record for the week.

As was the case yesterday, stock cattle and feeders of desirable quality were first to sell. The country demand for such cattle was very brisk yesterday and these was a good showing or country buyers in smain this merning. In addition to this speculators were all free buyers, so that cattle moved off very freely at prices fully gleady with yesterday. Common to medium grades of both stock cattle and feeders are still a little slow to move, no one appearing to want the more trashy kinds.

Cows and helfers were in very fair demand and they too were fully steady. In fact, some who were calling the market lower yesterday thought it was a little stronger today.

Beer atters were slow to open, but there was a very fair demand and the market was reasonably active when the trade was once under way. Prices showed little or no change, being generally about steady with yesterday.

R. A. Smith of Union Pacific Declares Rush is Very Orderly, with Few Fights,

ONE MAN WITH GUN LOSES OUT

R. A. Smith, head of the homesecking department of the Union Pacific, is back from the Goshen Hole country of Wyoming, where last Saturday 149,838 acres of government land was thrown open to Superintendent Kugel of the police inspection to become subject to home stead entry October 25,

While there was something of a rush into the Goshen Hole country, it was nothing like that into Okiahoma some years ago when a large area of laud there was opened to those who sough: to file upon it. Mr. Smith was in the vicinity of Torrington, Wyo., when the word was given to start for the promised land, and in his judgment there were comething like 200 persons who started in the race for a free farm. Of those who went out from Torrington many went with land locators, who charged land seekers $25 each for placing "Carry one hand in your pocket as if them on quarter sections of land. Others you had a gun and that will deter the went out foot, some on horseback and ighwayman. It makes no difference some in wagons. The rush was not specwhether you have a gun or not, if you tacular in any sense, and there were few have a hand in your pocket to indicate conflicting choices. There was one man readiness to meet an attack," said the who had sneaked in (and with a rifle across his knees was sitting on the cor-While the head of the police depart- nerstone of a quarter section. vagon and was ready to make the rush. when his team balked and would not move. However, he coaxed his horses eventually and got them started, so that he was able to get upon the land that he wanted

In cases where two or more men want -1 the same tract of land, they frequently settled the question of priority by flipping colns. There were few rights and no shooting.

Mr. Smith asserts that while there is a large acreage of good land in the tract open to settlement, there is much that is too rough for agricultural purposes and is fit only for crazing. He thinks that by the last of next week all of the land that has any value will have been selected.
