

WEYERHAEUSER TAX IS NEARLY MILLION

State of Minnesota Will Try to Collect $900,000 from Estate of Late Lumber King.

APPRAISED AT THIRTY MILLION

ST. PAUL, Aug. 27.—The report that the state of Minnesota hopes to collect a large inheritance tax from the estate of the late Frederick Weyerhaeuser, lumber king, was confirmed today by the attorney general's office. It was stated that the amount the state may realize approaches $900,000, based on an estate of $20,000,000, instead of $1,300,000, as reported by the executors.

To collect this amount, however, it will be necessary for the state to prove that the report of the executors to the tax commission was some twenty-eight million dollars short.

Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith, aided by Andrew Fritz, public examiner, has obtained an exhaustive report of the executors, covering the holdings of the late millionaire.

"The public examiner's office has been working on the Weyerhaeuser books and on the books of companies with which Mr. Weyerhaeuser was connected for several months," said Attorney General Smith. "A voluminous report has been presented, which I have reason to believe contains important data relative to the affiliation of Mr. Weyerhaeuser with various large corporations."

Mr. Weyerhaeuser was reputed to be heavily interested in the Great Northern Railroad company, but the inventory submitted by the executors showed a stock valuation of only $6,000. Real estate, including a homestead, was listed at $60,750. Personal property was represented in notes of the F. Weyerhaeuser company for $25,000; stock in the Merchants' National bank, St. Paul, the First National bank, Duluth, an insurance policy for $100,000 and $25,985 in the bank were listed by the executors.

In the inventory there is no mention of timber holdings in various parts of the country, including the Potlatch Lumber company of Idaho, which has a sawmill said to be among the largest in the world. Also, there was no mention of various paper and box mills in which Mr. Weyerhaeuser was reported to be heavily interested.

Whatever action recommended by William J. Stevenson, one of the attorney general's assistants, after his careful study of the report of the public examiner's office, will be followed by the state, the attorney general said.

Seventy-Five Girls Would Be Models; Two Dozen Chosen

Tall models, short models, slender models and fat models, blond and brunette models to the number of seventy-five displayed their graces as well as the merit of hundreds of gowns and dresses at the Byrne-Hammer store. It was try-out day for Merchants' market week style show. Less than one out of three was selected by the merchants' market week committee, which was on hand in full force to inspect models to exhibit the various styles at the style show to be held in the Auditorium the evening of September 1. Of the seventy-five who entered the try-outs, but twenty-three were selected for the work.

Many of those who entered the try-out had had experience as models, but a number had not. Of those selected by the committee several had had no previous experience, but conducted themselves well.

OMAHA NEEDS WORKHOUSE, SAYS ATTORNEY M'GUIRE

Assistant City Attorney McGuire, who is serving as city prosecutor at the police court, declares recent observations at this court strengthen his belief that Omaha should have a workhouse. "It would surprise you to know the large per cent of nonresident prisoners arraigned every morning. Most of these offenders are floaters, who come in and make work for the police. A workhouse would serve as a deterrent and would make Omaha a less desirable place for these transient undesirables," remarked Mr. McGuire.

AUTO STOLEN IN OMAHA LOCATED AT FALLS CITY

Chief of Police Henry Dunn has received a communication from Falls City, Neb., informing him that an auto which was stolen from Dr. J. P. Hyde, 2311 South Tenth street on August 24, has been located at that place.

TOM KELLY WINS SILVER LOVING CUP IN CONTEST

Tom S. Kelly, general agent of the life department of the Travelers' Insurance company of Hartford, Conn., is the possessor of a silver loving cup that he prizes more highly than he would a $1,000 bill. It came to him by reason of winning a contest in which there were 200 competitors. In other words, by having written more insurance for the company during June than any of the 200 agents in Nebraska and Iowa, the loving cup is his personal property and is never again subject to competition.

Exhibit of Cowan Line of Furniture

We have transported from the Grand Rapids show rooms the complete sample line of furniture manufactured by the Cowan Company, which is each year exhibited there during January and July, the furniture market seasons.

We felt that this exhibit would be attractive to our friends and customers if shown complete, so we purchased the contents of their show rooms. This sample showing is not only an exhibit, but a sale as well of unusual interest, as the goods will all be marked at prices much lower than they could be sold for regularly. Taking the entire line, we got a liberal discount, and they were shipped through in full cars, enabling us to take advantage of the very lowest rate. These advantages we are offering in the prices we have put on the goods for this display.

We invite you, if interested in furniture, to see this line, without the slightest obligation on your part to purchase. It represents the very best and newest ideas in furniture.

Desirable Rooms for College Students

Young men coming to Omaha to attend our many Schools and Colleges will naturally be very busy the first few days getting settled ready to begin study. But troubles may be lessened and work lightened if they will take advantage of the Service THE BEE offers.

Don't run all over the City looking for Lodgings—read THE BEE—in the Classified columns many desirable Furnished Rooms and Apartments are offered for rent. And if nothing is there found to your liking call at Room 104, Bee Building, where a list of rooms and boardings is available.

But, you can find most anything in THE BEE—if you have chums you may wish to band together and rent a furnished house or apartment—maybe you will want unfurnished rooms, or furnished rooms with, or without board. In any event look to THE BEE to aid you; our Classified Columns will save you much tiresome tramping and running around.
