

GIRL IDENTIFIES HOLDUP SUSPECT

Says Man Apprehended by Means of Laundry Mark is Her Assailant.

OTHER ARRESTS ARE MADE

Miss Stella Schnoor, 815 North Thirtieth street, who was held up and attacked October 2 while she was in the company of Clarence Anderson, positively identified C. W. Washington, colored waiter at the Paxton hotel, who was arrested by Detectives Rich and Pisanowski, as the man who committed the deed.

Miss Schnoor was able to identify Washington by his long face and apple-like jaw. So prominent are these characteristics that Miss Schnoor immediately pronounced Washington the man as soon as she saw him.

Same Laundry Mark. The thin and drawn face and the apple-like jaw has prompted Chief of Detectives Malone to believe that it is very probable several of the other sensational holdups which occurred in Omaha while the supposed "ape-man" was terrorizing the city, should be credited to Washington. Efforts will be made to have other young men and women who were held up and attacked the first part of this month identify the light-complexioned negro.

Additional information was obtained by Malone when he discovered that the "Dickie" Washington wears in lieu of a shirt, carried the same laundry mark "W 23," as did the handkerchief which was thrust into Miss Schnoor's mouth at the time of the holdup.

Miss Agnes Hokanson, 856 Hawthorne avenue, the domestic who was found in an unconscious condition at Thirtieth and Seward streets as the result of an attack, regained consciousness Tuesday night and gave detectives a complete description of the man she also declared she could identify the man if she saw him.

Accordingly Detectives Dunn and Kennedy arrested ten suspects, but all were discharged when Miss Hokanson said the man was not among their number. The police hope, however, to make the arrest of the culprit shortly.

Auto Hits Dog and Machine Turns Over, Riders Only Bruised

John Lof, 215 Ohio street, and his sons, Carl and Albin, and Oscar Sunden, were the victims of a thrilling automobile accident at Eighteenth and Iard streets yesterday morning. Mr. Lof suffered slight bruises, Carl Lof has a dislocated shoulder, Albin Lof is nursing a sprained wrist and Mr. Sunden was scratched in several places.

Meeting an automobile headed into Eighteenth street, another on the same street and trying to avoid a large black shepherd was the combination which spelled disaster for the Lof party.

The Lof car struck the dog and a front wheel of the car flew off. The machine turned completely over.

John Lof, who was at the wheel, is at a loss to explain just how it all happened, but he declares he was fortunate in that no serious injury resulted.

The dog was injured, but was able to run away from the scene of the accident.

Fights Two Holdup Men and Gets Away

Two holdup men encountered the wrong customers in Will Friday of Gilbert, Ia., when they attempted to relieve him of his valuables by the process of force Tuesday night. The stickups threatened Friday at Tenth and Davenport streets and Friday immediately put up a fight. He made his getaway from the holdups, but only after receiving several knocks over the head with a blunt weapon.

Friday went to the police station to have his wounds bandaged and inform the police of the affair.

Howard Jenkins of the Grand hotel in Council Bluffs was ordered to throw up his hands by a lone bandit whom he encountered at Eighteenth and California streets. The disturber of the public peace made away with $15 of Jenkins' money.

C. J. Wheeler of Bud Grover, Ia., reports to the police that while he was visiting a pool hall on Douglas street Tuesday night he was a slick pickpocket lifted $1.50 from his person.

Wants Restraining Order Against Wife

Edward W. Bowman asks the district court for a restraining order against his former wife, Nellie M. Bowman, from whom he secured a divorce last February, alleging that her actions lead him to believe her a dangerous character.

An agreement entered into before the divorce was granted provided that he would pay her $40 a month after the divorce, which, he said, he paid until September 15. He says he found that she was living with C. L. Clark, a chauffeur, in the Withnell block. As proof that she should be restrained, he alleges she has cut up Clark's machine and struck him with a beer bottle and has called up the plaintiff's home and bothered him and his relatives.

