at the local navy recruiting office, getting pointers on how such an office should be run, he having been assigned to go to New Haven, Conn., and there open a recruiting office. The lieutenant is on the retired list, though he is a very young man, just five years out of the academy at Annapolis. He has been living in Los Animas, Colo., because of poor health.

"I was referred to this recruiting office as a model one," he said. "It is said to be run on strictly business lines and with what our commercial friends would call efficiency. I shall be well satisfied if the one I open in New Haven measures up to this one."

A number of new recruiting offices are about to be opened in various cities of the land. This is said to have no particular significance, but to be due merely to a desire on the part of the government to put recruiting opportunities closer within reach of a larger body of young men.

People Go Insane When They Lose All in Investment Deal

"One of the investors in the Los Angeles investment company's securities told me at the trial that she knew twelve women who had gone insane as a result of losing their all in the collapse of the fraud," said Sylvester Rush, special assistant to the attorney general, who has just returned from the successful prosecution of the case.

"These men had gotten the money of an amazing number of people, chiefly in Los Angeles. In their gigantic operations they published a paper of which they distributed 50,000 copies regularly in Los Angeles, and sent out 20,000 more by mail.

"They paid dividends for a time out of money received for new stock, and then came the crash."

HARRIMAN OFFICIALS PASS THROUGH OMAHA

Ben Winchell, traffic director of the Harriman lines of railroad, was in Omaha fifteen minutes, but he was dead to the public, remaining asleep in his car. Mr. Winchell came from the west on Union Pacific No. 18, arriving at 1:35 o'clock in the morning and leaving over the Northwestern for Chicago at 1:30.

Shortly after the passing of Traffic Director Winchell, F. V. S. Crosby, treasurer of the Harriman system, arrived from New York and immediately proceeded west, en route to San Francisco. He, like Mr. Winchell, was asleep when he passed through the city.

AUTOS MUST BE KEPT AWAY FROM FIRE PLUGS

Because of trouble lately, caused by autos being parked too close to fire plugs, thus preventing the fire department from attaching the hose with ease and speed, the police have received orders to strictly enforce the ordinance prohibiting the parking of cars within a radius of fifteen feet of any fire plug. Offenders will be forced to appear in court and will be fined for violation of the ordinance in the future.

Dad Weaver May Bring Zeppelin as One of His Many Attractions

If about the first day of October you should step forth from your tranquil domicile, where peace and happiness permeate the air, and if about the first day of October next you should be greeted by a raucous roar from overhead and a bomb should drop and explode at your feet and you should glance into the air and see a regular German Zeppelin disturbing the neutral atmosphere of these United States, do not be alarmed.

Do not fall on your knees and commence a doubtful rendition of "Die Wacht am Rhein."

Do not protest that you have been drinking Pilsener beer all your life and are therefore a good German subject.

Do not become agitated and execrate the lack of preparedness of the United States military forces because they failed to break up this raid.

Be calm. Be cool and collected, as the beauty hints say.

For while you may see with your own accurate eyes a terrible German Zeppelin, carrying a ton of war bombs, a flock of rapid-fire guns and a crew of twenty-five or thirty warlike persons in German helmets and regalia, there will be no danger.

For Dad Weaver, high mogul for King Ah-Bar-Ben, is after a Zeppelin for an attraction during carnival week. Dad suddenly decided the other day that a Zeppelin would be a swell card and immediately he started the wires working.

He has received an answer to his S. O. S. from Fred Barnes of Chicago, and Fred says he can get the said Zep, but it would probably cost 10,000 bucks. Dad says he doesn't know whether that is a sum of money or a time clock, but it's too much. If Fred can't come down on his figure Dad will look elsewhere for a raiding war craft.

Dad also has a couple of other high class attractions in view. He is dickering with Art Smith, the youthful aviator who flies upside down, loops-the-loop, and also does the flight at night. He is also dickering with a chap who flies five balloons at once.

And another chap who loops-the-loop in an auto. In other words, Samson's chief executive is after an attraction which will be as big as the late Lincoln Beachey, who performed here last year.

Ben Franklin Club Builds Own Dancing Floor for Its Picnic

Where there's a will there's a way. So said the Ben Franklin club. And when the club found no dancing pavilion at Elmwood park it arranged to have one built.

For the members had willed to dance at their annual picnic, August 14. The picnic is to be held from 10 o'clock in the morning of that day until dark. Special arrangements have been made with the park commissioner to erect a platform at the park for the dancing.

And there is no charge for the dancing, either.

This is the fourth annual picnic of the Tri-City Ben Franklin club.

"You furnish the pitcher—we furnish the beverage," is the slogan. For coffee and lemonade are to be furnished free, while those who attend are expected to bring basket lunches.

Lively music is to be furnished all day, and a bass ball game is to be improvised from among the members in the afternoon.

No races? No, there are to be no races. The printers do not like to run. They will have a lot of other contests, however.

WHEAT SHOWS MARKED RISE ON LOCAL MARKET

There was a bulge in wheat prices on the Omaha market, old wheat advancing 3 to 4 cents and new, 2 cents per bushel. The receipts were nine carloads. Old wheat sold at $1.44@1.45 and new, $1.23 per bushel.

Corn was strong and 1 cent up, selling at 73 1/2 cents per bushel. Receipts were sixty-two carloads.

Oats fluctuated from 1 cent up to 1 cent down, prices ranging from 49@54 cent per bushel. There were twelve carloads on sale.

HARWOOD NOW ON ROAD SELLING CIGARS TO TRADE

Frank Harwood, well known former Omaha man, now at Chicago as advertising representative for the manufacturers of the "Tom Keene" and other popular cigars, spent the day in Omaha on his way east from the coast.

Goes to Station to File Complaint and is Arrested

This is a tale wherein two criminals are unwittingly the captors of another criminal.

F. M. Lister, 1525 North Twenty-fifth street, walked into the police station and reported that while he was standing in front of the Little Missouri restaurant, 1122 Dodge street, two Ethiopians "stuck" him up and made off with $50.

While Mr. Lister was telling his story, Desk Officer Troby was looking him over with a Sherlock Holmes-like eye. He decided that Mr. Lister answered the description of a man wanted in Great Falls, Mont., for embezzlement.

Everybody Is Talking About the Dollar Shoe Sale

All Omaha will remember this dollar shoe sale for a long time to come. It is very remarkable in several ways. The space occupied by the shoes is over 11,000 square feet, the largest, we believe, ever devoted to a shoe sale. People have literally come by the thousands during the past two days. The remarkable value given for one dollar in this sale is responsible for its success. The shoes are worth up to $4.00 a pair in late styles and many would easily pass for more expensive shoes. The large crowds have not hindered us from rendering the best of service and providing for the comfort and convenience of our customers. New lots of shoes are constantly being placed on the tables so that at all times you have full range of choice. Come Saturday prepared to be astonished at what $1 will buy.
