

CRISIS NEAR IN ROME CABINET

Italian Ministers Exchange Epithets and One Hurls Book at His Colleague During Quarrel.

WON'T HELP IN THE BALKANS

ROME, Nov. 6.—(Via Paris, Nov. 6.)—The reports that Italy will take a hand in the conflict in the Balkans by launching an expedition in Albania received no confirmation in official quarters here. The negative attitude of officials leads to the strong conviction that no Albanian expedition is intended.

ROME (Via Paris), Nov. 6.—Sharp differences of opinion have developed in the cabinet concerning the war. These differences have not reached the extent of a crisis, but have brought about a conflict in views, leading to an exciting incident.

One of the ministers at a recent meeting of the cabinet is said to have expressed the view that Italy's best interests would be served by assisting a movement toward the restoration of peace. This caused an angry protest, and charges were made against the good faith of the minister suggesting peace. Epithets were hurled at him, and one of the ministers, according to reports, overcame by indignation, threw a book at his colleague whose suggestion had caused the strife.

Country Is United. The incident is declared to have been largely of a personal nature and the cabinet and country are united, with this exception for continuing the present policy.

While a cabinet crisis, such as those which have occurred in France, England and Russia have been avoided, opinion here is divided concerning the conduct of the war, especially as regards a Balkan expedition. Lieutenant General Count Cadorna's will has triumphed in this respect. He said he would rather resign as chief of the general staff than allow a part of his forces to participate in a Balkan undertaking, and his view was finally adopted by the minister of war and the entire cabinet.

Existing relations between Italy and Germany are a subject of interest among Italian political observers, owing to the lack of declaration of war upon either side, and because both countries seemingly are avoiding anything which might embitter their intercourse.

Parleys Taking Place. Negotiations are actually taking place with a view to an exchange between the two countries of certain products which do not bear directly on the war.

In some well-informed quarters it is thought when Italy denounced the triple alliance and joined the entente allies, it made a declaration to the entente that its participation in the war was limited to fighting Austria-Hungary, with the object of conquering the Italian provinces still subject to Austrian rule, at the same time stating that it did not wish to extend hostilities to Germany. This situation, it is pointed out, might enable the two countries to help each other in given circumstances.

Little Dinner Given Solons by New Haven "Cuts the Mustard"

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—"A little dinner" given by John M. Hall, former president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad to the railroad committee of the lower house of the Connecticut legislature, figures in the testimony introduced by the government today at the trial of the eleven former directors of the New Haven road, charged with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The dinner was given, according to a letter written by Hall, as the culmination of political activities in behalf of the New Haven which resulted in the failure of a Connecticut Trust company to obtain a charter to build a line paralleling the New Haven. It was the Montville line, running from Groton to Norwich, Conn.

"I went over to the capitol," Hall wrote, on July 9, 1897, to E. C. Robinson, a New Haven director, "and found the railroad committee had resurrected the Montville charter and got it into the senate. As I was alone, I had to fly around among the senators and get them to re-bury it. At the little dinner we gave the committee afterward at the Hartford club, they seemed well satisfied."

RIO LAGES AT HALIFAX WITH FIRE IN ITS HOLD

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 5.—The British steamer Rio Lages, reported on fire at sea, arrived here tonight. The fire in No. 3 hold was burning briskly.

The Rio Lages left New York on October 31 for Queenstown with a cargo of sugar. The fire was discovered yesterday morning and as it was found impossible to get it under control the steamer was headed for this port. It was anchored off quarantine tonight.

Culls from the Wire

A countryside educational campaign to cost $250,000 for the purpose of teaching the public to use milk as a means of decreasing the cost of living and for improvement of health was authorized by the National Dairy council at Chicago. Henry Baird Havill of Chicago was elected president for 1915. Registration and segregation of persons having tuberculosis were advocated as the surest way of combatting the spread of the disease, before the joint meeting of the North Atlantic tuberculosis conference and the New York tuberculosis conference at Albany, N. Y., by Dr. Victor G. Heiser, director of the Department of Health of the Philippine Islands. "Little Pietro" Viviano was acquitted of the murder of Salvatore Lupo, reputed leader in St. Louis of the so-called black hand society. Lupo several months ago killed "Big Pietro" Viviano a wealthy spaghetti manufacturer and cousin of "Little Pietro." While detectives were leading Lupo to the police station, "Little Pietro" shot and killed him. "Little Pietro" pleaded self-defense. The medical missionary conference ended its four-day convention at Battle Creek, Mich. Speakers were missionaries recently from Turkey. Dr. E. St. John Ward of Beirut said the reports of atrocities committed by the Turks had been exaggerated by the English press. All the other speakers, however, declared the published stories of Armenian massacres were not overdrawn. The case to determine whether the state has the right to enact and enforce a state-wide prohibition legislation was placed before the Colorado supreme court at Denver with the filing of a reply brief of Fred Farrar, attorney general. A decision is looked for in December and is expected to form a basis for the enforcement of state-wide prohibition in Colorado, which becomes effective January 1, 1916.

