Money that Dore Lost is Returned to Him

J. J. Dore, 1128 North Twenty-eighth street, South Omaha, who lost his month's wages, $22.50, through a hole in his pocket Wednesday, was made happy Friday, when the money was returned to him. A boy picked up the bills where they had fallen and returned them as soon as the identity of the owner became known.

BURLINGTON LOCATES MANY FAMILIES IN WEST

Since March 1, officials of the land department of the Burlington figure that they have located more than 900 families in the counties of western Nebraska and the Big Horn basin country of Wyoming. Most of the men who have been located on the lands in the two states are practical farmers and stock raisers, and have gone there with their household effects and other property, intending to become permanent residents.

Plats in the Burlington's land department indicate that in the western portion of Nebraska there are still some vacant tracts of land for sale at low prices, but the cheap land is being picked up rapidly.
