HONOR MEMORY OF JUDGE MUNGER

Leading Members of the Bar Hold Impressive Memorial Services at Federal Court.

ALSO ADOPT RESOLUTIONS Leading members of the bar filled the federal court room yesterday and held impressive memorial services for the late Judge William H. Munger. Judge T. C. Munger sat in the chair so long occupied by the deceased judge, and there were many eulogies spoken of the lovable qualities of the judge. The memorial occurred exactly two months after his death and on the day before the seventy-ninth anniversary of his birth. Judge William D. McHugh, chairman of the resolutions committee, spoke first, dwelling upon the genial personality and transparent honesty of Judge Munger.

W. J. Courtright of Fremont, who was Judge Munger's law partner for six years, spoke feelingly of the judge. "He was one of the very few men I have ever known who were just naturally and instinctively honest. He had a great habit of sitting in his office with his feet up on the window sill. At first I thought he was day dreaming, but as I came to know him better I realized that he was studying out some of the big problems of his cases. T. J. Mahoney declared that it was impossible in a short speech to do justice to the "transcendent qualities of Judge Munger."

Good Qualities Stand Out. "Some of these qualities stand out before others," he said, "and one of the most prominent was his thorough honesty and genuineness. I remember one occasion when he was sitting on the bench in this very room and a point came up on which he stated his opinion and then asked counsel to present the opposite side. Then, before the attorneys, the judge and the public and I declared, 'I have changed my opinion.' It would have been excusable for him to refrain from so public a statement of a change of mind, but Judge Munger's honesty would permit of no half-way measures. He was free from the pride of opinion. Attorneys have gone into his office on business and as they were about to leave he would invite them to sit down again and then present to them some case that was puzzling him and ask their opinion on it. He was a genial and lovable man."

A. J. Sawyer spoke with deep feeling, recounting some camping trips he had with the judge among the Minnesota lakes and how by the campfire in the evening the judge would speak of his boyhood on the farm, the wonders of nature, of the universe and of God and quote from the poets and sages and the story of the various sections of the country to a great American land exposition—meeting with the people of the Atlantic seaboard, both of the city and country, implanting in the minds of the immigrant, the unemployed and of the over-supply of all lines of business and of the professions, the call of the soil and of the farm opportunities throughout the union.

Would Increase Desire for Land. Not 1 per cent of the 7,000,000 people in and around New York City have learned by personal visit and actual demonstration, of the fields of production, and the country at large, with edicts defrayed by the national treasury, should send its productions and men who can tell the story of the various sections of the country to a great American land exposition—meeting with the people of the Atlantic seaboard, both of the city and country, implanting in the minds of the immigrant, the unemployed and of the over-supply of all lines of business and of the professions, the call of the soil and of the farm opportunities throughout the union.

Salts of Lemon and Grapes Stop Pain in Kidneys Says backache is sure sign you have been eating too much meat. Salts best to clean kidneys and overcome any bladder irritation.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 80 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active. Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Advertisement.

Founder of Mothers' Pension Law Stops Over Here for a Day

Judge Henry Neil, originator of the Mothers' Pension law in Illinois, which law was copied in Nebraska, is in the city on his way to Los Angeles, where he will have some moving pictures made of the operation of the law in that city. Judge Neil says that the law is being worked out pretty well in Omaha except for one thing and that is that the mothers are being paid in groceries instead of money and that this is the only place where it is so done. The judge thinks that the pensions should be paid in money, so that the mothers could go each month to the county treasurer and get their checks just as a judge or county employe. He says that this system tends to pauperize the mother and humiliate her, which tends to make her inefficient. The responsibility of having the money to spend gives her hope and makes her more self reliant. "We found in every other city that where the mother has been reduced to poverty, that while she may not at first show efficiency, she soon learns to do better and that paying her in grocery orders prevents this improvement," said Judge Neil. "The woman is put in a state of fear concerning the place where she might trade and she is unable to bargain on a cash basis. While the present system may be operated in a perfectly honest manner it is still the system used for purposes of graft. I don't mean to say such is the case in Omaha, but still it is the method used formerly for graft."

THOUGHT ROBBER BUTLER TRYING TO KID HIS FRIENDS The highwayman who held up ten persons at the home of W. T. Haus, 2325 Pine street, Saturday night at first was believed to have been Acting Mayor Butler by one of the victims, Ed Malone. Mr. Butler had been invited to the party, but was detained by the visit of an out-of-town friend. When the hold, had robber entered the home so unceremoniously, Mr. Malone nearly exclaimed, "Quit your kidding, Dan." But he didn't say it. He backed himself against a wall with the rest.
