MICKEL FALLS IN LOVE WITH SOUTH

George Mickel, manager of the Nebraska Cycle company, Fifteenth and Lincoln streets, has returned from a business trip through the south and is enthusiastic over the prosperity in that part of the land.
'I was simply astounded at the evidences of prosperity that I saw,' he declared. 'Atlanta, Ga., is just throbbing with steel and other mills working overtime. It is a city of splendid hotels and public buildings.'

QUICK ACTION ON COTTON

Those southern towns aren't built like ours. They have a big central square in Carrollton with nothing in it but a confederate monument. There the folks from the country gathered the day I was there, bringing their cotton to town and getting cash for it.
Quick action. 'Cotton is immediately convertible into cash. The family goes out in the morning and picks cotton. It is hauled in a big box of a wagon to the ginning mill where it is drawn out by suction and goes through the mill. Twenty minutes after the finished bale is tossed out of the other end of the mill on the farmer's wagon. The mill charges him $2.50 for ginning and pays him for the cotton besides. The farmer drives to town with his bale and gets his money, only a couple of hours from the field to cash with cotton.'

Noted Educator Stops in Omaha

Dr. and Mrs. John H. Finley stopped off in Omaha yesterday, coming from St. Paul, where the doctor had addressed the Minnesota State Teachers' convention, and leaving in the afternoon for California, where he will deliver several addresses to teachers and educational meetings.
Dr. Finley is now commissioner of education for the state of New York, and head of its board of Regents, as a climax to a remarkable career as an educator, including being president of Knox college, professor of political science in Princeton, and president of the City College of New York. He had had an invitation to address the Nebraska teachers in their coming convention here this week, but was unable to make his engagements conform.

Reingold Arrested On Gambling Charge

Upon a warrant sworn out by City Prosecutor T. J. McGuire, at the instance of a man said to have lost large sums at cards, Gail Reingold, keeper of a barbershop in a hotel at 415 South Fifteenth street, was arrested last night. A large quantity of cards and dice were confiscated as evidence.
When the police came, however, Reingold was alone in the shop.

Mrs. Martis was assisted by Misses Esther Jansen, Anna Augur and Goldy Fuller.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

Judge Lee Estelle returned Saturday from Arkansas, where he made a brief business visit.
Mrs. Jack Arundel, wife of a former Omaha newspaper man, is visiting friends in Omaha. Her home is in Mitchell, S. D. where Mr. Arundel is now on the staff of 'The Republican.' Friday evening Mrs. Arundel was entertained by Mrs. and Mrs. Peter Loch, who gave an Orpheum party in her home, followed by a supper at Hotel Fontenelle.

CAR STOLEN AT THE STATION

Attempt to Get Away with Machine of Police Surgeon Folts is Foiled.
TWO ARE TAKEN AS SUSPECTS
Right in front of police headquarters came two bold young men last night to steal an automobile.
Their frightful nerve tripped them up, though, and they miscued.
Police Surgeon C. B. Folts left his car in front of the jail while he was attending a patient inside. He had the car locked, but that made no difference to the others. They gave it a shove, started the engine and were getting away when Folts happened to look out a window in time to see them. He ran out and gave chase. The men in the car saw him coming and stopped, leaped out and ran. Folts got in the car and shouted for Police Chauffeur Werner, and together they pursued. A block or so away they caught the two men and brought them back.

Commanding General Patriarchs Militant Is Visitor in Omaha

General A. R. Stocker of Dayton, O., commanding general of the Patriarchs Militant of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, arrived in Omaha at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. General Stocker is on his way east from the sovereign grand lodge session, held in San Francisco last September. A banquet was given him by Canton Ezra Millard, L. Omaha, and Canton Elter, South Side, at the Paxton hotel at 7 p. m.
The Patriarchs Militant degree was conferred at 9 p. m. at Odd Fellows' hall by General E. E. Boyd, department commander of Nebraska, assisted by Canton Ezra Millard No. 1. Following the degree work, the women of the Degree of Chivalry gave a reception in honor of General Stocker.
During the evening Grand Master Greenleaf, General A. R. Stocker, General E. E. Boyd and State Rebekah Assembly President Florence Wagner, made short talks.
Among the out-of-town visitors were General E. E. Boyd of Central City, Assistant Adjutant General W. G. Purcell of Broken Bow, Lieutenant Colonel Smith of Lincoln, Grand Secretary Gage of Fremont, Past President Mrs. Welch of Lincoln.

WOMEN! TRY IT!

Save five dollars by dry cleaning everything at home with gasoline.
It is very easy and inexpensive to dry clean and brighten all the ribbons, laces, yokes, neckties, silks, net work, satins, shirtwaists, kid gloves and shoes, furs, children's clothes, suits, caps, woolen garments, fancy vests, Swiss lawn, organdies, chiffon dresses, draperies, rugs, in fact, any and everything that would be ruined with soap and water.
Get two ounces of solvite at any druggist and put it in two gallons of gasoline. Then immerse the goods to be cleaned; rub a little and out they come looking bright and fresh as new. You will find nothing fades, shrinks or wrinkles, requiring no pressing.
These few moments' work saves any household five to ten dollars. Try it and you will find dry cleaning just as easy as laundering. Your grocer or any garage will supply the gasoline and the drug store will furnish the solvite, which is simply a gasoline soap. Then a wash boiler or large dishpan completes your home dry cleaning outfit.—Advertisement.