Ed Smith is Taken Ill in Court Room

Attorney Ed P. Smith became ill suddenly in the district court room yesterday morning just as the hearing of the $10,000 suit of the John T. Pah y company against the Uplike Grain company was about to begin before Judge Estelle.

Mr. Smith was removed to his home, 1215 South Thirty-fourth street, where he was reported resting easily. The physicians diagnosed the illness as acute indigestion.

Made Over Again. Mrs. Jennie Miner, Davidson, Ind., writes: "I can truthfully say Foley Cathartic Tablets are the best I ever used. They are so mild in action, I feel like I have been made over again."

Good health has no greater enemy than constipation. Foley Cathartic Tablets keep the stomach sweet, liver active, bowels regular and banish biliousness, sick headaches, sour stomach. Stout persons welcome the light, free feeling they give. Sold everywhere.—Advertisement.

New Books

DANFORTH PLAYS THE GAME. By Ralph Henry Barbour, D. Appleton & Co. Pictures in color by John A. Coughlin. $1.50 net. This volume contains seven stories, giving various episodes of a boy's life. The first with a capital foot ball story; second, an amusing tale of a collection of stamps which sent the boy to college; the others, a fairy tale of magic foot ball, the purchase of a rat-killing dog and the extraordinary results, etc., and lastly, a comic base ball game, in which Jonesie and the "All-Stars" win in an amusing way.

ROBIN THE HOBBLIN. By Yale Downie. Harper & Bros. Illustrated. 50 cents net. A charming story of masculine tenderness. A little boy is the center of the tale, perfectly conscious of the brightness he sheds about him. "You never heard of a home without a woman in it did you?" asked Mr. Fraser of his negro servant. "No, sub, I never did, sub. But I notice children sort of lives a place up like," was the answer. And that's what the hero did.

SANDSY'S PAL. By Gardner Hunting. Harper & Bros. Illustrated. $1.50 net. "Sandy's Pal" is the story of a friendship between a boy who had everything and a boy who had nothing. Their love for a dog drew them together, and each boy helped to shape the character of the other. In order to aid his poor companion the rich boy took a job at the same office in the city. They encountered various adventures, but their difficulties only served to bring out the best that was in each and to make them firmer friends.

SEBAGO-WAHELO CAMP FIRE GIRLS. By Ethel Rogers. Good Health Publishing Co. $1.25 prepaid. An intimate presentation by means of enthusiastic text and exceptionally fine photographs of the Mother Camp of the Girls' Camp Fire organization, originated by Dr. and Mrs. Luther Gulick. The book makes camp fire life more alluring than Camelot.

WHEN HANNAH VAR EIGHT YAR OLD. By Katherine Nesbitt Gilrin. Frederick A. Stokes Co. The story of a little 8-year-old Swedish girl, and how she was brave enough to die for her little ones and how 5-year-old Hannah cared for the smaller children. An exquisitely written little story.

CLEARING THE SEAS. By Donal Hamilton Haines. Harper & Bros. Price $1.25 net. A thrilling story of a supposed naval war between the United States and a foreign power. There are submarine fights, an attempt to destroy the Panama canal, and a gigantic battle between two fleets.

THE EXTRA DAY. By Algernon Blackwood. Macmillan Co. Cloth. 12 mo. Price $1.25. A group of delightful children learn to gain for themselves an "extra day" which as a matter of time does not count; and this day is filled with beautiful adventures.

TRENCHMATES IN FRANCE. By J. S. Zerbo. Harper & Bros. $1 net. "Trenchmates in France" recounts the adventures of two French boys at the front in the present war. In addition to the exciting incidents, the book contains just the kind of explanations boys are asking every day about the details of armaments, airships, bombs, etc., and explanations of strategy and the new kind of tactics this war has developed.

The boys take part in the battle of the Marne and the advance of the French. They are both wounded, but recover and are ready to return to the front. A map of northern France and clear drawings of trenches, guns and aircraft help the reader to understand the technique of modern warfare.