ECHOES OF THE ANTE-ROOM

Omaha Homestead of the Yeomen Initiates Large Class, Putting on the Third Degree.

GRAND OFFICERS ARE PRESENT

Last Wednesday evening Omaha homestead No. 140, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, initiated a class of forty-six members, the Fremont degree team doing the work. After the initiation State Manager W. J. Tuley put on the third degree, the first time it was ever assembled in Omaha. This is the first initiation in Omaha since the new district manager, W. A. Bostick, has taken charge of this territory.

The Fremont degree team was entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner by the women's drill team and degree staff of the Omaha lodge. After the initiation Brother Stalpo, grand master of ceremonies, from the supreme office, gave an instructive talk on the various experiences he has had as he has traveled throughout the United States and Canada wherever there are Yeomen lodges.

State Manager W. J. Tuley explained the value of the Yeomen policy, contending that the Yeomen rates would never be changed. He concluded by saying that he had already set on foot a movement to obtain for Omaha the next supreme convocation of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen, which will be held in 1917. Next Wednesday evening Omaha homestead will give the next dance of the winter series in its hall in Labor temple.

Woodmen of the World. The entertainment given by Schiller camp No. 304 last Thursday evening was a great success. Every detail of the program was enjoyed by its membership. This is the first of a series of entertainments arranged for the enjoyment of members during the winter.

South Omaha camp No. 211 has reorganized its drill team, with Roy Huest, captain. Officers are holding weekly rehearsals, and when real work presents itself they will be able to do it in a satisfactory manner. An entertaining program has been arranged for the entertainment of its members and will be presented at the meetings during the month. Babeski camp No. 75 will meet this afternoon at its hall, Twenty-ninth and Walnut streets, to transact regular monthly business. Candidates will be initiated.

Cedar Wood camp No. 13 will meet today at National hall for regular business.

Lithuanian camp No. 44 has promised a large class for initiation at its regular meeting November 14. Joe Uvick, clerk of this camp, has recovered from his injury and is now ready to push enthusiastically the interest of this camp.

The Woodmen of the World camp of Benson will conduct the cornerstones services of the city hall next Sunday afternoon, when Sovereign Commander Fraser will have charge. All the fraternal organizations and the women's organizations of Benson will participate in the parade from the old city hall to the location of the new hall on Main street.

Independent Order of Odd Fellows. Wassa lodge No. 153 celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of its institution last Sunday, October 21, in a fitting manner. A select program of speeches and musical numbers was given, followed by a supper, after which dancing was the order of the evening. Wassa lodge was instituted October 21, 1890, by Grand Master John Evans of Omaha, who made it possible for this lodge to organize and succeed. The lodge now has 225 members and during the twenty-five years of its existence has paid out more than $10,000 for sick benefits and still has a balance of several thousand dollars on the right side of the ledger. Only two of the charter members, Swan Larson and Gus Seihl, are now members of the lodge. With the experience and growth gained during the last twenty-five years the future looks to be exceedingly bright for Wassa lodge. State lodge No. 39 will have work in the initiatory degree next Monday evening.

GRAND WARDEN OF NEBRASKA ODD FELLOWS.

Belle Rebekah lodge of Benson will give an entertainment and supper for its members and their families next Friday evening at Odd Fellows' hall. Danneberg lodge No. 216 will put on the first degree work next Friday evening. Hesperian encampment No. 3 will have work in the Golden Rule and Royal Purple degrees a week from next Thursday.

DYNAMITE CHECKS FIRE AT CLIFTON MINE PLANT

CLIFTON, Ariz., Nov. 5.—Fire which destroyed the old copper concentrator building of the Arizona Copper company and also the ore bins of the same firm here was checked late tonight, and the acid plant and store of the company saved. The damage has not been estimated.

So far as could be learned, the fire started on the roof of the concentrator from an unknown origin. The liberal use of dynamite on the concentrator building and ore bins by the fire fighters assisted in checking the fire.
