WHO is the queen?
Which fair maiden has been chosen consort to King Ak-Sar-Ben XXI, to receive honors of her subjects at the Coronation Ball tonight?

This is the question on everyone's lips, almost casting into the shade queries upon the identity of the king.

I am making the proverbial three guesses. My first choice is the girl for whom I bet last year, and incidentally last, lots of chocolates and ice cream sodas. She wouldn't disappoint me this year, I'm sure, if she knew the state of the society editor's exchequer. (They pass the tin pans at the Tabernacle too often!)

This very charming young woman is supposed to be out of town, but I have a "hunch" she is here and will wear the royal purple this coming year with regal splendor.

Second and third choices are attractive young women who made their debut, one last year and one several seasons back. Both of them would wear the purple with queenly grace.

One has been away for a long while and has just returned, the other is known for her lovely personality and her interest in all good works. Now I've told you what I think. Do I win, or do I lose?

The Commercial club has received a letter from the War department stating that the barges may not be loaned as there is no precedent for such loaning. It is stated in the letter that government boats may be loaned only in case of emergency to save life and to save property only when no other boats are available.

TELEPHONE HEAD VISITS IN OMAHA

Theodore N. Vail Looks Over Sights of His Younger Days When He Was Located Here.

"Money will be made cheaper than ever by the European war," declared President Theodore N. Vail of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, in Omaha today.

"Interest rates will be low enough to encourage much new investing, business development and the improvement of existing enterprises."

The head of the national telephone organization was in Omaha for several hours on an inspection trip to San Francisco. While here he renewed acquaintances with several local men, who were close friends of his while Mr. Vail was a Union Pacific telegrapher and later a railway mail clerk here.

Among these friends of Mr. Vail's youth are Casper E. Yost, now president of the northwestern group of phone companies; E. M. Morsman and C. W. Lyman, now vice presidents of the same group of companies; Louis Korty, now retired, and General Grenville M. Dodge of Council Bluffs, who was chief engineer of the Union Pacific when Mr. Vail was a telegrapher.

Wanted to See Steel Car. Although past 79 years of age and forced to use a crutch in walking, Mr. Vail still displays the strong mentality that made him great, and he still has a touch of sentiment in his nature. He proved the latter when he asked the privilege of entering a modern steel railway mail car.

Assistant Superintendent M. H. Blackwell of the Omaha-ogden division arranged to show him the courtesy, and Mr. Vail marveled at the difference between the railway mail cars now in use and the one he worked in on the same run over forty years ago. He later became general superintendent of the entire country's railway mail service.

"Omaha was a mighty lively town in those old days," Mr. Vail remarked, "but now I see that it has become a great city."

Asked as to what future he thought there will be in the telephone industry, he said: "Just look back twenty or thirty years and recall what the telephone business amounted to then. Today's advance over twenty or thirty years ago is no greater than the advance still to come in the next twenty or thirty years."

Regarding the recent application of wireless telephony to aid telephone officials to talk from New York to San Francisco and Hawaii, President Vail declared that in his opinion, the chief use of the wireless telephone will be simply to amplify and supplement, rather than to substitute wire systems.

Yost Joins Party. President Yost of the district telephone company joined the Vail party to the coast. The others with Mr. Vail are B. E. Sunny of Chicago, president of the central district; U. N. Bethell of New York, vice president of the national company, and C. S. Gleed of Topeka, president of the southwest district.

WAS MAIL CLERK OUT OF OMAHA

"While business is not crowding us at this time, we are looking forward to a prosperous season. The entire country traversed by our road raised a great crop of grain and the outlook is far better than an average crop of corn. But a small proportion of the small grain has been threshed and consequently the movement to market has been slow. It will come, though, later on."

"Frosts have damaged the very late corn to some extent. A great portion, however, had passed the danger line when the first killing frost came."

F. P. DAVIS TELLS INTERESTING FACTS

Prominent Landscape Gardener of Lincoln Gives Interesting Statement.

WANTS OTHERS TO KNOW

F. P. Davis of 522 E. street, Lincoln, one of the most prominent landscape gardeners in the west, and who is known to hundreds of the best citizens as a man of undisputed honesty and integrity, gave the following interesting statement regarding Tanlac, the "Master Medicine," which is being introduced here. Mr. Davis said:

"I have suffered for some time from kidney and stomach trouble, and was nervous and in a terrible run-down and debilitated condition. I felt tired all the time, and was absolutely lacking in ambition, and experienced much difficulty at times in conducting my business. I often suffered from shortness of breath, which was, in my opinion, due to stomach trouble, all of which annoyed me greatly. Seeing Tanlac advertised, and recommended so highly by many who had been benefited by it, I decided to give it a trial. Tanlac has caused a most remarkable change in my condition."

"To say I have been benefited, would be expressing myself in too mild a manner. I am a completely changed man today. I sleep better and feel energetic and full of life. My stomach and kidney troubles have vanished and I can not praise Tanlac too highly."

Tanlac has proved beneficial in hundreds of cases similar to that of Mr. Davis, and people are testifying daily to the benefits derived from its use. Tanlac is sold in Omaha exclusively by the Sherman & McConnell Drug Co., 18th and Dodge streets. Can also be had in Lincoln at the Harley Drug Co., 1191 O street.—Advertisement.

GREAT WESTERN MEN LOOK FOR HEAVY CROP BUSINESS

J. W. Blabon, vice president of the Great Western, in charge of traffic, and his assistant, C. H. Berry, are in the city from Chicago, out on a tour of the road looking into business conditions.

"While business is not crowding us at this time, we are looking forward to a prosperous season. The entire country traversed by our road raised a great crop of grain and the outlook is far better than an average crop of corn. But a small proportion of the small grain has been threshed and consequently the movement to market has been slow. It will come, though, later on."

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

Look at tongue! Then give fruit laxative for stomach, liver, bowels.

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm children and they love it.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat, or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness. Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advertisement.