CHICKENS GALORE AT POULTRY SHOW

Fanciers of Greater Omaha Preparing to Bring Prize Cocklers to Auditorium.
POPULAR PRICE FOR ADMISSION
'Ant that some chicken?' 'Me fur her, bo, all the time.'
The above is not a bit of refined Douglas street chatter, but is a prediction of remarks that will be made at the Poultry Fanciers' association show, of Greater Omaha, to be held at the Auditorium from November 11 to 28.
All the chickens will be there. That is, at least 2,000 of the fowls will be shown, and perhaps more. This is vouched for by W. E. Baehr, secretary-treasurer of the association, who predicts the classiest show of the kind that Nebraska has ever seen.
A meeting of the board of managers was held at the court house Saturday evening and plans for the event discussed. This, according to Mr. Baehr, will be the first effort of any association to hold a show at popular prices, a dime being the coin required for an admission ticket.
The system of uniform couplings that will be employed has met the approval of poultrymen of this state, Iowa, South Dakota, Kansas, Missouri and Minnesota. And many will attend the contest for the big list of silver cups and prizes that will reward the owners of the leading birds.
Five silver cups are already on hand for the lucky ones.
Next Saturday night a regular meeting of the association as a whole, will be held at the court house, and complete arrangements for the exhibition made.
'We expect to give a show that will be of interest to everyone, not only poultrymen, but the average person,' asserted Mr. Baehr.
'And anyone who is desirous of seeing what has been done in the way of fine fowl breeding, will surely get an opportunity to view the best at the Auditorium next month.'

APPROVES MINERS' ASSESSMENT

POMONA, Cal., Oct. 31.—Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, said here today that he had approved an assessment of federation members for the benefit of the Clifton copper miners. Both the unions in Miami and Globe, Ariz., already have levied such assessments.

The International Novice Championship Typewriter Contest

At the Annual Business Show at the Sixty-ninth Regiment Armory, New York, October 25, 1915, WAS WON BY Miss Hortense S. Stollnitz Operating a Model 10 Remington Typewriter
Miss Stollnitz wrote 114 words per minute net for fifteen minutes, a world's record for novices in International Championship Contests
This novice event is open only to those who have never used a typewriter previous to September, 1914. It is therefore the one event that gives a real indication of the machine's part in the development of speed in typewriting.
The question of typewriter merit is not determined by what the exceptional operator of exceptional training can do, but by what the average operator can do.
And the best answer to this question, afforded by any speed contest, is, what can the novice do?—for the novice stage is the stage through which all operators must pass.
By this test the Remington has proved itself to be THE operator's machine—the machine which enables the operator to do the most and the best work from the very outset, and ever after.

Where the Sympathies of Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Holland Lie

In view of the not impossible contingency of the northern neutral nations of Europe being drawn into the European war, an accurate indication as to which side the sympathies of these countries rest, is of unusual interest just now.
To this end THE LITERARY DIGEST has asked the Editors of the Dutch and Scandinavian papers published in America to lay their views before its readers. Having in America a freedom in expression made impossible in the old lands by the delicacy of the situation, the views of these Editors may better represent the true sentiments of the northern neutral nations than the editorials permitted to be published in the home countries themselves.
In THE LITERARY DIGEST for October 30th, the result of this poll of editors is published and will be read with great interest by the American people. This feature, however, by no means represents all the good things in this number. Among other articles of importance are:

The Dardanelles Deadlock

- Has This Campaign Resulted in a Failure For the Allies?
A 'Swat-the-Hyphen' Movement. New Jersey Women Will Not Vote The Scott Nearing Case Who Thrust the 'Superman' on Germany? A Gigantic Confederate Memorial Who Can Save Armenia? Why Bulgaria Joins Germany How Wire Fortifications are Arranged The World's Tallest Dam
Planning Army-Preparedness The Steel Trust's New Rivals The German Conductor of the Metropolitan Opera House The Selfishness of Rich Givers A Portentous Year for Missions A New Transcontinental Railroad How Men Learn to Fly Facing a 'Drug Famine'

An Unusual Collection of Helpful Maps, Striking Photographs, and Humorous Cartoons
Each week THE LITERARY DIGEST is becoming indispensable to a larger circle of American men and women. In a couple of hours' reading, the busiest people can glean from it an accurate, well-rounded perspective of the world's progress. All sides of every topic under discussion are invariably presented so that accuracy as well as comprehensiveness will always be found in the 'Digest's' pages. It presents the real news as printed in the great newspapers and periodicals published throughout the world, and for this reason it may be said to clearly reflect public opinion everywhere.

The Favorite in Far-Off Alaska

'We wish to tell you that not one copy of the 'Digest' went astray in traveling to this far-off point, which is quite wonderful considering the nature of the mail schedule, especially the winter dog-team service. We are unanimous in agreeing that yours is the most valuable and welcome periodical we receive.'—J. H. MAGUIRE, Department of the Interior, Wales, Alaska.