Surprise Island. By James H. Kennedy. Harper & Bros. 50 cents net. James H. Kennedy, whose book for little readers, "Surprise Island," was published a day or two ago, is not only an editor and historian, but a devoted grandfather. His little granddaughter discovered early in life that there was no one who could tell her more interesting stories; tales of surprises and talking animals and quaint folk; so one day Mr. Kennedy wrote down for her the story of "Surprise Island" and brought it to the publishers.

Harrison Heads Real Estate Men

C. F. Harrison was elected president of the Omaha Real Estate exchange, to serve one year, and the following other officers were chosen, at noon following luncheon, at the Commercial club rooms: Vice president, E. M. Slater; secretary, Fred Creight; treasurer, Harry Wolf; executive committee, Byron H. Hastings, George T. Morton and W. H. Thomas.

Joy Sutphen Tells Rotarians of Woes of Amusement Man

Much amusement was derived from listening to the troubles of the "amusement man," as narrated to the Rotary club at its regular weekly luncheon. The speaker of the day was Joy Sutphen, local manager of the Brandeis theater, and he told his tale of woe in such a graphic manner that one of the listeners remarked, "Well, after hearing all that I wouldn't dare start to tell the troubles I have in my business."

J. O. Siford, manager of the Cusack company, acted as chairman and a new stunt was introduced in a roll call by which each member present rises and identifies himself for the benefit of his associates.

Jitney License No. 13 is Revoked

E. Morton, jitneer, living at 514 Park avenue, regrets that he was given Jitney license No. 13. His license has been revoked by the superintendent of police because he was convicted of cutting the route specified in his application and which he should have maintained to be within the law.

His route was on Farnam street, from Fourteenth to Fortieth streets. He did not go to Fortieth street on several occasions, it was alleged.

This was the first revocation of a Jitney license since the new ordinance became effective.

A FINE TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

Catarrh is such an insidious disease and has become so prevalent during the past few years that its treatment should be understood by all.

Science has fully proved that Catarrh is a constitutional disease and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Sprays, inhalers, salves and nose douches seldom if ever give lasting benefit and often drive the disease further down the air passage and into the lungs.

If you have Catarrh or Catarrhal deafness or head-noises, go to your druggist and get one ounce of Parmit (Double strength). Take this home and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved, take one tablespoonful 4 times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head-noises, clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and mucus stop dropping into the throat.

This treatment has a slight tonic action which makes it especially effective in cases where the blood has become thin and weak. It is easy to make, tastes pleasant and costs little. Every person who wishes to be free from this destructive disease should give this treatment a trial.—Advertisement.

SQUEAKING KIDNEYS!

Do not hesitate to promptly heed the warning your kidneys give you when they begin to lag in their work.

The result may be fatal if neglected. The remedy is a simple matter if you act promptly. Go to your druggist and get a box of genuine GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules.

And You Wake Up With Beautifully Curly Hair!

This is a secret that will, I know, be appreciated by my lady who dislikes the tedious and "nervous" task of twisting her locks around a heated iron, perhaps smearing the hair, burning off the ends, and blistering fingers or scalp in the operation.

The hair will have a wonderfully soft, fluffy glossiness, much more natural looking, glossier and livelier in appearance than when a waving iron has been used.

He is a Man the Girls Hate. THERE is a man in town whom the telephone operators universally dislike. He's the man who so prides himself on his memory that he seldom uses the Telephone Directory for anything but a paper weight. This man will call a number like 456 with all the assurance of a trainman calling stations, when he really wants 446. Then he'll blame the operator when he finds that the subscriber he really called for is not the one he wants to talk with. The memory has a way of playing queer pranks with numbers sometimes. Besides, telephone numbers frequently are changed. So it's a pretty good rule to always consult the Telephone Directory before making a call. When calling a number one should speak slowly and plainly, separating the figures, as 4-5-6, so the telephone operator will not misunderstand. NEBRASKA TELEPHONE COMPANY.
